Mrs. T. J. Mahoney and children returned from the mountain camp on Saturday.

C. E. Woodson and family returned home on Monday evening from Portland.

A nine pound daughter arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Zerang on Monday morning.

The new residence of Alex Cornett is being pushed rapidly to completion under direction of Carpenter Cox.

County Clerk Hill returned on Monday evening from a visit of two weeks to Portland and other Willamette Valley points.

Mrs. Frankie Luper returned on Friday evening from Portland where she had been to lay in her fall and winter millinery stock.

The Morrow Warehouse Milling Co. will have a car of choice seed rye on hand about the first week of September. Place your orders early.

Mrs. Nellie Bisset is visiting at the home of her mother, Mrs. Gordon. She arrived on Tuesday evening last from her home at Toppenish, Wash.

Mrs. E. L. Freeland and children departed Saturday morning for their home at White Salmon, Wash., after a visit of several weeks with relatives and friends in and about Heppner.

A bunch of Indians arrived from the mountains Thursday evening with about 40 gallons of huckleberries which they had no trouble in disposing of to our town people at the rate of $1.25 per gallon.

E. G. Noble returned on Monday evening from Monmouth where he was called by the sickness of his wife. Mrs. Noble is much improved in health and will remain to complete her visit with the home folks.

Alex Cornett left at Minor & Cos. store this week, a sample of some Elberta peaches grown on his place that would be hard to beat. They are certainly beauties and the four of them tip the scales at two pounds.

John Gates, of Spray, was doing business in Heppner Monday. He states that the range is very short in his section because of continued dry weather and as a consequence stock is suffering some for the want of water.

Dr. Metzler and wife returned from their mountain camp Sunday evening. It was rumored about the mountain camps that Doc had killed a deer, but the rumor could not be confirmed and he does not seem to be inclined to say anything about it.

Keep your millinery orders for Mrs. L. E. Cohn who will have something special for old and new customers about September 8th. Every order given her attention and satisfaction guaranteed. Victor Tailoring Co., of Chicago, sample line to select your suit from. Made to your measure.

S. W. Spencer was in receipt of a letter from W. W. Stabler on Monday evening, carrying the information that Mrs. Stable is slowly recovering from a severe attack of typhoid which brought her very near death's door. At the time of writing, Mr. Stabler stated that the attending physician was hopeful of her ultimate recovery.

Mrs. W. P. Hislop, of Portland has been a visitor in Heppner the past week. With her husband, a commercial traveler, Mrs. Hislop is interested in quite a body of land that they own in the north end of the county, and she entertains bright hopes for the future of Morrow county. Mrs. Hislop visited a few days this week at the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Thompson.

C. D. Robison was in from Lone-rock on Wednesday with a bunch of fat cattle for the Portland market. His daughters Eva and Nellie acted as bucaroos and drove the cattle to town. From the way they handled their horses it is evident the girls are at home in the saddle. —Condon Times.

Wm. Clark of Petrolia, California, passed through Portland the first of the week on his way to Heppner after the Short-horns he bought of W. O. Minor a few weeks ago. He will ship them from Portland down by steamer and expects to arrive home in time to exhibit his cattle at their county fair. Rural Spirit.

John Gaunt and wife were in town on Thursday from the Black Butte section. Joffa has just finished helping harvest two hundred tons of grain hay for Paul Webb and states that the yield was fine. He also ordered a copy of this paper sent to his brother, J. W. Gaunt, of Gaston, Oregon, for one year.

F. L. Kenton and family are taking leave of Heppner today, going to their old home in Albany. They have been residents of this city for the past twelve years, have made many friends here who wish them well. They will be at Albany for the present, but are not decided as to just where they will locate permanently.

Heppner's street cleaning department is doing a fine job of work in cutting down and hauling off the weeds and grass growing along the edge of the sidewalks and in the vacant lots, and it certainly adds much to the appearance of things. The fall clean-up should now be in full blast and our little city put in condition to present a spick and span appearance.

The family of A. M. Slocum are making arrangements preparatory to leaving for Portland to reside for the winter. They expect to leave sometime next week so to be settled by the time school begins down there. They do not at this time expect to make a permanent home in Portland as all their interests are centered in and around Heppner, but may later decide to do so.

D. S. Barlow and wife, of Eight Mile, were in Heppner on Monday. Dan has a small harvest this season and will not spoil any of the county roads in getting it to market. Mrs. Barlow is inclined to favor the chicken business as being the most profitable pursuit for the farmer, after all. She tells of a little blue hen of her's that came off the past week with a brood of 25 chicks, hatched from a setting of 25 eggs, and so far is raising every one of them. This is a good record for one little hen.

Mr. and Mrs. Stacy Roberts departed Friday morning for Sutter, California. They but recently returned from that section, and have decided to go back, but just how long they will remain they did not say; may possibly decide to locate there permanently, and may return to Heppner inside of a month. Hugh Roberts, son of Stacy, was operated on the first of this month, and was in the hospital for 15 days. He is reported to be getting along quite well, but Mr. and Mrs. Roberts decided to return to California to be near his bedside.

Leach Bros. not only take your poultry at Portland prices, less expenses, but pay the cash if you so wish.

Mrs. Ashinbust and Luther went to Butter creek after fruit last week, but were too early for prunes and too late for plums.

Walt Smith of Ione was looking over the Woolery land on Sand Hollow to ascertain the amount of tillable land, preparatory to bringing in settlers.

Frank Hale has disposed of his interest in the barber business in Heppner to Bob Clark and Clyde Wells, and departed yesterday for the Old Country. It has been nine years since Frank left home and he has been a resident of this section for the past six years, and made many friends here on account of his genial disposition. He goes from here to Chicago, then to Toronto, Canada, from which point he takes passage for London, his old home and where his mother now resides.

Farewell To Pastor.

A delightful farewell reception was tendered to Rev. W. L. Airheart and wife, Saturday evening, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Case. It was confined principally to the members of his church, there being but few invited from the outside, and these were the other preachers of the town and their wives. The evening was spent in social intercourse, the company being entertained on the lawn. Punch, ice cream and waters were served, and a very pleasant evening enjoyed by all present. The company joined in expressing farewells and good wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Airheart and wishing them abundant success in whatever new field of labor they might be called.

Adkins, and two beautiful art glass windows are placed back of pulpit and choir loft in honor of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Warren. We invite all the churches and the public to join in all of these services, especially on Sunday. Come everybody. Let us get acquainted with each other and learn of God and his ways.

E. P. WARREN.

Good Injun Now.

"Honest John," an Indian of the Umatilla tribe, who has been round about Heppner ever since the taking in of the Tipton gang of horse rustlers, was run in by the city marshal last Friday and taken before Recorder Williams on a charge of drunk and disorderly. The judge gave him 30 days and he is now serving time working for the city on the streets, a stunt that he does not seem to appreciate very much, as like other buck Indians, he is constitutionally opposed to manual labor. This same "Honest John" has a great liking for the civilization of his pale faced brothers, and seems to greatly enjoy the "civilizing" influence of the antidote of snake bite that is used in all up-to-the minute communities of the county, such as Heppner, and he seems to be able, regardless of the fact that he is a full-blood Indian, to get enough of it to make him crazy drunk. When arrested, Friday, he was relieved of a couple of flasks of the "fire water" that had been furnished him by some bootlegger. It is hoped that work on the streets will rid the town of this particular Indian, and if Uncle Sam could get hold of the other party or parties who give him the liquor and send him or them over the road for a few months, much good would have been accomplished.

Remember school books are strictly cash. No one favored. This means you.

Prisoners Captured.

Harry McDonald and Harry Creighton, the two prisoners who escaped from the Grant county jail some weeks ago, have both been captured and returned to jail at Canyon City. The former was landed by the police officers at The Dalles last week, and Creighton was taken in down in California about a week earlier. Creighton is considered to be a bad man, and McDonald is looked upon as his equal by the Grant county officials. They will not be allowed to make another get-away, if it is possible to prevent it, and will go over the road just as soon as the circuit court convenes and their cases can be put through.

On Honeymoon.

Harvey Paine and bride are visiting friends and relatives in Heppner this week, having arrived on Sunday evening from Prineville. Harvey has been a resident of the Prineville section for the past two years and running cattle on the shares for a party over there. He was married on last Wednesday to Miss Lawson, and the young couple are now on their honeymoon, expecting to go from here to Portland and other points down the line and return home about Oct. 1st.

Harvey was engaged in the delivery business in Heppner for some time before going to Prineville.

Big Toe Injured.

Vic Groshens has been suffering extreme pain for a few days past, the result of an injury to the big toe on his left foot. In hurrying out of the house to see what was disturbing his hen roost, one evening the past week, he struck his toe against a bucket filled with honey that was sitting on the floor near the door. He did not think that he struck the bucket with much force, but it was sufficient to cause his toe to badly swell and become exceedingly painful. As the member did not seem to get better after a few days of local treatment, he called in a physician and the doctor states that it will be many weeks before the injury is well.

Farewell Sermon.

Rev. Walter L. Airheart preached his farewell sermon to the congregation of the M. E. Church on Sunday evening, and with his family departed on Monday for Spokane Wash., where he will attend the Annual Conference of his church. Rev. Airheart has been the pastor of the Methodist church of Heppner for the past three years, and as such has accomplished a good work, having succeeded in adding improvements to the church building and otherwise greatly building up and strengthening the work. He has been an active worker along moral and religious lines and has proven to be a man of worth in the community. He does not expect to be returned to this field of labor, but just where he will locate of course depends upon the assignments made by the Conference.

Orin Briens was in the Office on Wednesday and says he has some fall grain that is making 15 bushels to the acre on his ranch in the Gooseberry country. —Condon Times.

Marshall Hill and wife, of Pasco, visited County clerk Hill Tuesday, leaving for home Wednesday morning. Mr. H. is engaged in the hardware and furniture business at Pasco.

Otis Patterson left for Portland last week. Mr. Patterson has a growth coming on his hip that shows some signs of cancer and while in Portland he will take some medical advice. —B. M. Eagle.

Pat Mortha left for Austin, Tex. on Tuesday where Mortha and Urubaha have 4500 sheep on leased timber land. It seems the days of free range are fast drawing to a close and expenses of running a band of sheep are getting so high that there is very little profit in the business at the present prices for sheep and wool. —Condon Times.
