Engraving Farm Tools.

Saws, axes, hatchets, spades, hoes, plows—in fact, any farm tools—can be easily and indelibly engraved. Clean off a place where it is desired to make the engraving and coat it with melted beeswax and tallow. Scratch the name or number down through the wax with an awl or any sharp pointed instrument. Then pour a few drops of nitric acid, which can be obtained at any drug store, over the characters made. In a few minutes peel off the wax, and the lettering will be in the metal.—American Cultivator.

The Comb of a Fowl.

The comb is not only an ornamental appendage to a fowl, but is also an index to health. The color of the comb indicates the condition of the fowl. If the comb is pale, covered with spots or dark purplish in color it is quite certain that the fowl is out of condition. A well conditioned fowl shows a bright red comb. Fowls with very large combs are nearly always good layers and in vigorous health.—Denver Field and Farm.

Raise Your Own Heifers.

Since a dearth of good cows is the present result of buying in new cows instead of breeding them it is obvious that the dairyman has been slowly undermining the very foundation of his business.—W. W. Smith, Indiana Agricultural College.

Care of the Horse.

Never tolerate a man on the farm who yanks, kicks or whips a horse. In no case should the colt be allowed to follow when the mare is at work. Do not bang the bits against the horse's teeth. Be patient and he will open his mouth.

A Good Legume.

The cowpea is the best legume for the entire cotton belt and can be profitably grown much farther north. It is especially suitable for combined hay and seed production or for hay alone.

Something New In Kitchen Ware

The "1892" Pure Spun Aluminum Ware is rapidly coming into use for cooking purposes. It is taking the place of agate and enamel ware because while its first cost is a trifle more than ordinary ware, it is really much cheaper in the long run, as it is guaranteed for twenty-five years and will last practically a life time.

The genuine "1892" Ware, made only from pure SPUN (not cast) Aluminum, will not crack, scale, peel, break, scorch or burn.

It looks like silver but weighs only about one-quarter as much, is easily cleaned and handled, and will not rust, corrode or tarnish. Absolutely pure, non-poisonous and wholesome; saves money, time and doctor's bills.

Be sure you get the original and genuine ware stamped with the Maltese Cross. At your dealers.
