

Why Does It Cure

Not because it is Sarsaparilla, but because it is a medicine of peculiar merit, composed of more than twenty different remedial agents effecting phenomenal cures of troubles of the blood, stomach, liver and bowels.

This Hood's Sarsaparilla cures scrofula, eczema, anemia, catarrh, nervousness, that tired feeling, dyspepsia, loss of appetite, and builds up the system. Get it today in the usual liquid form or in chocolate tablet form called Sarsatabs.

Elevator Taffy.

The elevator boy was "sweet" on the pretty stenographer.

"You seem in a good humor this evening, Billy?" she commented as she entered the car at the tenth floor.

"You bet," chuckled Billy, straightening up his tie, "I feel like I am on a hunting trip."

"Indeed! In what way?"
"Why, I am bringing down a 'bear.'"
And she blushed and said he was the nicest boy in town.

As a Germicide.

Coal Merchant—Ah, well, we mustn't complain of zero weather. It kills microbes, you know.

Customer (making out a check)—Yes; I notice that in your case it has killed the poverty microbe.

Only one "BROMO QUININE" that is LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE. Look for the signature of E. W. GROVE. Used the world over to cure a Cold in One Day. 25c.

Sneezing is the best brain clearer known. Many persons conclude an attack of faintness, or fainting, with a violent sneeze. Our ancestors took snuff from a belief in the efficacy of sneezing. But tobacco so taken is in part absorbed into the blood and hurts the system.

Mothers will find Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup the best remedy to use for their children during the teething period.

Thought He Understood.

"Now, young gentlemen," said the professor of moral philosophy in winding up his little talk to the class, "you understand, do you not, what I mean when I use the term 'ethical and intellectual aristocracy?'"

"Yes, sir," answered the young man with the bad eye; "it means being great and good, in your mind."

Doubtful Testimonial.

Fluider—How do you like your new preacher?

Daisy—First rate. He's so agreeable; never talks religion to you at all, you know.

The Dilemma.

John Rockefeller made, he says, sixty-five million plunks
On four thousand dollars borrowed; oh, he rolled it up in plunks,
I feel that I could do as well or 'most as well as he.

But no one seems to long to lend four thousand plunks to me.

The Wrong Charge.

"Officer," said the police magistrate, "what is the charge against this man?"

"Disorderly conduct, you honor. He approached two chorus ladies to whom he had never been introduced and invited them to have a Thanksgiving dinner at his expense."

"That wasn't disorderly conduct—it was reckless darning!"—Judge.

Breaks a Cold Promptly

The following formula is a never failing remedy for colds:

One ounce of Compound Syrup of Sarsaparilla, one ounce Toris Compound and one half pint of good whisky, mix and shake thoroughly each time and use in doses of a tablespoonful every four hours.

This if followed up will cure an acute cold in 24 hours. The ingredients can be gotten at any drug store.

A girl both tried and trusted;
She took all the dust in sight—
And then the dust girl dusted.

LITERARY LITTLE BITS

The manuscript of Charles Lamb's beautiful essay, "Dream Children," is for sale in London. It is written on two folio leaves, and is set within an appropriate binding by Riviere. The price of this treasure is $1,250; and in view of this piece of information it is interesting to remember that for two years of his work upon the "Elia" essays Lamb received only $850.

At the last session of the Indiana Legislature a law was passed requiring the Railroad Commission to call into conference annually the superintendents of all railroads operating in Indiana to review the accident record of the year and determine what could be done to improve the record. At the meeting held recently the general manager of the Pennsylvania Lines distributed 100 copies of "The Confessions of a Railroad Signal Man," by James O'Fagan, believing that this book would have more influence than any statement that he could make on the subject of discipline and obedience to rules.

In Dr. Nicoll's "Life of Ian MacLaren" the author tells us that that writer "had the book collector's reverence for books; he never marked a book in his life." Clement Shorter takes issue with Dr. Nicoll on this point and says that "the real book collector, as distinguished from the postage stamp collecting sort of personage, marks his books without end scribbles on the margins, as Coleridge did, makes his own index on the fly-leaves, and is quite reckless as to whether he is detracting from their value for some other person. The real book collector is fashioned like one who said long ago that 'he bought his books for himself and not for his executors.'"

None is one of the most interesting places described in Mrs. Ella Hazzard's forthcoming book on "Alaska: the Great Country." The city is, according to her account, at once so pagan and so civilized, so crude and so refined. It has a water system that supplies its households, with steam pipes laid parallel to the water pipes to thaw them in winter. It has not a yard of sewerage. It has a wireless telegraph station, a telephone service, an electric light plant and it is seeking municipal steam heating. There are three good newspapers, three banks, churches, hospitals, and a club of which the wives of the members form the most exclusive society of the North.

LET IT BANG.

Secret of a Society Woman for Retaining Youthful Beauty.

One of the young old women, who, despite a full 60 summers, still holds her own as one of the first figures in New York City society, was asked by a young miss, tired by her first few months in the social whirl, how she preserved her appearance of youth in face and figure, in spirit and even vivacity.

"I relax one hour in the 24," replied the woman tersely, and that explained it all. One hour every afternoon this woman gives herself to complete relaxation in a darkened room. She does not permit herself to think of any of the distractions of her social routine; she does not think of friend or enemy or of herself. Relaxation is not alone for the society woman, but the woman in all ranks.

"I believe I should lose my mind if I did not relax every day," this woman once said. Doubtless she talked without knowledge of the treatment of an English physician in the case of a society woman whose nerves were so tattered that there was grave danger of a mental collapse. The woman was made to lie on a couch, with her hand over the side holding a small paper weight. As soon as she so far forgot herself as to let the weight drop to the floor she was to go about her regular afternoon calling and receiving. The woman scoffed at the treatment when it was made known; she tried it, her nerves were cured, and then wondering she asked the physician for the secret.

"What you needed was absolute relaxation, if only for an instant each afternoon," he said, "and the final point in relaxing was reached when you forgot the weight in your hand and it aroused you by its bang on the floor."

There seems to be a lesson to every fagged woman in this little incident. Ask your family physician. He will tell you the way to grow old gracefully is to learn the rare art of relaxation.

Partners in Debt.

"My tooth is just killing me," she complained.

"Why don't you go to the dentist about it?" asked he.

"Because," said she, "I owe him money."

"You and I seem to be in hard luck," said he. "Now look at me. Every time I go out in my automobile it breaks down right in front of some store where I owe a lot of money."

Shop Talk.

Cigar Dealer—Yes, that is my wife over there—the one with the fine wrapper, American filler, and perfect shape.—Judge.

A genius is a man who has a hunch the ordinary man lacks.

CATARRH IN HEAD

MR. WM. A. PRESSER.

Mr. William A. Presser, 1722 Third Ave., Moline, Ill., writes:
"I have been suffering from catarrh in the head for the past two months and tried innumerable so-called remedies without avail. No one knows how I have suffered, not only from the disease itself, but from mortification when in company of friends or strangers."
"I have used two bottles of your medicine for a short time only, and it effected a complete medical cure, and what is better yet, the disease has not returned."
"I can most emphatically recommend Peruna to all sufferers from this disease."

Read This Experience.

Mr. A. Thompson, Box 65, R. R. 1, Martel, Ohio, writes: "When I began your treatment my eyes were inflamed, nose was stopped up half of the time, and was sore and scabby. I could not rest at night on account of continual hawking and spitting."

"I had tried several remedies and was about to give up, but thought I would try Peruna."

"After I had taken about one-third of a bottle I noticed a difference. I am now completely cured, after suffering with catarrh for eighteen years."

"I think if those who are afflicted with catarrh would try Peruna they would never regret it."

Peruna is manufactured by the Peruna Drug Mfg. Co., Columbus, Ohio. Ask your druggist for a free Peruna almanac for 1919.

Motive Power.

"Yes, indeed; I've had many a good time taking my motor boat out for an all day fishing trip."

"About how much fluid do you use in a day?"

"Aw, don't ask a man that! How do you suppose I know—O, you mean how much gasoline? About four gallons or so."

PILES CURED IN 6 TO 14 DAYS

PAZO OINTMENT is guaranteed to cure any case of Piles, Hemorrhoids, or Protruding Piles in 6 to 14 days or money refunded. 50c.

Sympathy.

The 300-pound visitor at the live stock show leaned over the edge of the pen in which lay the 600-pound hog, stretched out at full length on the floor and breathing stertorously.

"It's pretty tough on you and me, old chap, isn't it," wheezed the fat visitor, "to be prize beauties?"—Chicago Tribune.

Necessary Preliminary.

The young man with the engaging smile was offering his assistance in preparing the dainties that were to be sold at the church social.

"In making these popcorn balls," he asked, "what is the first thing to do?"

"Wash your hands," said the practical young woman who was overseeing the job.

Her Kink.

"I don't mind hiding a gray hair or two in my own hair," sighed the bachelor girl, who shows some few signs of the sere and yellow leaf, "but when I pay $3 for a nice bunch of lovely brown curls and have to pick them out of those, too, it isn't fair. Do you think it is?"

Why, Cert!

The customer had handed over a check in payment of his long overdue milk bill.

"Is it a certified check?" asked the collector.

"No, and it doesn't need to be; I'm perfectly good. That's an impudent question to ask."

"I guess you'd better get it certified," said the collector. "You insist on having certified milk."

No Scarcity.

"Is this the financial editor?"

"Yes, sir."

"Just to settle a bet, will you please tell me if there is such a thing as a $3 bill?"

"Certainly. I had a $3 bill in my possession this morning, and I stopped at the grocer's on my way downtown and paid it. You lose."

Noblesse Oblige.

The youthful George Washington had just declared that he couldn't tell a lie.

"How would it look," he said, "for a future President of the United States to be eligible for membership in an Ananias club?"

Thereupon he trimmed the cherry tree he had cut down, and proceeded to make a big stick out of it.—Chicago Tribune.

FUTURE RULER OF ITALY IS PROUD OF HIS MANY UNIFORMS

THE PRINCE OF PIEDMONT

This little boy will be king of Italy some day. The picture is a very recent one and shows the youngster in the uniform of a colonel of the guard. The prince, who is the only son of King Humbert and Queen Helena, is a robust, merry child, who delights in donning his various uniforms and "playing soldier" with his little friends. He was born Sept. 15, 1894 and rejoices in the name of Humbert Nicholas Thomas—the first after his paternal grandfather, the second after his maternal grandfather, the ruler of Montenegro, and Thomas after the Duke of Genoa, his father's cousin.

TALKS ON ADVERTISING

When the dimpled baby's hungry, what does the baby do?
It doesn't lie serenely and merely sweetly coo;
The hungry baby bellows with all its little might
Till someone gives it something to curb its appetite.
The infant with the bottle which stills its fretful cries
A lesson plainly teaches: It pays to advertise.

The lamb lost in the hillside when darkness closes round
Stands not in silence trembling and waiting to be found;
Its plaintive bleating echoes across the vales and meads
Until the shepherd hears it, and, hearing, kindly heeds,
And when its fears are ended, as on his breast it lies,
The lamb has made this patent: It pays to advertise.

The fair and gentle maiden who loves the bashful boy
Assumes when in his presence a manner that is coy;
She blushes and she trembles till he perceives at last,
And clings her closely to him and gladly holds her fast,
And as he bends to kiss her and as she serenely sighs,
This fact is demonstrated: It pays to advertise.

Self-Conscious Englishmen.
The ordinary Englishman hates to be suspected of anything but the matter of fact. The more deeply he feels the more intent he is on stirring it over with a joke or a bit of useful slang.—Truth.

Embarrassing.
Maud—What made you blush so when you were talking to Jack just now?
Belle—Why, how could I help it; I was telling him the naked truth.—Toledo Blade.

Carelessness is the great sin of Americans. Nearly all the trouble people have is the result of carelessness.
If you can make your scheme good, you are a very unusual man.
