B. W. Emery made an official trip to the Corbett neighborhood Wednesday.

A. J. Stone and C. C. Vaughn were looking after business matters in Gresham this week.

Judge F. E. Harlow, of Troutdale, phoned over to us Wednesday morning that he had ordered sunshine and showers for the balance of the week, so if the weather don't suit you see him.

Rev. C. A. Nutley is in attendance at the Missionary Baptist State Convention being held at Albany. The convention opened Monday and closed Thursday night, with the largest number of delegates in attendance for years.

Rev. C. F. Sandstrom, pastor of the Swedish Mission Church, Buffalo, Minn., Mr. N. Heimer, editor of the Minneapolis weekly, the official paper of the Swedish Church of the Northwest, of Minneapolis, and Rev. Jonas Johnson, of Powell Valley, were pleasant visitors this week. They had just returned from the Sound, and the Swedish Conference held there last week.

ATTENTION — Odd Fellows, come early and stay late Saturday night, Oct. 20th. Second degree work. Estacada Lodge coming. You come too.

D. C. Ross and B. C. Altman were among our visitors this week.

A letter is just received from Rev. Thos. Maxwell, who was recently transferred from the Fairview charge to Silverton, Oregon, in which he says: "We have not yet got settled as our goods have not yet arrived. We had a good beginning of conference year last sabbath. We have a beautiful new church, carpeted and lighted with electric lights, also fine parsonage. This is a nice town and our latch string is out to any of our friends when they come to Silverton."

WANTED — A young lady to learn typesetting at The Herald office. Good position for right person. Apply at once.

A. F. Chase, of Orient, made this office a pleasant call last Saturday while doing business in Gresham.

Miss Fox Addresses Gresham Grange

Gresham Grange met in their hall last Saturday with an attendance of 18. Among the visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Townsend of Fairview and Miss Nellie Fox, assistant librarian of Portland Public Library.

Miss Fox made application for membership. She also addressed the Grange during the lecturer's hour on books and their use.

Resolutions favoring the employing by the State of Oregon of its convicts in the making of grain sacks and selling same to consumers at cost were adopted.

An interesting program of songs and recitations was given, participated in by members of the Junior Grange.

It is announced that resolutions will be put before the Grange on Nov. 11th relating to the Free Seed graft.

The Grange will give a social in the near future. All members are requested to tell something about Chicago at the next meeting.

Miss Hoss Resigns as Mail Carrier

Miss Mayme Hoss, who has carried the mail on Route 4 from Gresham for the past four years, has resigned and also J. H. Hoss, as her substitute and John Freeman takes up the route.

Mr. Freeman is at present a substitute but expects to be appointed regular carrier, being the next eligible. He has taken a horse of Miss Hoss.

Miss Hoss has accepted a position as mail-order clerk with a book house in Portland and will begin her new work at once. She will be missed from the route by the many who have watched for and welcomed her daily visits, but all her friends will be glad to know that she has secured a more agreeable position.

Rockwood Grange to Hold Institute

Rockwood Grange has decided to substitute a Farmer's Institute for the Fair it proposed holding this fall. The institute will be held next Wednesday beginning at 10 o'clock. An evening session will be held. Dinner and supper will be served for a small consideration. At least three professors from Corvallis will be present, among them Dr. James Withycombe, Director of the Agricultural College. All are invited to attend.

SIEFER STATION

Reverend Johnson's little boy recently fell and broke his arm, but under the care of Dr. Short of Gresham is getting along nicely.

Harvey Chitwood and Mrs. Swanson were married a few days ago. The boys and girls charivariated them and were treated to ice cream, cake and other refreshments.

FOR SALE — A three-year-old Jersey bull. Enquire of F. J. Ery, Gresham, Oregon.

Miss Lottie Alleback, of Portland, spent Sunday visiting with her aunt, Mrs. E. L. Thorp.

Monday morning, just before school took up for the day, Johnnie Shattuck, with a number of other boys, was in the basement of the schoolhouse playing. John was jumping, trying to catch a board on the ceiling and climb hand over hand along that to the main beam. In an effort to catch the beam mentioned he slipped and fell to the concrete floor, breaking the small bone at the base of the elbow, the bone being so situated as to be very hard to get in place again. It is doubtful if Johnnie is able to use the injured member for several months.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Smith, of Grass Valley, Ore., old friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Brownhill, have decided to take up their residence in Gresham for the coming winter, and possibly their permanent home. They are now guests at the Gresham Hotel.
