

Knights Went to Condon.

W. W. Smead, Deputy Grand Chancellor for this district, held a district convention at Condon, Tuesday night.

Mr. Smead was accompanied by Dr. Winnard, Geo. Thomson and Garfield Crawford and this party was met at Arlington by Grand Chancellor Gus Moser and G. K. of R. S. L. R. Stinson. Geo. Perry came across the river from Yakima just prior to the departure of the train for Condon and was shanghaied by the bunch, but when leaving time came for the crowd to start from Condon, Perry's overcoat was being held by the hotel man for storage on George's frame for one night, so Perry had to camp another day.

The Heppner boys report a splendid time at the hands of the Condon Knights. They were met at the train by the Condon brass band and Condon and Lone Rock lodges and escorted to the Oregon hotel. From that time on they were wine and dined to their hearts content.

Court House Notes.
The lawn on the beautiful court house grounds is responding to the warm weather and is looking green.

Janitor Wm. Ayers is the happiest man in the court house. When Bill got married the court house bunch was so highly elated that resolutions commending the janitor were passed and a donation for a present was quickly raised.

Taxes are coming in at a lively rate. Out of $100,000 to be collected about $40,000 have already been paid in.

The county jail is now lonesome and deserted. This is the first time that the jail has been empty for a couple of years.

Ed. Berry assisted by J. B. Saubert, is engaged in re-varnishing the interior of the court house. When finished, the interior will be greatly improved in appearance.

LAMBING IS WELL ALONG

Lower Willow creek in Prosperous condition.

Down Willow creek the sheepmen are well along with their lambing and in some instances they are through. Grass is good and the saving of lambs has been comparatively easy. Stockmen and farmers say that conditions never have been more favorable in that section of the county, than this spring. The moisture that fell during the winter months has all gone into the ground and the cold windy days that are common each spring, have not been in evidence this season. Alfalfa growers are flooding their fields and at the present time have an exceedingly bright prospect for a bumper first crop of hay.

In this part of Morrow county, the farmers have cleaned, sprayed and pruned their orchards, and the ranches along the branch line from Heppner to Heppner Junction have a thrifty appearance.

Two ranches, and there are none better in the county of their sizes, at Jordan Siding, have recently fell into the hands of new blood and will soon be put into the best possible condition.

The Allen farm has been recently acquired by R. F. Hynd and Wm. Thomson. The place will be under the management of Mr. Thomson and it is here that Mr. Hynd promises an ideal diversified farm. The Jordan farm was this week bought by Dave McAtee and George Swaggart, of this city, at a consideration of $15,000.00. It is soon to be the scene of a busy crew of men getting it in proper shape to sow to alfalfa.

Why not build up your farms and make a home on them that is worth while. On the farm is where you spend the best part of your lives and there is the place to have some things of comfort and make life worth living. It gives the country an air of prosperity and the farmer an appearance of contentment. G. C.
