A pair of gold bowed spectacles was picked up on the streets of Heppner a few days since and are at this office. The owner may have the same by calling here.

Rev. W. Pratt and family arrived from Deer Park, Wash., on Friday. They are domiciled at the M. E. parsonage and Mr. Pratt preached his initial sermons to good audiences at his church on Sunday.

Hon. H. V. Gates, president of Heppner Light & Water Co., was in Heppner several days this week attending to business. He was accompanied by his daughter, Miss Helen, and they returned to their home at Hillsboro on Tuesday morning.

County court was in session on Saturday, as per adjournment of the regular January term. This meeting was for the purpose of taking up delinquent tax matters with the district attorney, but as that official could not be present, nothing was done.

The protracted meeting at Liberty schoolhouse is going on this week with splendid interest and success and Rev. E. P. Warren announces 22 confessions to date. The meeting closes on Sunday evening and Mr. Warren will be on hand to take part in the union meetings to begin at Heppner.

Prof. Reno gave a highly satisfactory entertainment at the commercial club building on Saturday evening. The big hall was filled and for an hour and forty minutes the audience was surrounded by an air of mystery and magic. Reno is a master hand at deceiving the human eye, and while many of the tricks were old, he had many new ones, and old and new were handled in the same clever manner. He was prevented from performing many of his best acts because of lack of room on the stage.

The Union meetings of the Baptist and Congregational churches in Ione are continuing this week with great success. The Congregational church has been crowded and several conversions have been reported. The evangelist, Mr. Owen, is a man of pleasing address, an earnest worker and fine speaker. The meetings will close next Sunday night, after which Mr. Owen goes to Heppner to hold meetings there.

R. F. Wigglesworth, was in from Butter creek on Saturday to meet his son, V. Wigglesworth, who has been attending business college in Portland for the past few months. Butter creek section is doing well this winter and there is prospects for abundant hay harvest the coming season.

Miller Reeves started up the flouring mill on Tuesday and the hum of the machinery over that way will continue while water lasts, or for about 90 days. The amount of bluestem wheat was limited this year and it is the intention of the company to grind only this variety.

Dillard French was in from Butter creek, Tuesday. He is complaining of the prospects in his section; says he is afraid that conditions are going to be such that he will have to go to work. He expects big harvests of hay in his section the coming season.

George Irwin, a ranchman of the Monument section, came in on Saturday to meet his son, W. A. Irwin and wife, who were returning from the Malheur country. They departed on Sunday for Monument.

H. W. Storey and family departed for their Alberta home on Saturday. They were accompanied by the Misses Sybil and Ruth Hager who will make their home for a time in the Canadian country.

Editor Shutt made a business visit to Ione and vicinity on Tuesday. This paper is under obligation to him for courtesies extended in delivering some "goods" for us to Ione parties.

Capital Seed Barley—We have a limited quantity of good seed barley. Make arrangements for us to set aside what you need in the spring. Morrow Warehouse Milling Co.

Arthur Daly has been removed to the hospital where he can receive better attention. He is still quite sick and just what the outcome will be cannot as yet be determined.

Balmyspring weather continues. Morrow county will soon become famous as a winter resort if we are to have a continuation of such mild weather as we now enjoy.

Commercial CLUB BUILDING

Saturday Evening, Feb. 3rd, 8:15

OPIE READ is the most popular and the best loved member of the Chicago Press Club. Several years ago this organization of brilliant newspaper men and distinguished authors gave a banquet in honor of Mr. Read. To respond to the toast "Opie Read," the banquet committee selected the well-known poet, Wallace Bruce Amsbary, who had been intimately associated with Mr. Read upon the lyceum platform.

In responding to the toast, Mr. Amsbary offered the following original poem, written in the dialect of the French-Canadian:

Dis language Anlaise dat dey spe'k,
On state of Illinois,
Is hard for Frenchman heem to learn,
It give me much annoy.
Las' we'k ma frien', McGovern,
He come to me an' say,
You mak' a toas' on Opie Read
W'en dey geeve gran' banquet.

I mak' a toas' Not on your life,
Dat man's wan frien' of me,
W'at for I warn heem op lak' toas'?
De reason I can't see.
An' den John laugh out on hees eye
W'en he is to me say:
To mak' a toas' is not a roas'
It jus' de odder way.

Dat's how I learn dat foas' an' roas'
Is call by different name,
Dough bot' are warn in dere own way,
Dere far from mean de same.
An' so, ma frien', in lo' I clasp
Your gr'ad beeg brawny han',
An' share wit' you in fellowship
An' pay you on deman'.

You're built upon a ver' large plan,
Overe seex feet you rise;
You need it all to shelter in
Your heart dat's double size.
You are too broad for narrow t'ings,
Too gran' for any creed,
I'll eat de roas' but drink de toas'
To ma frien', Opie Read.
