Mrs. CHAS. JOHNSON, Prop.

recently. He had ordered some goods of Montgomery, Ward & Co. Upon the arrival of the box it was taken home, the lid taken off, and to their surprise all the contents of value had been extracted leaving nothing but scraps of paper, empty boxes, a catalogue and the invoice. Mr. Robertson is now trying to get the order refilled, or the money returned. In any event we presume he will be out the freight—one way.

FOR SALE—Brown Swiss Bull Helmske No. 678. For further particulars write or call on Andrew Bruggler, Melville Farm, Gresham, Ore.

D. C. Ross, one of the most progressive farmers, was in town last Saturday. Mr. Ross has demonstrated in one year that there is good money to be made on the farm provided the farmer works and uses ordinary business judgment in the running of the farm.

Clarence Cleveland paid this office a pleasant visit this week.

J. P. Hintermann was a pleasant visitor at The Herald office this week.

All communications, remittances, correspondence, change for advertisements and other matters intended for the columns of this paper should be addressed to Beaver State Herald, Gresham, Oregon. Otherwise valuable matter is sometimes held, and consequently delayed, awaiting the arrival of the editor.

FOR SALE—Cheap, one set of double chain harness nearly all new, and strong. M. Rickert, R. F. A. No. 2, Troutdale.

Mrs. Fritz Stoker is one of the many friends of The Herald who believes in making the editorial smile grow larger. She left another big dollar with us this week.

FOR SALE—Two thoroughbred Jersey, yearling bulls. Can be seen at my place, five miles east of Gresham, Ore. B. C. Altman.

THE WATKIN'S REMEDIES ARE NO EXPERIMENT. They have proven themselves to be all that is claimed for them. C. H. Lane, traveling salesman for the J. R. Watkin's Medical Company is now located at Gresham and respectfully solicits a share of your patronage.

FOR SALE—Seed oats and vetch. P. J. Quisenberry, Gresham, Ore. ...

M. Rickert, the popular agent for the Beaver State Herald, has been laid up for some time with a sore eye. While working in the orchard he had the misfortune to run a stick in his eye. It, however, would take more than an ordinary blow to knock Rickert out.

Rev. J. H. Exon, recently appointed to Cornelius, Oregon, was a guest Thursday night of Dr. and Mrs. Attwood.

COLLEGE AND SCHOOL.

President Butterfield will be inaugurated president of Amherst on Oct. 17.

The new building for the law school of the University of Texas at Austin is to cost about $90,000. It will be the largest of the university buildings.

The board of trustees of Stanford university has given President David Starr Jordan full power to appoint professors, but has taken from him the absolute power of dismissal.

In New York they are taking great interest in the experiments upon demented children in Pennsylvania. It is thought that boards of education all over the country will adopt the system of health inspection recommended.

TRAIN AND TRACK

Most of the Italian trains are afflicted with flat wheels.

We have yet two decades to wait before we can celebrate the centennial anniversary of the birth of the railroad.

The Great Western Railway company, England, has an ambulance corps which it drills in rescuing supposed victims of railroad accidents and giving first aid to the injured.

Announcement.

TO OUR PATRONS AND PUBLIC GENERALLY:

Having purchased the interests of F. W. Gorman, who on account of sickness has returned to his former home in Minneapolis, we take this opportunity to thank our many friends and patrons for the pleasant and prosperous business of our first year.

In the future we will endeavor to serve our customers both old and new with the greatest courtesy. We shall strive to supply their wants in the most cordial and profitable manner, keeping their interests foremost in our minds, as their interests are our interests and without an agreeable cooperation a business cannot exist.

As we have come to make this our future home, we wish to be counted among your many worthy citizens.

Therefore, thanking you again for your past favors, we remain,
Yours Very Respectfully,

F. B. STUART & CO.
