BOOST CLUB HOLDS MEETING Plans Laid for Work That Will Count.

There was a meeting of the Morrow County Boost Club held at the council room in this city last Friday evening, presided over by C. E. Woodson, chairman. It was not as well attended as the interests of the organization would seem to demand. A good interest, however, was manifested by those in attendance.

In the absence of the secretary, S. E. Notson performed the functions of that important office.

The matter of advertising in the Oregonian was introduced by chairman Woodson, and a committee consisting of Clyde Brock, S. E. Notson, and E. M. Shutt was appointed to prepare copy for the same.

A committee consisting of W. S. Wharton, D. E. Gilman, E. C. Maddock, R. F. Hynd, and M. D. Clark was appointed to outline a plan and fix dates for visiting the various parts of the county and holding meetings to work up an interest among all the people and bring them into hearty accord with the purposes and labors of the association.

Now is the psychological moment. If we are ever going to do anything for a greater Morrow county our labors will count for more now than at any future time. Golden opportunities have already been lost by delay. A spirit of conservatism and indifference has too long prevailed. The pessimist has been altogether too much in evidence.

Our farmers must change their methods of tilling the soil by which they can produce as much on one acre as they now do on three, or five. A smaller acreage and more intensive farming will bring the desired result. Then again, a larger variety of products is essential. If they fail on one crop another will help to make it even.

Business men also need to get a little broader vision of the case. They must look beyond the town and their own particular line of business—must get into a fuller sympathy with the farmer and stockman, and make them understand that their interests are correlated and that a closer fellowship and better understanding will redound to their mutual advantage and the development of the financial, moral and social interests of all. Get together. Pull for the same things. Clean up the towns. Make them as attractive as possible. Build better roads, and in the meantime—

J. W. Greer, Greenwood, La., suffered with a severe case of lumbago. "The pains were so intense I was forced to hypodermic injections for relief. These attacks started with a pain in the small of my back which gradually became fairly paralyzing. My attention was attracted to Foley's Kidney Remedy and I am glad to say after using this wonderful medicine I am no longer bothered in any way by my old enemy lumbago."

City Council.

The city council met in regular session last Monday evening and allowed the usual bills against the city. The resignation of W. E. Walbridge was accepted and Allen McCraw was appointed marshal in his stead.

A lengthy discussion of the saloon license question was indulged in, but no definite conclusion was reached.

County Surveyor D. V. S. Reid is doing business in his line near Heppner Junction at present.

STATE DEVELOPMENT LEAGUE Brief Report of Its Meeting Held at Salem Last Week.

Sheriff E. M. Shutt returned Saturday evening from Salem, where he had gone to attend and represent Morrow county at the annual meeting of the State Development League, which convened three days of last week in that city. Mr. Shutt reports a very successful and enthusiastic gathering of Oregon boosters, and he believes that from the great interest manifested in the work by boosters from every county, the State of Oregon is just now entering upon an unparalleled era of development.

President Elliott, of the Northern Pacific, as well as representatives of the other great railroad interests, described the manner in which the railroads are spending millions of dollars every year in publicity work, and they all predicted that within the next few years Oregon will have quadrupled its present population. Other dignitaries from abroad, as well as numerous speakers from our own state, addressed the large gathering (which was held in the House of Representatives), and each delegate present received a renewed impetus to advance the interests of his own county in particular and the whole state in general.

After noting the work of the State Development League, Mr. Shutt, while not wishing to criticize, is strongly inclined to agree with Mr. Scott, of the Northern Pacific, who, in a recent interview, stated that Oregon's publicity work had been entirely too one-sided—that the people of the East had gained the idea that Oregon does not produce anything but apples. We all glory in Oregon apples, and in the fame they have brought to the state, but homeseekers must be informed that in addition to apples we are also equally entitled to distinction in the production of wheat, lumber, live stock, wool, alfalfa, fish, gold, etc.

Mr. Scott, who visited Chicago with a demonstration train, said that back there the people had gained the erroneous impression that unless a man had enough capital saved up to buy an apple orchard at from $100 to $2500 per acre he had no business coming to Oregon. Mr. Shutt thinks this impression is largely the result of the neglect on the part of Oregon's own boosters, and what we want to do is to appeal to the homeseeker of moderate means, and to convince him, as we easily can, that Oregon generally is the best place on earth for the willing worker to come and get a start in any of the numerous other industries, as well as in Oregon fruit, whether he had been fortunate enough to possess a young fortune or not.

It therefore behooves Morrow, as well as the other Eastern Oregon counties, to get busy with their booklets and other publicity material, and capture their share of the desirable homeseekers that are now coming West.

TAKE CARE!

Remember that when your kidneys are affected, you are in danger. M. Mayer, Rochester, N. Y., says: "My trouble started with a sharp shooting pain over my back which grew worse daily. I felt sluggish and tired. My kidney action was irregular and infrequent. I started using Foley's Kidney Pills. Each dose seemed to put new strength into me, and now I am completely cured and feel stronger than for years." Sold by all druggists.

Half of the enjoyment in life consists of sharing the good things with others. Tell your neighbors about the good qualities of the Gazette, and let them read the paper, then get their subscriptions and send them in.

LODGE OF SORROW Heppner Lodge No. 358 B. P. O. E. Holds Memorial.

Heppner Lodge No. 358, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, held its annual memorial service at the L. O. O. F. hall in this city on last Sunday afternoon which was well attended by the general public.

The exercises were all deeply impressive and exceptionally well rendered. There was not a pause or slip in the program from start to finish. The musical numbers, rendered by some of the best vocalists in the city, accompanied by Mrs. Metzler, left little to be desired in that line. The rendition of Thanatopsis by Miss Ethel S. Crowley, of the Heppner High school, was, to our mind, the best we have ever heard of that confessedly difficult production. With simple earnestness, a clear-toned voice, and thorough understanding of the poet's emotions, the deep meaning of the poem fell from the lips of Miss Crowley into the very hearts of the almost breathless audience. This too, without studied, mechanical gesture or stage posing.

The main feature of the service, however, was the memorial address by Sam E. Van Vactor, Esq. He was somewhat "out of voice," owing to recent illness. He spoke with some discomfort to himself, but the tribute he paid to the departed and the sober earnestness with which he spoke of man's relation to his fellows, of his final destiny and the "great beyond," bespoke the earnestness of his soul and that the great questions of "What is man?" "Whence came he?" and "Whither is he bound?" that have agitated the minds of the world's greatest thinkers in all ages and climes are worthy of our most serious reflection. We cannot give a synopsis of the address, as we took no notes. Suffice it to say that it showed throughout, serious, earnest thought, careful preparation, and notwithstanding the physical difficulty under which the speaker labored, at times he rose to flights of genuine oratory. His effort made a distinct, and we believe a lasting impression for good upon his hearers.

The entire service was of a high order, and it is not too much to say, a decided success.

Miscellaneous Shower.

About thirty-five friends of Miss Clara J. May met in the parlors of the M. E. church last Monday evening to express their high appreciation of her and wish her God-speed on her journey to the home of her parents in Chico, California. She was the recipient of a miscellaneous "shower" in which linen and china predominated. Light refreshments were served and music added to the festivities of the occasion. Mrs. Winnard sang "In The Chimney Corner" and Mrs. Turner sang "Oh, Promise Me" and "Love's Old Sweet Song." The affair was one of those impromptu social functions for which the people of Heppner are justly noted.

In passing we must not fail to mention that Miss May is held in high esteem by the pupils of the eighth grade and on Friday evening they visited Miss May at the home of Mrs. Williams and gave her a linen shower.

It is understood that Miss May will return in the near future, not however as Miss May, but as Mrs. W. G. Boyer.

Eddie Waddell.

The funeral of Master Eddie Waddell, 15-year-old son of Mrs. Ada J. Woodward, of Butter creek, was held from the M. E. church, South on last Sunday afternoon, Rev. E. P. Warren officiating. The boy died on Saturday morning, after an illness of several weeks of inflammatory rheumatism. He was just budding into young manhood, and his taking off is a sad affliction to the mother and her family, and the sympathies of the community go out to them.
