HULBURT.

Mrs. Maud Graham, our teacher in Dist. No. 35, not being able to get a house near the schoolhouse bought lumber and had a small house erected just across the road near the Hurlburt Hall. E. G. Rickert and M. D. Johnson did the work for her.

Miss Ollie Preston of Gage was the guest of Mrs. M. Rickert on Sunday and Monday.

On the evening of the 27th Ward Evans set a trap in his father's prune orchard and caught a large black bear. The neighbors were called in to see it, and after it was killed and dressed the meat was divided among the neighbors who pronounced it fine eating.

On September 22nd Roy Rickert of Hurlburt and Miss Almetta Tufford of Springdale were married at Oregon and spent a few days in Portland from where they went to Eagle Creek. We wish them a long and happy life together. Mr. Rickert is 29 years of age, and his bride 18. Keep your eyes on Egypt next.

A number of young folk of this vicinity attended the dance at Bridal Veil, and report a very enjoyable time.

SECTION LINE.

The hunting season found many young sports eager for the fray. Were the ratio of killing kept up during the entire season on the scale of its first day the pheasant would soon be as extinct as the buffalo.

A number of deputy game wardens were seen in our neighborhood on Friday, Saturday and Sunday. One wonders when one hears so many shots in the brush if law makers are not also sometimes law breakers. We think so.

Lionel Buckley ran a gray squirrel into the schoolroom Monday. In an instant all laws were forgotten and Mr. Squirrel was chased around the schoolroom until caught.

Road grading is badly needed on the road lying between the Section Line and Powell Valley roads.

Mr. and Mrs. Ruhl and daughter, Grace, have moved to Piedmont to spend the winter, and where Miss Ruhl will attend school.

FAIRVIEW

Napoleon Davis and wife left for Newport last evening on a business trip.

Frank James, of Latourell, has closed the deal for the Grand Axtell property and will move in immediately.

Mrs. Scott and son, Ralph, will start for southern California about November 1st to be gone several months.

Geo. Cathart has surveyed and located the corners for the new hotel to be built of Fairview.

The grading on the spur connecting the O. W. P. and O. R. & N. R. R. is progressing rapidly. The poles are being set and wires placed on the main line and soon Fairview will take cars for Portland over the new road.

Guy Osburn has returned from the seining grounds at Celilo where he has been working for some time.

C. C. Vaughn is disposing of lots to people who have faith in Fairview and many who have bought are contemplating building new houses as soon as carpenters can be secured.

It is positively known that there are still a few kickers and dirt slingers in Fairview who make it their business to interfere with certain propositions which are intended to upbuild and become a benefit to the town and community. If these same people would get out and hustle and encourage instead of discouraging everything which is intended for the good of everyone it would not be half the work to build up our little town. If you don't like the town in which you live move out and give someone else a chance to move in your place who will be a benefit to the place and not a hindrance.

Rev. W. S. Holt, D. D., synodical missionary of the Presbyterian Church, will preach here next Sunday morning.
