HEAVIEST FOR YEARS

SNOW SIX INCHES AND STILL FALLING

Great Protection to Crops—Plenty of Feed For Stock.

The biggest snow storm for years is now raging.

Monday evening the balmy atmosphere influenced by a chinook commenced to turn colder and by 10 o'clock in the evening, a heavy gale swept over the country with icy coldness.

Snow began to fall and has continued most of the time since the storm started.

Tuesday morning the mercury was lingering around zero and the inconvenience of frozen water pipes was experienced in almost every household.

The heavy snow fall is looked upon as a boon to the country by everybody. Being extremely heavy in the mountains and over the county, much needed moisture will be conserved.

While there was plenty of moisture for present needs, the ground was dryer than usual owing to the dry season.

All of the wheat district in Morrow county is covered with a deep coat, which will be a great protection against frost.

Stockmen are not in the least uneasy. While the price of hay will go a little higher, stockmen generally all well supplied.

The feeding season is here and the snow is what is wanted when sheep are being fed.

We have been longing for snow and now there is plenty of it.

The growth of Wallowa and its surrounding country has been marvelous within the past two years, says the Sun. The city doubled in wealth and population in 18 months before the advent of the railroad and although the road reached this point late in the fall the growth since that time has been all that could be expected.

During this year the Salem Statesman will become 51 years old and it will have been under the same management 25 years. It now owns, besides the Daily and Twice-a-week Oregon Statesman, the Pacific Homestead, Northwest Poultry Journal, Oregon Teachers' Monthly, and a job office.

Joke on Husband.

Notwithstanding the fact that a casket and shroud were purchased for Mrs. Matthew Thoburn, of Wapanita, and that all preparations were made for a wake over her body, the woman is now enjoying the best of health.

Mrs. Thoburn was seriously ill at her home in Wapanita shortly before Christmas. She was not expected to survive, and the day before Christmas her death was considered only a matter of hours. Her husband was compelled to make a trip to The Dalles, by team that day. The roads were in miserable condition. Expecting that his wife would not live long and not wishing to make another trip over the bad roads, Mr. Thoburn decided to purchase the casket and get the material for a shroud for her body. He carried out this plan and also purchased a number of candles in preparation for the wake.

It is humorously suggested that Mrs. Thoburn rallied and gradually improved to have a good joke on her husband. At any rate, Mrs. Thoburn is a well woman now and was able to visit relatives in this city on New Year's day. She says she expects to remain in the land of the living for several more years in spite of the fact that a casket which was intended for her dead body is now stored in the barn in Wapanita.

What the Kidneys Do.

Their unceasing work keeps us strong and healthy.

All the blood in the body passes through the kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys filter the blood. They work night and day. When healthy they remove about 500 grains of impure matter daily, when unhealthy some part of this impure matter is left in the blood. This brings on many diseases and symptoms—pain in the back, headache, nervousness, hot, dry skin, rheumatism, gout, gravel, disorders of the eyesight and hearing, etc.

Mrs. Geo. Shipley living in the northern part of Heppner, Ore., says: "My kidneys gave me a great deal of annoyance for years. My back ached acutely and when I stooped or lifted anything, or brought any strain on the muscles of the back, the pains would become more pronounced. At times I could not rest, well on account of the pains through my kidneys and there were so many other symptoms which denoted a disordered condition of these organs that I decided to try Doan's Kidney Pills, procuring a box at the Slocum Drug Co. I used the contents when I noticed a great improvement in my condition, continued taking them and they relieved all the troubles. Doan's Kidney Pills have proven of great value to me and I cheerfully recommend them."

Charles Meserve says in the Medford Tribune that sales returns have proven year after year, since fruit began to be shipped from here that Rogue River valley can grow more kinds of fruit that lead in making record prices in the world's best markets than any other district in the United States, and that the profits on some orchards and vineyards are so big as to sound like fairy tales to eastern fruit growers.

MILLER AND LUX SELL

Enormous Values in Livestock and Lands Involved.

It is rumored that a deal of the magnitude of $20,000,000 will be made between Henry Miller and the heirs of the late Chas. W. Lux, whereby the firm of Liggett & Myers, a firm of St. Louis capitalists, will take over 30,000 acres of oil lands and thousands of acres of agricultural lands in the San Joaquin valley, together with valuable water and power rights, all to be developed for colonization purpose, and the Cudahys at Omaha and five wealthy German-Americans of St. Louis and other eastern cities will take the 180,000 head of cattle, together with the slaughtering, cold storage and other plants, and the grazing lands in Oregon, Nevada and Idaho.

Miller and Lux will retain considerable property in California, though the bulk of the firms holdings will be disposed of in this gigantic deal. It is said negotiations will be brought to a termination in January.

Meanwhile the whole estate is tied up in the courts through litigation, in which is involved the claim of Jesse Sheldon, Lux Potter, principal beneficiary under the Lux trust.

Ex-Cashier Scriber of the La Grande Farmers & Traders bank destroyed a number of good as well as forged notes, which leads Receiver Neidner to say: "If any man attempts to take advantage of the muddled condition of the bank and profit by it, because the records have been improperly kept and in some instances destroyed, I consider him a worse culprit than the late cashier."

Sound apples hanging on the trees at Christmas time is something that our friends in the east cannot have, but we have them here in Monmouth, says the Herald.

Everybody goes to the Orpheum. The greatest show on top of earth for 10c.

Collided With Team.

Charley Ayers and George Grosheus while coasting on the school house hill, collided with a runaway team yesterday, while going across the county road near the school house.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Kenny were driving to town just as the boys struck the road. Young Ayers was badly bruised and received considerable injury. Young Grosheus escaped without being much hurt. After being struck the team ran away.
