

Catarrh Invites Consumption

It weakens the delicate lung tissues, deranges the digestive organs, and breaks down the general health. It often causes headache and dizziness, impairs the taste, smell and hearing, and affects the voice. Being a constitutional disease it requires a constitutional remedy.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Old Favorites

Baasy Tim.

(Remarks of Sergeant Timmon Joy to the White Man's Committee of Spunky Point, Illinois.)

I reckon I git your drift, gent—
You 'low the boy shan't stay;
This is a white man's country;
You're Democrats, you say;
And whereas, and seein', and wherefore,
The times bein' all out o' j'int,
The nigger has got to mosey
From the limits o' Spunky Pint.

Let's reason the thing a minute;
I'm an old-fashioned Democrat too,
Though I laid my politics out o' the way
For to keep till the war was through.
But I come back here, allowin'
To vote as I used to do,
Though it gravels me like the devil to train
Along o' sich fools as you.

Now dog my cats ef I can see,
In all the light of the day,
What you've got to do with the question
Ef Tim shall go or stay,
And furder than that I give notice,
Ef one of you tetches the boy,
He kin check his trunks to a warmer climate
That he'll find in Illanoy.

Why, blame your hearts, jest hear me.
You know that ugly day
When our left struck Vicksburg
Heights, how ripped
And torn and tattered we lay.
When the rest retreated I staid behind
Fur reasons sufficient to me—
With a rib caved in, and a leg on a strike,
I sprawled on that cursed glacee.

'Lord! how the hot sun went for us,
And briled and blistered and burned;
How the rebel bullets whizzed round us
When a cuss in his death-grip turned!
Till along toward dusk I seen a thing
I couldn't believe for a spell:
That nigger—that Tim—was a crawlin'
to me
Through that fireproof, gilt-edged hell!

The rebels seen him as quick as me,
And the bullets buzzed like bees;
But he jumped for me, and shouldered me,
Though a shot brought him once to his knees.
But he staggered up, 'nd packed me off.
With a dozen stumbles and falls,
Till safe in our lines he dropped us both.
His black hide riddled with balls.

So, my gentle gazelles, that's my an' answer.
And here stays Baasy Tim;
He trumped Death's ace for me that day,
And I'm not goin' back on him!
You may recollect till the cows come home,
But ef one of you tetches the boy,
He'll wrastle his hash to-night in hell
Or my name's not Timmon Joy!
—John Hay.

WAFFLES OUT OF HAND.

Head of Family Who Tried to Spare Feelings of His Guest.

Everybody has heard the story of the untutored guest who drank the contents of his finger bowl, and of the host who rose to the occasion by following suit, in order to relieve the embarrassment that would have followed if his guest had become aware of his error. A story of the same sort is related of a Louisville man whom everybody knows to be a gentleman, and who proved it on this occasion as on many others, says the Courier-Journal of that city.

He had invited a friend from the country to stay with him a few days, and on the morning following the beginning of the visit waffles were served. They were passed first to the guest, and he took one in his fingers and began to butter it so. The children of the family, who knew what a strict disciplinarian regarding table manners their father was, expected and awaited a reproof for the infractor of the rules. But they were mistaken.

The host, on the contrary, took his own waffle between his fingers, and after buttering it continued to eat it from his hand, as did his rural friend. The children, seeing that it was their opportunity, did the same, and ate the rest of the meal trying their hardest to suppress their giggles, since they knew that they were doing what they had often been told not to do, and were "getting away with it."

Of course, the countryman never realized that he had done anything out of the ordinary, while the local man took occasion soon after to tell his children that the example he himself had set them didn't count.

Testing Her.

"How would you feel, Clarisse, if you and I were falling down the stream of life together, far away from here?"
"How far, George?"
"Oh, far, far away."
"I'd be so terribly homesick for mother."
And from that night this young man ceased his visits.—Judge.

The Penalty.

"Look at Cook and Peary both standing there with their purses open! What are they doing?"
"Paying pole tax."—Judge.

It is no credit to anyone to work too hard.

Voice of the People.

"Colonel, what will be the overshadowing issues of the next campaign?"
"Well, I can't tell you about that, of course, until a few of us have got together and had our little conference."

SMITH WANTS YOUR PRODUCE

Portland, Or., Nov. 16, 1909.

We have our own 22 markets and we supply some others. As has always been our policy, we shall give the Portland public only fresh, absolutely choice native poultry. We refuse to use the Eastern cold storage poultry that is being brought in here in carload lots. We are loyal to the Oregon farmer. The prices ruling today are as follows:

Dressed Turkeys	20 to 22c	Live Chickens, hens and springs	14c
Dressed Geese	15 to 18c	Dressed hogs	9c
Dressed Ducks	20 to 22c	Dressed veal, up to 130 lbs.	10c
Dressed Chickens, hens and springs	15 to 16c	Large Veal Less.

All produce must be good, fat quality; poultry dry-picked. We want small turkeys in preference to large ones. The smaller the turkey the better. We do not charge commission on anything. We will remit with check drawn on the First National Bank of Portland. Address all shipments to the
