VOL. 28. NO. 37.

HEPPNER, OREGON, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 7, 1911

SUBSCRIPTION, $1.00 PER YEAR.

Council Meeting.

The regular monthly meeting of the city council was held Monday evening with a full attendance present. Outside of the regular business there was the granting of three liquor licenses for the unexpired quarter. These were given to Doherty & Cunningham, who have bought out the Dennis McNamee place, McNally & Keegan, who succeed Riley & O'Donnell at the stone saloon, and Herb Fant, who is occupying the Borchers building as a new man in the business. This makes the number of saloons now paying licenses into the city treasury as six, and whether there shall be more remains to be seen, as the new city council will have this problem to wrestle with.

The election returns were canvassed by the council and the newly elected mayor, councilmen, recorder and treasurer given their certificates of election.

In the matter of miscellaneous claims against the city, the following bills were audited and allowed:

Morrow County, corrugated pipe and sewer pipe	$17 60

Lecture on Passion Play.

A lecture on the "Passion Play" will be given in the Baptist church of Heppner, Tuesday night, Dec. 12 at 7:30, and also in the Baptist church at Ione, Wednesday, Dec. 13, at 8 p. m. by Rev. A. N. Jacquemin. This lecture by Mr. Jacquemin is highly recommended by the clergy and the press; of exceptional literary value, and informing to a degree that brings one closely in touch with the history and execution of this remarkable play. Original photographs of the actors, their village and their church will be shown. No moving pictures are connected with this entertainment and the character of the lecture is such that Christian audiences throughout Eastern Washington and Northern Idaho have requested to hear it again. Unsolicited recommendations have been sent from Portland regarding Rev. Jacquemin's lecture and it is hoped that a large audience will greet him.

Ione Defeated—12 To 8.

Thanksgiving was an unlucky day for Morrow county football players, and Ione High school eleven came home from Condon with defeat No. 2 to her credit. The Ione team put up a good game in the first half, so the report goes, and was really entitled to win the game, as they outplayed their opponents, but could not stand off both players and referee. So their scalps now hang on the hog-tight fence surrounding the enclosure where the game was played, and that is about all there is to tell about it. We wish the Ione lads better luck next time, and are willing to bet our last year's hat that they can "do" Condon on their home field. Ione and Heppner should have another bout before the season is over. It will do both teams good.

City Election.

At Heppner's city election on Monday there was apparently but little interest manifested—at least it passed off very quietly and no excitement prevailed. There was a good vote cast, however, for two hundred citizens turned out to have their wishes recorded. Two contests, only, on the ticket, added any zest to the election. This was for mayor and recorder. Sam E. Van Vactor won out over O. E. Farnsworth for mayor, and J. P. Williams defeated W. A. Richardson for recorder, although it looked for some time while the votes were being counted that Walt had the best of the fight. The result of the election was as follows:

For mayor, O. E. Farnsworth, 71; Sam E. Van Vactor, 125; councilmen, W. B. Barratt, 165, Alexander Cornett, 172, Geo. J. Currin, 163; recorder, W. A. Richardson, 96, J. P. Williams, 104; treasurer, L. W. Briggs, 161.

Basket Social.

Being imbued with the idea that her school stood in need of a number of things which they did not have the funds to purchase, Miss Clara Reid, teacher of District No. 39, hit on the plan of giving a basket social, and this was carried out at the schoolhouse last Friday evening. Besides a very considerable number of the patrons of the school, there was a large crowd present from Heppner and the school room was filled to overflowing. A general good time was had, and the sale of baskets was interesting as well as highly profitable, the sum of $76.50 being netted. One party paid the sum of $7.00 for his basket, and there were several others that brought almost as much. The district now has sufficient funds to buy the equipment they want, and a good time was had while getting the money.

Annual Memorial Service.

The annual Lodge of Sorrow of Heppner Lodge No. 358, B. P. O. E., was held in I. O. O. F. hall on Sunday afternoon, a very large gathering of citizens of the town being present to witness the impressive ceremonies and hear the program. The service was short, not consuming more than 30 minutes, but withal it was not lacking in interest and impressiveness. Mr. A. E. Sanderson, an attorney of Portland and a member of the order, was the orator and his words were listened to with much interest. Other numbers on the program were by local talent and were all well received.

In these days, when economy should be the household watchword you should use a Crescent Range. They save time, labor, and fuel. Sold at Case's Furniture Store.

Resolutions of Condolence

Hall of Ruth Chapter No. 32, O. E. S.
We, your committee on condolences, duly appointed at a regular meeting of the Chapter held on Friday, the 24th day of November, 1911, report as follows:

HENRY JONES

Death has again invaded our ranks and taken therefrom an honored and highly esteemed member. A long and useful life's history is closed, another familiar face has gone from our gaze, the hearty greeting and the cordial handshake, the pleasant conversation and happy, cheerful countenance have gone out of our lives save as a cherished memory. We cannot but feel sad, although our brother had passed the allotted stage of three score years and ten. Long years of acquaintance-ship had endeared Bro. Henry Jones to many of us, and we feel a personal loss in his departure and sincerely mourn his death.

We further desire to express to Sister Jones and her family in this their hour of supreme affliction, our sympathy and condolence and reverently commend them to the tender love and Fatherly watchcare of Him who doeth all things well.

That this expression be made a matter of record by this Chapter, and that a copy thereof be forwarded to the family of our deceased brother and also given to the press for publication.

P. O. BORG.

J. V. CRAWFORD.

REBECCA PATTERSON

Committee.

More Football.

Heppner High and Ione High will contend for football honors again Saturday afternoon at the Ione grounds. Both teams are in much better trim than when they met a month ago and this promises to be a game full of ginger. It will be played for all there is in it as the championship of Morrow county is involved. There should be a good attendance from Heppner. The game will be called at 1:30, and will be over in plenty of time to take the train for home in the evening. A chance for a good holiday.

At the Churches.

All welcome.

JOHN MCALLISTER, Pastor.

The different churches of the town are preparing to entertain their Sunday schools on Christmas. At this season of the year it is always well to remember the children and appropriate services for them at the churches is a good thing.

Not Hog Cholera.

During the last few months heavy losses have been sustained among Morrow county hog raisers, on account of a contagious disease, which sometimes destroys an entire herd. The disease was thought by some to be Hog Cholera, but a careful investigation proves it to be the so-called "Walking Disease," which has killed so many fine horses in this county the past few months. Emmerson Keithley of Eight Mile has lost nearly all of his hogs, some eighty or ninety head. Specimens from these hogs were sent to Prof. Pernot, state bacteriologist, and a recognized authority. He has positive proof that it is the same disease that has killed the horses.

Ben Buschke has lost all of his hogs, sixty-one in number, from the same cause. This too was proven by post mortem findings.

The symptoms of the hogs differ somewhat from those of the horses, due, no doubt, to the difference in the nature of the beast. Mr. Buschke turned some calves in with the sick hogs and they died of the same disease but with symptoms like a horse with the "Walking Disease." Almost any animal is liable to take the disease. Dr. Calvin S. White, Sec. State Board of Health, asked me to especially warn the farmers and stockmen of the danger of contracting the disease themselves from contact with the animals. He says, "You will be fortunate indeed, if this disease is stamped out without the loss of human lives." Besides the heavy loss of hogs, fully two hundred head of fine work horses have died in this county during the past year, and the end is not yet—and will not be till the owners of stock become convinced that it is a contagious disease, and act accordingly.

This disease is much more serious than people generally realize and may become worse. It will never become eradicated as long as the farmers and stockmen insist on blaming it to worms, dry feed, tar weed, stopping up, soil poisons, etc. The State Board of Health is making every effort to clear up this matter, and will soon be able to make a full report on it. The work of riding the county of this disease is being hindered by those who insist on telling what they do not know about it. What is to be done? Simply treat the disease as you would smallpox or any other contagious disease. Separate the sick ones from the well ones. Disinfect the feed mangers, troughs, and anything else about the premises that might come in contact with the secretions from the eyes, nose or mouth of the affected animal.

Whitewash made from freshly water slacked lime is a good disinfectant. Dead animals must be buried. It is the state law and will be enforced. We most earnestly ask for the assistance of the citizens of Morrow county in our efforts to rid the county of this disease.

N. E. WINNARD,
Health Officer for Morrow Co.

Attention Woolgrowers!

You are hereby notified that there will be a meeting of the Heppner Woolgrowers' Association at the Council Chambers in Heppner, Saturday evening, December 16th, for the consideration of important business. You must be there.

Pendleton 49--Heppner 000

Heppner Hi went to Pendleton last Wednesday with colors flying and high hopes of taking a few scalps of the reservation bunch. They returned on Friday with all the conceit knocked out of them, and well satisfied that they had gone up against a real football team. The score was 49 to nothing in favor of Pendleton, and the way it was done to our boys was something smooth. Just the same, the Heppner team is not sorry they had the game, and have gained experience that is worth a lot to them, even if they did have to make a noise that was heard all over the state to get the game. It was worth the effort, and Pendleton may have Heppner to reckon with another season when they will not get off so easy. The Heppner lads were in the game every minute and fought like demons, for which Pendleton has not even given them credit, but were not able to check the only play Pendleton had—the forward pass.

The same day Pendleton played Heppner, The Dalles beat Hood River 117 to nothing, so something may be done to Pendleton by The Dalles when they play for the championship tomorrow.

Encampment Election.

At the regular meeting of Cayuse Encampment No. 40 of Heppner, on Monday evening the 4th inst., the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Chief Patriarch, Thos. E. Childsey; Senior Warden, Elmer E. Beaman; Junior Warden, D. C. Gurdane; High Priest, Louis Summerfield; Scribe, Roy Gray; Treasurer, Clyde Brock. Regular installation services will be held later.

Rev. Otho G. Reid of Ione, attended the sessions of the Sunday school convention at the Baptist church this week. He is the new Congregational minister and has charge of the work of his church at Ione and Lexington.

E. R. Giese, of Spray, is finishing off a bunch of hogs for the Portland market, which he brought over several days ago. He will soon have them ready for shipment.

Eastern Oregon Club.

The students of the Oregon Agricultural College from the eastern part of the state have formed themselves into an Eastern Oregon Club, and start with a membership of about 90. These young people have their homes and interests in Eastern Oregon, and they have banded themselves together in this club to further the interests of this section in every way that they can. The membership of the club represents every department of the college, and its president is E. B. Stanley of Lone Rock. This paper is at the service of this club and hopes that its plans for the aid of the Eastern Oregon section may be fully and completely realized.

Orve Rasmus entertained a few of his gentlemen friends at his home on Thanksgiving, serving them an elegant repast of turkey and all the other fixings. Orve has a tender feeling for a number of the fellows about town similarly situated as he is, so he thought to give the boys a treat. Some of his lady friends volunteered to help out with some cakes, pies and salads, and Orve prepared the balance of the feast. Percy Garrigues, Mit Leathers, Fred Elder, Allen McCraw, Walt Robinson and Mat T. Hughes were the guests present, and following dinner the afternoon was spent in a musicale which the boys presented with the assistance of mandolins, guitars and phonograph.

The Morrow County Sunday School Association met in convention at the Baptist church on Tuesday evening and concluded its labors last night. Rev. Chas. Phipps, secretary of the state Sunday School Association was present and delivered several addresses. He is an enthusiastic worker in this line, thoroughly posted, and his audiences were given a rare treat. Several schools from outside of Heppner were represented and the little convention has aroused considerable enthusiasm in the work. Lack of space prevents us giving a detailed report in this issue.

Jake Wells has disposed of his furniture business to his brother Clyde, and the stock is being removed to the Ayers building on Main street. The building thus vacated at the rear of the Palace hotel will be occupied again as a moving picture theatre to be run by a party from Portland.

Mrs. T. J. Mahoney entertained the following guests at a 5 o'clock dinner on last Wednesday afternoon: Misses Grace VanVactor, Janet Crawford, Ruby and Mary Corrigan. The dinner was served in courses and was an elegant Thanksgiving repast.
