$6 a Day for Enumerators.

Representative Ellis conferred with the Director of the Census over the difficulty being experienced in securing enumerators to take the census in the sparsely settled communities in Oregon. The Director promised to give these enumerators the maximum pay of $6 per day and not regulate their compensation by the number of persons they count. This he believes will secure the necessary enumerators.

Horsethieves at Work.

Four valuable workhorses were stolen from Wm. Rhodes one day last week.

Rhodes, who resides in the foothills of the Blue mountains, being short of feed brought his horses down and turned them out in Dutton's pasture near Heppner. In a few days the animals were missing.

It is the supposition that the horses have been taken into the Deschutes country where there is a good demand for work horses to be used in railroad construction, however, not a trace has been heard from the animals.

Rhodes is a poor homesteader and his occupation was teaming, being left without anything to work with.

The horses are described as follows: Two horses and two mares, all gray in color, weight about 1200 pounds.

EARHART TRIAL IN PROGRESS

Case Will Take up Remainder of Week at Pendleton.

Charged with assault with attempt to kill, Charles Earhart of Ione, is on trial in the circuit court at Pendleton. Judge Butler of Condon is on the bench and the unusual spectacle is presented of a man from one county being tried in another before a judge from still a different county and judicial district says the East Oregonian.

The accused man is being defended by Sam E. VanVactor, of Heppner, and Judge James A. Fee of Pendleton.

In outlining his case to the jury, Van Vactor declared they would prove that the shot fired by Earhart and the one on which the indictment is based was fired accidentally as the result of his stumbling as he was walking along the sidewalk. He said further that they would prove that a conspiracy was formed by the armed mob for the purpose of murdering the accused man.

The state is endeavoring to show that Earhart went to the drinking resort in search of trouble or revenge, and that his attack which resulted in the riot was unprovoked, and that the accused man was the aggressor throughout.

It is expected that the trial will consume the greater part of the week.

Among the witnesses from Ione, are Harold Mason, Ray Akers, Bart Eason, W B Cochran, J A Waters.

First National Bank Elects Officers

At the regular annual stockholders meeting of the First National Bank of Heppner, held last Tuesday, the following officers were elected:

M S Corrigan, president; J B Natter, vice-president; T J Mahoney, cashier. Directors—M S Corrigan, J B Natter, A L Ayers, T J Mahoney.

Sheriff Shutt returned Monday evening from Pomona, Cal., in charge of W C Bingham, the alleged horsethief. Bingham is now in the county jail.

Nevada Sheep Suffering.

It is estimated that there are 1,250,000 sheep in Nevada, all subject to more or less suffering from the late storm and extreme cold and snow. A heavy loss has already been experienced by many of the sheepmen of Nevada, though to what extent it is as yet impossible to determine.

The Storm Broken.

The chinook winds of the past few days have been a great relief in contrast with the long cold spell. The hay supply is short and stockmen are turning out their stock.

Under $1,500 Bonds.

W C Bingham the alleged horsethief, was given a preliminary hearing this morning. He was placed under $1,500 bonds which he was unable to furnish.

Rev. and Mrs. Warren returned from Lexington last Saturday where they were assisting in revival services, and report great success, perhaps the greatest meeting ever held there resulting in 30 conversions and an old time religion time. Rev. and Mrs. Sewell have the work in hand, and are moving toward ultimate success.

WOOLERY LAND IS SOLD

20,000 Acres of Farm Lands to be Cut Into Smaller Tracts.

In the sale this week of the lands belonging to the Woolery estate, one of the biggest real estate deals ever recorded in Morrow county was consummated.

J. E. Cronin, the Ione banker negotiated the sale.

The land was purchased by W. E. Honey, C. D. Lord and associates, of Park River, N. D.

It is the intention of the purchasers to divide the land up into small tracts and sell to home seekers.

The Woolery tract consists of about 20,000 acres located in the vicinity of Ione.

Stockholders Meeting.

At the regular annual meeting of the stockholders of the Bank of Heppner, all of the old officers were re-elected as follows:

A Philadelphia newspaper has advised the farmers of Pennsylvania and the East to visit the orchards of the Northwest, to learn a lesson in fruit culture. It contends that they can raise just as fine a quality of apples on the Atlantic coast, if proper care is taken to prevent diseases and pests. Attention is also called to the attractive manner in which Washington and Oregon apples are sorted and packed, whereas the Eastern fruit is dumped into a barrel. It concludes that this is only one of the many lessons that the Eastern farmer can learn from his western brother.
