Good Wheat Yields.

Walla Walla, Aug. 27.—The past week has been a quiet one in the local wheat market. The sensational charges of C. H. Whiteman against the buyers of the Northwest was the only item of more than ordinary interest, and it served only to arouse passing notice.

Whiteman alleged that grain buyers of the Northwest deliberately bear the wheat market with stories of big crops, when as a matter of fact, he says, crops this year in the Northwest are far below the average. He demands punishment for those dealers who are deliberately forcing the market below its real level.

Little attention was paid to Whiteman's charges for two reasons. First, it cannot be proved that the dealers are deliberately forcing down the market. And second, there are few who think this year's crop will be below normal. Prices are better than usual at this time of year, and it is generally considered that the crop is a shade above the average.

Wheat trading has been dull all week. Few sales of any size are recorded and there is little grain offered at current prices, based on 80 cents net for club. The main reason for this inactivity is the reaction from the big buying of last week, when nearly a million bushels were gobbled up by buyers unknown to the farmers, and without bulging the market a fraction of a cent. After seeing the great amount bought up in this manner, the farmers have become extremely cautious, and are holding their grain for higher bids.

Threshing in this valley is practically completed, or will be by the end of the month. Another week will see almost all the grain in this part of the country well under shelter, and a great share of it in the warehouses. Machines are daily coming in, having completed their run, and the end of harvest is well within sight.

Should the coming week pass without any change in atmospheric conditions an unique record of a harvest without a drop of rain, will have been established. The last rain fell June 15. Since that time there has been nothing more than a few clouds. As a result, harvest has been shorter than usual, and the farmers say grain is in better condition now than at a corresponding period in any year they can remember. The many machines and the short straw have also contributed towards shortening the harvest.

Yields still hold up well, and a record of 55 bushels to the acre, the grain testing 61 pounds to the bushel, was established this week. Altogether, yield and prices considered, this has been a most satisfactory year to the majority of the farmers.

Mill and Wheat Burned.

Milton, Or., Aug. 27.—The greatest fire ever known in this section broke out tonight at 7 o'clock burning to the ground the Peacock mill, two adjoining dwelling houses occupied by Alex. Manela and E. Troyer, two warehouses filled with wheat, belonging to the Farmers' Warehouse Company, containing nearly 100,000 bushels of wheat. The loss will be in the neighborhood of $150,000.

The fire is still burning, but all danger of its spreading is over. The mill is valued at $75,000 and the insurance, though not positively known, is probably $30,000.

The wheat in the warehouses is largely owned by farmers who had stored it for higher prices, and the amount of the insurance carried is unknown. Fortunately there was no wind, or the entire town of Free-water, which is but a short distance away, would have burned to the ground. The Walla Walla fire department was telegraphed for, but failed to arrive in time to assist.

An explosion, thought to have occurred on the top floor of the mill, as the result of a hot box in the machinery, caused the fire.

For a time the entire city was threatened, as no rain has fallen for more than two months and the volunteer department was utterly unable to cope with the blaze.

The Peacock mill was the largest in Northeastern Oregon and South-eastern Washington.

Increased Rates.

Chicago.—Increased railroad rates west of Chicago that will add many millions to the revenues of the railroads at the expense of the consuming public in western states but with favors to Chicago, this is the program said to be accepted by the controlling factors of the shippers' committee which is ostensibly fighting the rate increase. By agreement which will benefit rates to Chicago but add to the cost of goods distributed from Chicago the great demonstration against the railroad rate advance has been quietly hushed up, this is accepted now as the situation. Western jobbing and shipping interests seem likely to find their guns spiked when they are ready for battle. When the Chicago Association of Commerce took over the traffic club it was agreed that the control of railroad traffic affairs of the association should be retained by certain large importing and merchandising interests which had maintained the Traffic club before. Therefore when the shippers declared war on the rate advance and joined forces with the Chicago forces the control of the whole situation by railroad influences became possible. Presently the loud cries against trade advances were hushed and now the outcome is thought to be so well arranged that railroad securities have risen in New York and Chicago markets and cheerful optimism prevails in the councils of railway presidents. President E. P. Ripley was written letters urging that the name of John V. Farwell, jr., chairman of the traffic committee of the Association of Commerce be recommended to President Taft as a proper representative of shipping interests on the court of commerce.

Biggest Apple Orchard.

Albany, Or., Aug. 27.—Within six months Linn County will have the largest commercial apple orchard in the world. The Linnhaven Orchard Company of Albany has begun active work preparing the ground for the planting of its immense orchard near Lacomb, and has completed definite plans to have 1000 acres planted before the end of next March.

This will be the largest contiguous tract devoted to orchard purposes in the United States. Ultimately, it is planned, the Linnhaven orchard will include 2500 acres. The tract will not be operated as one orchard after the first five years, as the company expects to sell it in small parcels.

Wilbur K. Newell, of Gaston, Or., president of the State Board of Horticulture, will supervise the planting and developing. He has already gone over the entire tract, and has made preliminary plans for the preparation of the ground. A small crew has gone to work, and a large crew will be put to work within a few days. The survey and platting are nearing completion.

Practically all of the 2500 acres of this tract will be planted to apples. About 15 per cent will be utilized for pears. This immense tract lies in the north central part of Linn County. Its southern part is three miles from the new station of Griggs on the recently-constructed Lebanon-Crabtree cutoff on the Woodburn-Natron branch of the Southern Pacific, and it extends northward to the town of Lacomb. The townsite of Linnhaven will be platted on the orchard tract.

From Sickness to "Excellent Health."

So says Mrs. Chas. Lyon, Peoria, Ill. "I found in your Foley Kidney Pills a prompt and speedy cure for backache and kidney troubles which bothered me for many months. I am now enjoying excellent health which I owe to Foley Kidney Pills."

Mrs. Maria Potts, a sister of Leo Kirk, is ill in a hospital at Walla Walla with a disease that has been diagnosed by Dr. Suttner, the attending physician, as jelangra, the disease which has been prevalent in the southern states, with fatal results. Mrs. Potts was at the Hodgeson place, where she was attended for a time by Dr. Sharp of this city, who had never before encountered the strange disorder. This is the second case to make its appearance on the Pacific coast. The other was at Portland and proved fatal.—Athens Press.

Pictures Talk Now.

Orange, N. J., Aug.—With his kinetophone, Thomas A. Edison demonstrated tonight that he has achieved success in making a moving picture talk.

A limited number of scientific men and newspaper reporters were at the initial exhibition and while only a very short film with voice reproduction attachment was shown, all present realized that Edison has accomplished another great achievement.

After a realistic demonstration Edison announced that it would not be long before Teddy was over here making his great speeches into the new machine. Another advantage will be to have great operas reproduced by kinetophone. Edison planned the most appropriate film for the exhibition.

The scene on the screen was a reproduction of a stage in a theater. On this appeared a typical lecturer who explained that the kinetophone had been perfected only after it was found possible to operate a phonograph and kinetoscope simultaneously.

To illustrate the possibilities of the new invention the eloquent lecturer on the canvas dropped a wooden ball on the hard floor of the stage and this produced a loud noise. From the canvas there also came a sound of an auto horn in the hands of the lecturer and there was also a loud crash when he dropped a dish.

To keep your health sound; to avoid the ills of advancing years; to conserve your physical forces for a ripe and healthful old age, guard your kidneys by taking Foley's Kidney Remedy.
