CHILD WELFARE CONFERENCE. Important Gathering In Portland.

A Child Welfare Conference and exhibit is to be held in Portland, November 1, 2, 3 and 4, under the auspices of the Oregon Congress of Mothers. As in great exhibits of this kind throughout the Eastern States, the aim will be to show what has been done, what is being done, and what ought to be done for the welfare of childhood, all the leading educational institutions of the city will be represented and all phases of child-life will be touched upon.

More and more people are beginning to realize that the welfare of the child is the welfare of the nation and the salvation of the race. The state must provide for the needs of childhood, but it must first be brought home to all citizens what the needs of the child are.

Among the well-known people who are taking an active part in the exhibit are Dr. L. W. Hyde of Portland; Arthur Evan Wood, of Reed Institute; L. R. Alderman, Superintendent of Public Instruction; Dr. Bertha Stuart, of Oregon University; Mrs. Robert Tate, President Oregon Congress of Mothers; Mrs. Lora C. Tittle; Mrs. Lillie Trumbull, of the Child Labor Department; Wm. Thurston Brown of the Modern School; Dr. Philip Vauer of the State Training School.

The conference will combine all the societies and organizations which have for their purpose educational work and mental development. Moving pictures will be used to show the value of pictures in school work. The exhibition and conference will be free to all, and everyone interested in children is invited to attend. The Oregon Congress of Mothers has been unsparing in the effort to make the first Western exhibit splendidly successful. Every district in Oregon should have at least one representative in attendance at the conference.

All railroads have granted a rate of one and one-third for the round trip. Anyone attending should ask for their certificate at the time of purchasing their ticket and then have this signed by the chairman of transportation, F. M. Hawks. This is important if you secure the benefit of one-third fare on return trip.

Lincoln Bucks For Sale.

We have about 125 thoroughbred Lincoln bucks from the celebrated Hawley flock of the Willamette Valley for sale at a reasonable price; these bucks can be seen at Arlington, Oregon, and we will show them against anything in the state; they are extra good this year, in fact the best Lincolns we have ever had. For further information write or call upon A. K. Smythe, Arlington, Oregon, or Dan P. Smyth, Pendleton, Oregon.

SMYTHE BROTHERS,

Lakeview will add agriculture to its high school course as soon as its new building is finished. This is a new and important feature of the course of study and one progressive communities are adopting.

Castle Rock Items.

Mrs. L. M. Davis is spending a few days in Portland this week.

Mr. Yeau, our Japanese section foreman had a friend visiting him over Sunday from Condon.

The steamer Twin Cities went down the river Sunday morning and looked as if she was well loaded.

Mr. Carver of Seattle came in on the East bound local to look at land here, returning Monday. He was well pleased with the country.

Mr. Joe Miller of Whitcomb was over on Sunday. He has charge of the hotel at the above place and he reports business improving.

Mr. Davis and son were out riding for horses Sunday and brought back the horse they were after; but someone else had got the colt.

Mr. McKenna brought over a case of honey that is the finest we ever saw. He says that one swarm will fill a super of 24 boxes a week. This is very good work and is the very best that is produced.

Castle Rock was well represented in Arlington, Saturday, 14th. Mr. Clark and Mr. Davis driving in with a load of turkeys from the farmers and ranchers for C. C. Clark. Mr. Weston and his very particularly good friend driving over in the latter's buggy.

Mont Bundy is up and out again after a few days' illness.

Mr. Copenhaver went to Heppner Saturday on business.

There was some ice every morning last week. Everything is needing rain badly.

W. W. Kirk died Saturday morning, Oct. 12, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Frank Bell.

Ernest Smith, after staying a few weeks with his mother, Mrs. O. S. Hodson, left for Walla Walla the first of the week.

R. K. Wiles and family left South Springs last week for Pendleton. Mr. Copic gets the place back and his son has come down to run it.

We are very sorry to learn that J. C. White, who traded his land for Portland property about a year ago, has lost that through some fault in the deed. October 23rd.

The Morrow Warehouse Milling Company has on hand another car of seed rye.

The Karakul Sheep.

A new breed of foreign sheep that may be produced in large numbers in certain parts of the United States before many years, and should be especially adapted to this section. It is called the Karakul, and belongs to the highlands of Bokara in the central part of Asia. Their size is large and they are very hardy, carrying wool that is long, thick, and curly with a lustre equal to that of the finest mohair.

In referring to the karakul breed of wool producers an exchange says:

"The breed is so highly prized by the natives that exports are strictly forbidden. In spite of these difficulties, fifteen specimens were secured a few years ago by Dr. C. C. Young, who has a ranch in northwestern Texas, and were brought by him to this country and used for crossing on Lincoln, Shropshire and Merino ewes. An article by a writer in Animal Husbandry, quoted in the Literary Digest, gives this and more detailed information. The best results in wool have been obtained from crosses on the long-wooled breeds, particularly Lincolns, Cotswolds, and Wensleydales. The fleeces are said to show lustre almost equal to Angora, and far superior to the original full blood specimens. A skin of a three-fourths bred Karakul-Shropshire was priced at $10. Dr. Young, from experience, says that skins, the produce of half-bred Karakul-Lincoln bucks crossed on any of the long-wooled breeds, will sell readily at from $5 to $10.

"The Karakuls grow rapidly, will stand both draught and severe weather, and live on a small amount of food. They produce mutton that is particularly sweet and tender.

"Dr. Young writes in the New York Herald of September 15 that he has obtained a fresh concession to bring over fifty more Karakuls. He is starting shortly for his second trip across the deserts of central Asia and hopes to be accompanied by an expert from the department of agriculture."

A Good Position.

Can be had by ambitious young men and ladies in the field of "wireless" or railway telegraphy. Since the 8-hour law became effective, and since the wireless companies are establishing stations throughout the country there is a great shortage of telegraphers. Positions pay from $70 to $90 per month with good chance for advancement. The National Telegraph Institute of Portland, Oregon, operates under supervision of R. R. and wireless officials and places all graduates into positions. It will pay you to write for full details.

School Notes.

BY SUPT. NOTSON.
On the 17th inst., I visited the school in District No. 6. This school is under the direction of Miss Bertha Huston. The work was moving along nicely.

Eight Mile center was the next school in my line of march. Mr. Clarence Hesseltine is in charge here. The pupils were all diligent in their work.

In Joint-District No. 22, I found Mr. Asa D. Young and a small number of pupils getting nicely started in the work of the term. New shades are to be provided for the windows soon. The pupils were doing some nature study. They were observing a live bird which had taken up its abode in the schoolhouse.

In Joint-District No. 49, the pupils are doing excellent work under the supervision of Miss Myrtle Scrivner. The curtains for the windows have been washed and ironed recently, and the floor has been scrubbed. The pupils have individual drinking cups. I noted some excellent pictures on the walls.

Miss Grace Stamp teaches in District No. 36. This school has an organ, and the pupils sing a number of songs during the opening exercises. The primary pupils are doing good work in phonics. New window boards are to be provided soon. There will be some improvement in the blackboard also. Good, substantial water-closets have been erected recently.

The Fairview school is under the direction of Miss Julia Forbes. Some new furniture has been purchased recently. This school has two good flags, one of which was displayed on flag-pole at the front of the building. The pupils seemed to be working earnestly.

B. F. Pennington, of Grand Dalles, Wash., is here this week looking over the field for sheep. He wants wethers for fattening.

J. D. Laidlaw, a prominent banker of Waitsburg, was killed by the overturning of his automobile last Saturday afternoon, while on his way from Walla Walla to Waitsburg.

R. B. Rice, of Strawberry, was in town on Monday. Farmers out that way have their seeding all done; grain is coming up well and growing fine and grass was never better at this time of year.

A. M. Phelps is confined to his home this week, suffering from an abscess on one of his arms. The affliction is quite serious and his physician is having a hard fight to keep off bloodpoisoning.

R. J. Carsner was in from the Basin on business the first of the week. Bob sold 90 head of cattle to H. Neel last week and will also ship three carloads of beef cattle to the Portland market about the 10th of November.—Spray Courier.

The Freshmen class of the High School was entertained at the home of Vawter Crawford on Friday evening. The girls of the Class appeared in the "make up" of "old maids" and many of them looked the part. The evening was spent in a jolly good time.

Mr. Arthur Ames, of South Bend, Wash., visited at the home of his sister, Mrs. S. E. Van Vactor a few days the past week. He departed for Texas on Monday, accompanied by his mother, and they will spend the winter in the South with a view of locating.

The three children of Mrs. Ma Shoot, wife of the proprietor of the O. K. Restaurant, were enrolled as pupils in the Heppner school on Monday. They have attended school some in Portland and expect to be educated as American citizens and learn the English language.

Eph Eskelson, of Lexington, returned on Saturday from a visit of several weeks to different sections of the State of Washington. While he saw much good country on the trip, he confidentially informs his friends that he thinks more of Morrow county than ever. It is a good thing to take a little time off occasionally and visit the adjoining country and make comparisons. In most instances the advantage lies with the home county.

A big 2 in 1 event is announced by the boys of Heppner High School for Saturday afternoon and evening. There will be a big game of foot ball at the depot grounds beginning at 2:00 o'clock, the contestants being Ione High School eleven vs. Heppner High School. This promises to be a very interesting game and it will cost 35 cents to witness it. In honor of the visitors, a dance will be given at the Club building in the evening. Don't fail to turn out and help the local team win this initial game of the season.

Henry Padberg.

The death of Henry Padberg occurred at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Mary Halvorsen in Ione on Sunday night and the funeral was held at Lexington on Tuesday, conducted by Rev. E. P. Warren of Heppner. He was a respected pioneer of the county and the funeral was largely attended.

Mr. Padberg was born in Germany in the year 1832 and came to Oregon in 1850, settling in Linn county, where he was married to Miss Martha Riggs, and they moved to this country in 1872 and settled on Rhea creek. Mrs. Padberg died a number of years ago.

Henry Padberg was a successful farmer and business man and a kind neighbor. He leaves a family of six children all grown and married. These are Mrs. Halvorsen, E. L., and Wm. H., John H. and Louis J. Padberg and Mrs. Lydia Ray, all residents of Morrow county.

Boosters---Nit!

The High School football team is putting in some good hard licks this week in preparation for the gruelling contest with Ione High, Saturday afternoon. The work of getting a team into shape has not been an easy matter, but the boys have worked diligently and now feel that they can put up a good stiff game with Ione. A few of the wisecracks of the town, in showing their good sportsmanship have placed their meager sums on the Ione team, thereby showing their loyalty to the home team and placing themselves on record as loyal boosters. Of course, to the average Heppner citizen of several years' residence, this is only to be expected, as the same "loyal" spirit has ever been manifested toward the home team. And yet, these same "boosters," when found away from home, are always making the loudest noise about hailing from Heppner. Just where the consistency of their actions comes in is hard to see, but here's hoping they will lose their money next Saturday.

Sells Butcher Business.

P. T. Holcomb, who has conducted the City Meat Market for the past year and a half, has disposed of the business to Messrs. Kinsman, Hall and Lewis who have taken charge. These gentlemen are well known to the Heppner public, Messrs. Hall and Kinsman being in charge of this shop when Mr. Holcomb bought it.

Mr. Holcomb will leave for another field about the middle of November, and expresses his thanks to the people here for their liberal patronage. He is a good butcher and has made a success of the business.

The O. K. Restaurant has been nicely repaired since the fire and is prepared for the very best service. See ad elsewhere.
