School Notes.

The library books for the schools of the county have been received at the superintendent's office, and as soon as the duplicate of the order is received and the books checked off, the books will be ready for distribution. The checking up will be done early next week.

The writer visited the school in District No. 17, last Thursday. Miss Wilma Burroughs is the teacher. The school house and outbuildings are well built and neat in appearance. A good fence surrounds the school yard. The school furniture is good. Good shades are provided for the windows. The blackboard is of good quality, but there should be more of it. The school is provided with the International Dictionary, the People's Encylopedia, and several library books. A large flag forms part of the interior decoration. The enrollment is twenty. Eight grades are represented, which makes heavy work for the teacher. However, the teacher seems to be equal to the task, and the work is being well done. The pupils are diligent and seem to know how to help themselves. The people of this district are justly proud of their school.

On Friday the writer visited the school in District No. 38, Miss Flossie Whiteis, teacher. The enrollment of this school is 16. The pupils are enthusiastic in their work and are making excellent progress. This is Miss Whiteis' first term, but she works like a teacher of experience. The school house has been built many years, and shows the effects of age, but the interior has been made quite cheerful in appearance. Some new shades have been provided for the windows; the teacher and pupils have made some neat sash curtains which add much to the attractiveness of the windows; the walls are decorated with some excellent pictures and some small flags; and a large clock is on the wall in front of the pupils. The boys recently washed the walls and ceiling. The blackboard is not very good, and there should be more. There are a good dictionary, some charts, and a number of good library books. A mirror and wash basin are provided for the pupils. The teacher has a supply of witch hazel and some bandages for use in case of accidents. Everything points to a successful year's work in this district.

On Tuesday, the writer visited the school in District 31, Miss Emma Wilson, teacher. The enrollment is 17. Six grades are represented. The pupils seem to be making the very best use of their time. The school house has been recently overhauled, in fact, almost rebuilt. It is now one of the best country school houses in the county. It has been painted attractively, inside and outside. A flag-pole has been erected on the front of the building, from which "Old Glory" will soon wave every school day. New windows have been put in, and a new door added. A new blackboard has been placed on the wall. The only fault to be found with the blackboard is that there is not enough of it. A substantial bookcase has been built in one corner of the room for the library books. The school is supplied with a number of library books, a dictionary, an encyclopedia, a globe, a fine set of wall maps in a case, and some anatomical charts. The windows are furnished with good shades. Wash basin and towels are provided. Tiller is a splendid school sentiment in this district, and there is every reason to expect a succeseful term of school under Miss Wilsons management.

LIGHT REGISTRATION OF VOTERS

Indications Point to a Light Vote Next Tuesday

All told there are now only 1289 names on the registration books.

Revival at the Christian Church.

Subject tonight (Thursday) "Can I Be a Christian Outside the Church?" Friday: "Putting Christ Upon His Throne." Sunday, 11 a. m.: "The Christian Soldier." 7:30 p. m.: "The Unpardonable Sin, or the Sin Against the Holy Spirit."

Great interest has been shown in the meetings this week. There have been a number of conversions. Meetings will continue all of next week but will probably close Sunday, Nov. 8th.

The citizens of Scio are rapidly securing the reputation of people who do things, says the News. They own their own light plant and waterworks, and two weeks ago the proposition was made to erect a condensery in Scio. The question was canvassed for a few days, when a dozen business men decided to build a condensery and the capital stock was sudscribed. The news predicts that the condensing plant will prove insufficient to take care of the milk offered, and that within two years the plant will have to be greatly enlarged.

Central Point people are eating strawberries quite regularly these October days, the gardens of A. C. Chittendon supplying a good output for the local market, says the Herald.

What the Kidneys Do.

Their unceasing work keeps us strong and healthy.

All the blood in the body passes through the kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys filter the blood. They work night and day. When healthy they remove about 500 grains of impure matter daily, when unhealthy some part of this impure matter is left in the blood. The kidneys in many diseases and symptoms—pain in the back, headache, nervousness, hot, dry skin, rheumatism, gout, gravel, disorders of the eyesight and hearing, etc.

Mrs Geo. Shipley living in the northern part of Heppner, Ore. says: "My kidneys gave me a great deal of annoyance for years. My back would ache and when I stooped or lifted anything, or brought any strain on the muscles of the back, the pains would become more pronounced. At times I could not rest well on account of the pains through my kidneys and there were so many other symptoms which denoted a disordered condition of these organs that I decided to try Doan's Kidney Pills, procuring a box at the Slocum Drug Co's. I used the contents when I noticed a great improvement in my condition, continued taking them and received all the troubles. Doan's Kidney Pills have proven of great value to me and I cheerfully recommend them."
