Intentional Blinding.

SHE HAD CONSTANT PAIN

Until Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Dewittville, N. Y.—"Before I started to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I suffered nearly all the time with headache, backache, and beating down pains, and had a continuous pain in my left side. It made me sick if I tried to walk much, and my back was so weak that I was obliged to wear corsets all the time. But now I do not have any of these troubles. I have a fine strong baby daughter now, which I did not have before taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. A. A. Gimes, Route 44, Dewittville, N. Y.

The above is only one of the thousands of grateful letters which are constantly being received by the Pinkham Medicine Company of Lynn, Mass., which prove beyond a doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, actually does cure these obstinate diseases of women, and that every such suffering woman owes it to herself to at least give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial before submitting to an operation, or giving up hope of recovery.

Mrs. Pinkham of Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health and her advice is free.

EXPERIMENT STATION NOTES.

There has recently come under the observation of the Washington Experiment Station at Pullman, a "borer," present chiefly in the timbered districts where it has attacked the young orchards. Describing this pest and prescribing treatment, Prof. A. L. Melander of the Washington experiment station says:

"This pest is produced by a blackish beetle about one-half an inch in length that flies during the latter part of the summer. An egg is placed on each tree, the borer hatching from it in time killing the young trees. These borers probably live several years in the trees and the larger ones, at least, will enter into the heart wood to pass the winter. If the trees are small, there is little hope of their recovery, and the trees may as well be reset. The pest is native to our pine timber, but seems to be also found in young orchards. The best treatment is in the way of prevention. Spray a thorough coating of sulphur lime containing an excess of lime on the lower trunks of the trees next June, repeating this, if necessary, so as to keep the trunks coated throughout the summer. The sulphur acts as a deterrent and seems to protect the trees from the egg laying habit of the beetle."

A pest of threatened prevalence in the wheat zone is the wire worm, numerous reports of its presence having been received at the Washington experiment station during the past summer. In a brief report upon this pest, Professor Melander says:

"Treatment for this pest is very difficult and never sure of results. The best treatment is gradually to work the pests out of the soil by repeated fall plowing. Each year that you fall plow you destroy some of the worms, but not all of them. When this is kept up year after year for a long period, the worms ought to become less and less in number. There is no practical treatment of the seed that has yet been discovered that will keep off the wire worms; nor can you poison them by any sort of trap. I would suggest that, as an experiment, seed be washed with a tobacco liquid. Steep up a pound of tobacco in a gallon or two of water and sprinkle that over the seed. I would not promise that this will be effective. But it may help some at least."

"Mice can be routed by placing traps in their runways or by stirring bits of poisoned fruit where they are apt to run. If you take raisins and insert in each a small crystal of strychnine, and place these poisoned raisins in the burrows of the mice, you will destroy a very great many of them. You must be careful, however, not to let children or chickens get at the poisoned raisins. Prunes or bits of carrots would also answer."

The grain weevil of warehouses can be checked by fumigation, says Prof. Melander:

"The only sure treatment is fumigation. To fumigate you must have your bins perfectly tight and then fumigate them either with carbon disulphide or potassium cyanide. If you have but a small bin I would suggest that you place your grain in it and then put a saucer or plate on top of the grain, pouring in some carbon disulphide, close up the bin over night, and this will destroy the pest. The fumes of the sulphide are heavy and will penetrate through the feed. After airing, the fumes pass away entirely, and your feed will be as good as ever. If your bins are empty, you can fumigate with potassium cyanide. Do this with one ounce of cyanide to every 113 cubic feet of space to be fumigated. To generate the gas you add one and one-half ounces of sulphuric acid with two and one-fourth ounces of water for every ounce of the cyanide. It is well to wrap the cyanide in loose paper and throw it into a tin can containing the dilute sulphuric acid. You must remember that the gas formed is deadly poison and must not at all be breathed. The next day you can air out the bins and after thorough airing you can use them for your flour. Bear in mind that carbon disulphide is as explosive as gasoline."

No Certiorari.
Once during the progress of a certain case Sir Charles Darling remonstrated with a barrister for the way in which he was arguing a point. "You will pardon me, my lord," said the latter, "but perhaps I may remind you that you argued a case in a similar way yourself when you were at the bar."

"Yes, I admit it," replied his lordship, with a quiet smile, "but that was the fault of the judge who allowed it."—London Tit-Bits.

Weak Heart

Many people suffer from weak hearts. They may experience shortness of breath on exertion, pain over the heart, or dizzy feelings, oppressed breathing after meals or their eyes become blurred, their heart is not sufficiently strong to pump blood to the extremities, and they have cold hands and feet, or poor appetite because of weakened blood supply to the stomach. A heart tonic and alterative should be taken which has no bad after-effect. Such is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which contains no dangerous narcotics nor alcohol.

The ingredients, as attested under oath, are Stone root (Collinsonia Canadensis), Bloodroot (Sanguinaria Canadensis), Golden Seal root (Hydrastis Canadensis), Queen's root (Sillipia Syriatica), Black Cherrybark (Prunus Virginiana), Mandrake root (Phedocyllum Pelitum), with triple refined glycerine, prepared in a scientific laboratory in a way that no druggist could imitate.
