WHERE WORLD'S WORKS OF ART WILL BE HOUSED AT A.-Y.-P. EXPOSITION, SEATTLE.

In this building will be exhibited many priceless paintings. The display will represent the art galleries of the world, for many of these pictures will be the work of the old masters, including rare art exhibits from the Corcoran in Washington, the Art Museum in New York, the Chicago Art Institute and from a large number of private galleries of wealthy men in the United States and Europe, who have for years made the collection of famous old paintings their hobby. Paris and London have made large loans.

At the Alaska-Yukon Pacific Exposition the selection of pictures will be limited to the works of men who have been recognized in the great art competitions in all parts of the world. Many American artists will be represented in the display in the Fine Arts Palace at the Exposition and arrangements have already been made for the shipping of these valuable paintings from art institutes of this country to Seattle.

G. L. Berg, art director of the Exposition, has visited all of the leading galleries of the United States, collecting the pictures suitable for display at Seattle, and writes that the pictures already loaned will constitute one of the greatest art displays assembled for international exhibition.

The Fine Arts Building is a fireproof structure and was one of the first buildings completed on the Exposition Grounds. It cost more than $200,000 to erect the building.

Scalp Bounty Law.

Section 1. There shall be paid by the State of Oregon and the counties thereof as in this act and in the manner hereinafter provided for the killing and destruction of the following named animals, hereafter killed in the State of Oregon, the following bounties:

For each coyote or coyote pup, $1.50;
for each gray wolf or black wolf, $5.00;
for each gray wolf pup, black wolf pup, timber wolf or timber wolf pup, $2.50;
for each bob cat, wild cat or lynx, $2.00;
for each mountain lion, panther or cougar $10.00.

Sec. 2. Any person killing any of the aforesaid animals in order to obtain the bounty provided for in section 1 of this act, shall within six months of the date of the killing, present to the county clerk of the county in which said animal or animals have been killed, the entire skin of each of said animal or animals, which skin includes and must have attached thereto all four of the paws, or feet, the tail and the skin of the entire head, including both ears thereof, eye holes, and the skin to tip of nose; and shall at the same time make and file with the said county clerk an affidavit which shall be sworn to before said officer, and which said affidavit shall state: (1) the kind of animal or animals from which said skin or skins were taken and the number of skins so presented; (2) that the county in which said animal or animals were killed in (is) the county in which their skins are presented for payment of a bounty; (3) that said animal or animals from which said skins were taken were not bought or received, dead or alive, from any other county or state; (4) that said animals were killed on or after first day of February, 1909, and within six months from the date of making of said affidavit; (5) that said animal or animals were killed by the person presenting such skin or skins in such county and in the State of Oregon, and (6) that the same were not fostered or whelped in captivity prior to the killing thereof; and in addition thereto there shall be attached and made a part thereof, the affidavit of a resident taxpayer of said county, giving his postoffice address and stating that he is personally acquainted with the applicant; that he has read the affidavit of the applicant, presenting said skin or skins, and that he believes the same to be true in every particular.

The said county clerk may, if he deems it advisable, require of such applicant for bounty, such other corroborative testimony as to him seems proper concerning the truth set forth in such affidavit; provided, that when in doubt as to what kind of skin or skins presented, whether wolf or coyote, the warrant shall be issued for the lesser bounty.

Sec. 3. Upon the presentation of the skin or skins as aforesaid of each coyote or coyote pup and the making and filing of the above mentioned affidavits, the county clerk shall, to prevent fraud, minutely examine each skin presented, and should such examination disclose that the entire skin, with all its parts as is above set forth, including all four paws, has not been severed, unattached, punched, patched, or in any manner marked, he shall there, in the presence of the persons presenting such skin or skins, mark each skin by severing the skin from the head, including the scalp and ears, and then redeliver the skin or skins to the person presenting the same. The county clerk shall retain possession of said scalps so severed and issue to said person presenting the skin or skins and making the affidavit as aforesaid, taking his receipt therefor (which receipt shall show (1) the date of issue, (2) the number and kind of scalps so produced, (3) the amount paid, (4) the date each of said animals was killed, and be signed by the person to whom said bounty is paid) a warrant signed by him and attested by the seal of his office and drawn upon the general fund of the county treasury. Said warrant shall show the date of presentation of the scalps and affidavit, the name of the person presenting the same, the kind and number of scalps presented and the amount to which the party shall be entitled. Such warrant shall be paid in the same manner as other warrants drawn upon the general fund of the county treasury.

STANDARD OIL COMPANY (Incorporated)

The Making of Acrobats Begins at an Early Age.

It is nothing unusual for the larger circuses to carry thirty and forty children, ranging all the way from mere babies to boys and girls of fifteen and sixteen years of age. The majority are traveling with their parents, both the father and mother doing daily duty in the ring, and while often they are trained to follow in the steps of their elders they are seldom allowed to perform in public.

It is a common belief among circus men that the performer whose training is not started until after the age of six will seldom make a distinctive record. Following the afternoon show I often saw groups of boys, some of whom could not have been over four and five years old, practicing rudimentary somersaults and hand springs, while their parents looked on with a gratified smile. These were the families of the circus aristocracy, who treasure the records of their ancestors with the pride of a son in his father's sword and who see no more inspiring calling for their own children than that of the great white canvas.

Not that their education is neglected in other respects. Several of the families often hire an instructor—perhaps one of the performers who has the time and ability for such work—to coach their children in the standard studies. One circus has a traveling school for the youngsters. If they are to be acrobats, they are to be educated acrobats.—Bohemian Magazine.

A Sponge That Works.
"Here is a clever notion—a fog bell," said an old New England fisherman.

On a bleak, gray afternoon they stood at the seashore—the old man and his city cousin from Boston. A great bell hung from a scaffold, and under a metal cover hung a great sponge.

"This here machinery is wound up regular," the fisherman explained, "and this here sponge is kept under cover so as the rain can't get at it. In dry weather, naturally, the sponge is dry and light; in foggy, though, it gets heavy with fog satch'rations, just heavy enough for to press down the lever that starts the machinery a-going. Then, ding-dong, ding-dong, sounds the bell in the fog, savin' many a fisherman from wreck on this rock bound coast."—Exchange.
