CLASS PLAY A GREAT SUCCESS

Juniors Captivate Large Audience With Music and Farce.

The first annual play, given by the Junior class of the Heppner High school last Friday evening, was a brilliant success. No entertainment, local or from the outside, has given better satisfaction or more justly deserved the expressions of praise than this first attempt of the enterprising Juniors. It is doubtful if any of the large crowd present had anticipated anything out of the ordinary, but the hearty applause which followed every number proved the merit of the program and the appreciation the hearers had of the performers and their work. The Performance first opened with music by the H. H. S. orchestra. This brought out no cabbages or other symptoms of riotous pleasure, so the Juniors proceeded with their program.

No. 1 was a chorus, "Bingo," in which the whole class took part. It was a good opening piece, and was followed by a spirited, snappy class yell.

No. 2, a piano duet, "Hungarian Dreams," played by Marie Hager and Minnie Cameron. It was played very acceptably and deserved the hearty encore.

No. 3, a vocal solo "Sing Me a Song of the Deep," by Harold Conn. The song was sung in a creditable manner. The young man has a broad range for one of his age and handles the low tones exceptionally well.

No. 4, vocal duet, "Priscilla," by Misses Hager and Cameron. This number, as well as all the numbers in which these popular young ladies appeared, was heartily received.

No. 5, chorus, "Memories," by Junior boys. The stage was arranged as a parlor and the boys, assuming a somewhat reflective mood, sang "I Wonder Who's Kissing Her Now," and several other popular songs.

No. 6—Miss Hager sang "The Mission of a Rose" very sweetly and responded with "The Gingerbread Man."

No. 7 was a piano solo by Miss Cameron. This was a very pleasing number, and would have been more enjoyed had it not been for the incessant buzzing and talking by some people in the audience who seemed to think they were the only actors in the house. Not only other people were disturbed, but the player herself felt the discourtesy and found it difficult to do her part.

No. 8—chorus, "Song of the Open Sea," by Phelps, Rood, Cohn, Crawford. A good song and rendered with credit to the singers.

No. 9—"Yama Yama Man," by Misses Hager and Cameron. A catchy song sung in a catchy manner. They responded with "Mother Goose."

No. 10—vocal solo, "A Disappointment," Miss Cameron. A quaint little song, and rendered in a pleasing manner.

No. 11—chorus, "Jamie in Command." This was the closing number of the musical program and was applauded vigorously.

The farce, "A String of Pearls," closed the evening's entertainment. The play was bright and snappy, and the characters were well sustained. This part of the program was not behind the other in merit.

In working up this play much credit is due the young people for the faithful practice and the earnest spirit manifested in the work. But without a director and coach they would have been much at sea, and to Miss Fink is all credit due for piloting them to success.

The Juniors made a hit with their first annual play, and it is hoped that they will all be present at the graduating exercises in 1912 to receive their diplomas.

Sheriff Hayes departed yesterday morning for Salem with Frank Walton, whom he will deliver over to the charges of the officials of the state penitentiary.

Mrs. John McFerlin came up from Portland, Saturday evening, and is visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. O. Hill. She will return home on Saturday.

Fred J. Meindl, attorney, was in Heppner over Monday night attending to matters before the circuit court. He was formerly located at Moro but is now associated in the practice of law with Gus C. Moser, at Portland.

Adam Blahm appeared before Clerk Hill on Tuesday and made out the necessary papers for his final citizenship. His notice will have to be posted at least 90 days, after which time he appears before the circuit judge for final examination.

The Wattenburger shearing crew consisting of sixteen men, came in from Echo on Monday, having finished up their work at the Stanfield plant. They are now located at the Minor ranch and have begun shearing. Their run with this plant will last for several days.

Joseph H. Casady, who was convicted here of murder in the first degree and whose case was appealed to the supreme court and affirmed, will be brought back to Grant county and probably sentenced by Judge Borg at the May term of the circuit court.—Blus Mountain Eagle.

Frank Hatt was arraigned before Justice Williams, Tuesday afternoon, on a charge of selling liquor without a license. The result of the trial was that he was found guilty and was assessed a fine of $100. Hatt's own testimony convinced him, as he acknowledged giving away the drinks, and under the new liquor ordinance, selling or giving away liquor without a proper license constitutes a crime. Two witnesses appeared against Hatt.

CIRCUIT COURT.

The regular May term of the circuit court for Morrow county was convened at the court house in Heppner on Monday morning, Judge Gilbert W. Phelps, presiding.

At this time no cases were brought to trial before the jury, and after one day's work, an adjournment was taken to June 6th.

Preparatory to the work of the regular term, the grand jury drawn at the November term was called together and met on the 4th inst., remaining in session until Saturday evening. At this time they turned in their report and were discharged by Judge Phelps. The jury was composed of the following taxpayers: W. J. Blake, foreman, Eph Eskelson, F. E. Bell, J. F. Barlow, A. T. White, S. W. Wattenburger and J. L. Swift.

During the time the jury was in session at the regular term in November, they found and turned into court seven true bills and two not true bills; and at the adjourned session, five true bills and two not true bills. They examined the county hospital and surroundings and found the same conducted in a neat and systematic manner, and commend the general appearance and condition of the same. They made no examination of the books and records of the county officers, not deeming it necessary to go to the expense of hiring an expert, and without an expert feel they could not report as to the condition of the books and records, but that the same appear to be kept in a correct and efficient manner. The report also makes some lengthy recommendations on conducting county road work.

On Monday the following grand jury was drawn and sworn: Lefe Penland, Chas. R. Pointer, Alex. Cornett, Erik Bergstrom, O. B. Barlow, L. D. Hale and H. G. Hayes.

After organization of the grand jury the following proceedings were had: Frank B. Kistner vs R. W. Jones and Rosa E. Jones; continued for service.

J. H. McHaley vs J. P. Rhea and C. A. Rhea; dismissed.

W. H. Herren, et al vs B. F. Swaggart; motion to strike part of reply filed and argued; taken under advisement.

Ben Buschke vs J. P. Rhea; dismissed.

D. E. Gilman vs A. J. Wherry and W. L. Twitchell; motion to strike out further and separate answer filed and argued and taken under advisement; plaintiff given ten days to file written brief and serve same on defendant; defendant to have five days from then to serve written brief. W. M. Doughty vs Robert Capon and C. H. Calkins; default and judgment. Helvoren & Mason vs Per Johnson; default and judgment.

Helen V. Knappenberg vs N. P. Benson; default and judgment.

Paul Reitman, guardian vs F. H. Wilson; defendant given 30 days to file his answer.

Application of Isaac L. Howard to register title; decree as prayed for.

H. W. Bartholomew vs Frank E. Kistner, et al; dismissed.

Dexter-Horton National Bank vs H. E. Johnson and wife; default and decree.

J. H. McHaley vs Augustus Walker, et al; default and decree.

Ollie May Hale vs Frank Hale; decree for plaintiff; defendant to pay $15 each month for support of children.

In the matter of application of Cecil T. Humphreys to register title; Vawter Crawford appointed examiner of title.

H. E. Warren et al vs Hudson D. Dodge and wife; order for publication of summons.

Myrtle G. Howard vs Wayne Howard; decree for plaintiff with change of name to Myrtle Gladys Hams.

State vs Augustus Walker; dismissed.

State vs Frank Hale; pleads guilty; sentenced to serve one year in the county jail and paroled during good behavior, under condition that he shall violate no law; shall refrain from use of intoxicating liquor; shall remain in Morrow county and go to work.

State vs Frank Walton; pleads guilty to larceny from person; sentenced to three years in penitentiary.

State vs Martin Reid; pleads not guilty to casting sawdust into running stream.

State vs M. A. Mills; enters plea of not guilty.

State vs A. H. Rea; pleads not guilty to eight separate indictments.

The following cases were set down for jury trial on June 6, at which time court will again convene:

State vs Martin Reid.

Herren, et al vs Swaggart.

Ernest Piper vs First National Bank.

State vs Mills.

Gilman vs Wherry, et al.

Judge Phelps having been interested in some of these cases, another judge will sit to try them.

Dr. N. E. Winnard left Saturday morning for Portland to close up the deal on his Cason Canyon ranch. He will be absent several days and in the meantime his practice here is in charge of Dr. G. G. Gantt, of Hardman.
