"I suppose," said the member of the investigating committee, "you are reaching now for the men higher up."
"No, sir," answered the detective, "I am digging for the men furthest in."
Our oil exports to China increased from 23,000,000 gallons in 1899 to 87,000,000 in 1909 and nearly 104,000,000 in 1908, having thus quadrupled in ten years.

Bad BLOOD

"Before I began using Cascarets I had a bad complexion, pimples on my face, and my food was not digested as it should have been. Now I am entirely well, and the pimples have all disappeared from my face. I can truthfully say that Cascarets are just as advertised; I have taken only two boxes of them."

Dust a Thousand Feet Thick.

China has its "bad lands," all dust and dreariness, and its irrigation wheels, and its "soul appalling" Gobi desert, along whose southern boundary lies the Great Wall. In some of these regions the famous yellow dust of China lies to a depth of 1,000 feet, and when the wind blows the whole landscape is obscured. Yet it is upon this dust that the fertility of northern China depends. The Chinese call it "ginger powder."—Harper's.

Swallowed His Model.

"Object" drawing has brought a new anxiety into the schools. In certain districts youngsters may be seen moving schoolward with hatchets, carvers, hammers, chisels, etc., as material for their drawing lessons. The other day, just as one of these lessons was about to begin, a small boy was found standing tearfully at the headmaster's desk. "I've swallowed my object," he explained, with an alarming gulp.
"What was it?" asked the master anxiously.
"A banana," replied the would-be artist, with a final gulp.—London Fun.

Population for Mile of Railroad.

According to Canadian railway statistics for the year 1907, the United States has a population of 381 for each mile of railway, and Canada 289. France has 1,500 for each mile of railway, and the United Kingdom 1,821. In India there are 10,119 people for each mile of railway. In the United States there are 13.61 square miles of territory for each mile of railway; in Canada 161.8 square miles; in the United Kingdom 3.29 square miles, and in France 8.46 square miles for each mile of railway.

A Pepper Duel.

A certain literary and diplomatic friend of ours once took part in a pepper duel at a foreign restaurant. He was provoked to the contention by the quantity of stimulating condiment that a stranger across the table indulged in. The stranger sprinkled an unconscionable quantity of red pepper upon his food and proceeded to devour it, to the wonder and admiration of onlookers. Thereupon, with studied nonchalance, the American swallowed an immense piece of chili pepper. Then the stranger added more red pepper, then the American another larger slice, covered with cayenne, and so on, till it seemed as if both would explode, while the other diners looked on aghast, the American finally winning out with a prodigious dose defying all emulation.—Century.

Suppressions of History.

Amphion had just built the city of Thebes by the magical twanging of his harp.
"How do you expect to make posterity believe it?" asked the spectators.
"I leave all that," he said, "to the city architect."
When it was too late he realized that he had made a fatal mistake by not having a phonograph and a motion picture machine on the ground.

Ichthyological Meanness.

"I presume," sneered the cottager to the returning fisherman, "that all the big fish got away."
"Yes," answered the angler, "but some of them had to resort to every technicality to do it."—Detroit Free Press.

Distinctly Bad Form.

"Bryonia," impetuously began the young man, "I have come to say something to you this evening, and I am going to say it! You shall not put me off any longer. It is no joke to trifle with the feelings of an earnest man who knows what he wants. Every time I try to be serious you change the subject. It isn't fair to me, Bryonia, and I am not going to stand it any more. You'll have to listen to me this time. I am determined—"
"Orlando," she interrupted, smothering a yawn, "you are doing too much thundering in your index."—Chicago Tribune.

"Yes, sir."
"What's the description?"
"Well, he's just an ordinary dog, you know, kind of brown color."
"That isn't definite enough."
"And his name is Prince."
"That won't help to find him."
"I should think it would. He's the only dog I know of with that name."
"But, madam, hasn't he some distinguishing peculiarity or mark about him?"
"—Yes, sir; he likes limburger cheese."—Chicago Tribune.
