While the sale of liquor has continued in Malheur county since the inauguration of prohibition, the towns suffer from the loss of the license money. Ontario, with expenditures cut to the lowest limit has not sufficient revenue to pay its way, and the council shortly will ask the people to vote for the issue of $10,000 worth of bonds to pay outstanding warrants and for other purposes. But there is no revenue in sight to meet the interest on the $25,000 bonds already issued and the situation financially is not very satisfactory. Vale's revenue is much less than that of Ontario and there is no money available for any of the much needed improvements. The city election in Vale takes place next month and an effort will be made by the more progressive element to bring about a change at the polls.—Portland Journal.

School Notes.

District No. 38 has invested in a globe and some new blackboard.

The box social at the Clark's Canyon school house netted something over $40, according to reports. The money is to be used in paying for the new maps and blackboard.

Several schools in the county are planning to have celebrations of the hundredth anniversary of the birth of Lincoln and the fiftieth anniversary of the admission of Oregon. Of course, Washington's birthday will not be overlooked.

The writer visited the Hardman school Thursday and Friday of last week. Prof. C. H. Poole, Mrs. Harriet Robison, and Miss Belle Miller are the teachers. Since the opening of the third room, the work is progressing much more satisfactorily. The school building is a neat, substantial, four room building. If the school continues to grow, it will be only a short time until the fourth room will be occupied. The rooms are well lighted; the furniture is good, the blackboards are of good quality. The teachers are earnest and enthusiastic in their work. They are determined to make the school one of the best in the county. They have the hearty co-operation of the school board.

Friday afternoon had been designated as "parents' day." Several parents, including two members of the school board, visited the school. If all the parents in Hardman knew how much the teachers and pupils appreciate these visits, they would see that their names appeared on the roll of visitors more frequently.

Friday evening, a local educational meeting was held at the church. The pupils of the school entertained the people present with songs and recitations. All acquitted themselves with credit. Miss Miller read a paper on "The Public School". The writer talked upon the topic, "Ideas and Ideals." The church was well filled showing that the people of Hardman are interested in anything that will help their school.
