BOYS' HOG CLUBS.

Attention of the boys of Morrow county is called to an article in another column relating to the organization in this county of Boys' Hog Clubs. Read it over, and if you are interested, send your name at once to the editor of the Gazette, and better still, if you can call at our office we can put you in touch with the proposition and help to get together the necessary material to put the organization of the Morrow County Boys' Hog Club on its feet and get our county in the lead in this important work. As stated in the article referred to, the boys of the county are beginning to take hold of different lines of the farming industry, and are showing their "dads" how to do things up in the proper shape. We have the boys in Morrow county to take hold of this proposition, and now is the time to begin so that we can get some show stuff ready for the District Fair.

When it is understood that a very large proportion of the pork for our rapidly growing packing houses on this Pacific northwest coast is shipped in here from Nebraska and other states of the Middle West, it is made apparent that the hog industry of the state is being largely neglected. Just a short time back the market reports at Portland showed the receipt at the stock yards there of nine carloads of hogs from the state of Nebraska. In commenting on this anomalous fact, the Portland Telegram of recent date says:

"Reports like this indicate conditions that are economically a loss to the people of Oregon. Presently, we should be in the market as the producers and sellers of livestock and dressed meats. We have the finest territory for supremacy in that sort of business that lies out of doors. We have the knowledge that stockraising is the ultimate perfection of scientific farming, for the reason that it brings splendid revenue without impoverishing the soil. We have the demand that is not supplied and never will be supplied, no matter to what extent the industry should grow. Also is there the practical assurance of men who know the meat industry from A to Z that the future importance of this region in that line is hardly within our present conception.

"Apparently the farmers of Oregon have not begun to take heed of all these things as they should. As indicated by this nine-car shipment from Nebraska, they are not swift in raising the dollars to be coined in the grunt of the hog. In the language of the street, the farmers of Oregon are overlooking a good thing."

So the Gazette has decided that it will be a good move to get our farmer boys, and girls, too, as they are not barred, interested in this proposition and have some Boys' Hog Clubs organized here. Let's do it, and put our county in the lead in this important matter, the good results of which cannot be estimated just at this time. It means much. Are you with us?

As indicating the amount of mail matter handled at the local office, Postmaster Smead has furnished us the figures compiled from the count made during the month of May by direction of the department. Of the incoming mail there was 17657 letters and postal cards; 11395 newspapers and magazines; 5840 circulars; 499 pieces of 4th class matter and 143 registers. Outgoing mail, 18783 letters and postal cards; 4401 newspapers and magazines; 1696 circulars; 369 pieces of 4th class matter, and 155 registers. This makes a grand total of 69724 pieces, or an average of 2335 pieces for each working day. The actual time consumed in the handling of this mail was 96 hours and 33 minutes, but this does not include general delivery work, correspondence and other work about the office. To the casual observer it would not be apparent that our office handled so many pieces of mail but this is an actual count made covering an average month and if you wish to take time you can figure out the number of pieces handled for the year.

A ROAD COMMITTEE.

To avoid duplication of good roads bills to go before the people through the initiative or by way of the legislature, as well as to avoid confusion in preparing such bills, Governor West has named a committee with one representative from each county, except Multnomah, which has a representation of five. There will also be included in this committee three members representing the State Grange, and the committee has been named the State Grange good roads committee.

From reports the Governor has received a bewildering array of road laws will be submitted to the people at next general election by various organizations, and many requests have come to him to name a committee which can handle all this legislation and harmonize it so that the people will have one distinct law to vote upon that will be as nearly as possible an expression of the wishes of every county in the state.

Sam E. VanVactor is named as Morrow county's representative on this committee.

From the experience the people of the state had at the last election in good road laws, this move on the part of Governor West is certainly to be commended, and out of this plan a law should be framed that will get at what the people want. They know that they want good roads; to get the right law to bring about this condition is a question.

Two sharp but heavy earthquake shocks were experienced in San Francisco on the afternoon of the 1st, and created considerable of a panic among the residents of that city. The disturbance was felt at many points up and down the California coast, and was very marked at Carson City, Nevada. No damage was done at any of the places sending in reports, and outside of San Francisco, the people were little excited over the tremor.

Reports come through the daily papers of extreme suffering and many deaths throughout the East and Middle West from the excessive heat. Here in Oregon it is some warm, but to be sure, but there is no suffering from the heat; we can all sleep good nights, providing our conscience does not hurt us, and health and reasonable prosperity is enjoyed by all classes of people. Oregon can certainly dish up the proper climate along with everything else that goes to make life worth living. Come to Oregon and be happy.

According to decision rendered by the Commissioner of the General Land Office, the decision of the local land office at La Grande has been reversed and the entries held for cancellation in the contest of the government against Morrow county timber claimants. This case involves some twenty six claims now owned by the Northwest Timber Company, and known here as the Ayers-McSwords claims, and the Commissioner holds that the charge of fraud is proven. An appeal from this decision will be made to the Secretary of the Interior, and this official may take another view of the case.

The Guest's Kick

A good story reached the Palace Hotel last week concerning a guest with a grouch. He carried it to the proprietor, "Look here," he said, "things around here are just about as rotten as they make them. When I went to lunch today I found hair in the ice cream, hair in the honey, and hair in the apple sauce. Now, what do y' think o' that? Is that a good hotel?" "Well," explained the genial proprietor, "I can explain the hair in the ice cream; that likely came from shaving the ice, and I suppose the hair in the honey came off the comb, but I don't understand about the hair in the apple sauce. I bought those apples myself and they were everyone Baldwins."
