A ROUSING MEETING

Center Addition Falls in Line for an Eighty-Foot Street.

The Center Addition Progressive Association held an enthusiastic meeting last Monday evening, at which practically all opposition to opening Villa avenue as an 80 foot street was swept away. In addition to the members of the association, who number practically all the property owners in that section who abut on Villa avenue, then were present a delegation from the Twenty-Eight Improvement association, headed by President Motter, and a number from Montavilla.

After the routine business had been transacted the question of a wider Villa avenue was taken up. Pres. Motter led off, and in glowing terms portrayed the advantages of a wide street, and said that the 28th street people did not want it to stop at the west line of the Ladd farm, but to have it extended clean through to the Sandy road. Mr. Motter said that the property owners who would be affected by the extension west of the Ladd tract were almost unit in favor of widening, and they wanted to be counted in.

Dr. Leveny, who was present from Montavilla, explained how it was he had originally fought anything wider than 60 feet, and had circulated a petition to that effect, but said that he was now thoroughly in favor of an 80 foot proposition. H. B. Dickinson, also of the Villa, and a property owner, set forth the facts in regard to the early history of the movement in favor of widening and improving, and told of the struggles of an improvement association of Montavilla to that end. He said that the early promoters had thoroughly canvassed the situation from all points of view, the water question, the Ladd tract, the benefits to be derived, aside from the beauty standpoint, and had decided that it would be worse than folly to open on a less width than at least twenty feet, and had struggled valiantly to that end. That in view of the proposition of another organization in Montavilla it had been decided to take it out of the hands of any particular association and place in the hands of a committee of citizens at large. This had been done, and it was found that it had resulted in the withdrawal of a considerable amount of the opposition, and that now it looked as if the 80 foot road way would carry, not only to the west line of the Ladd tract but clean through to the Sandy road.

C. T. Groat, secretary of the Center association had opposed anything but a 60 foot street, but had fallen before the conclusive arguments advanced, and now declared himself in favor of an 80 foot street. Mr. Groat is a host in himself, and his support means a great deal. He was followed by other property owners of Center addition, and one and all were in favor of the wider street and voiced their determination to work for that result. C. Ball, president of the association, and owner of a large frontage, took the floor and said that while he favored a 60 foot street he would get in the band wagon with his neighbors on the 80 foot proposition.

The following resolution was unanimously adopted: Resolved, that it is the sense of the Center Addition Progressive association that are in favor of widening and extending an 80 foot street from the east line of the city westward to the Willamette river so as to connect with one of the bridges.

C. T. Groat, Andrew Bartholomew and C. W. Davis were appointed a committee to co-operate with the citizens committee from Montavilla, and one to be appointed by the Twenty-eight association. A meeting of this joint committee will be held in the near future.

There seems now to be absolutely nothing in the way of an 80 foot street from the eastern boundary of the city to a junction with the Sandy road, a consummation that will please our future on a basis to firm to be shaken by any adverse wind.

Big Main Complete.

Water was turned into the new pipe line from the upper Mt. Tabor reservoir to North Albina last Monday as far as Commercial street, and it took more than a million gallons to fill the big pipe, which is twenty-four inches in diameter as far as the stand pipe on the Vernon tract, and sixteen inches from there on. Before the line will be accepted by the city it must be tested, and this will be done by means of hydraulic pumps. It is expected that this will be finished by the end of this week, and as each joint has been very carefully inspected before being laid, no trouble is anticipated. It is this line that will supply Montavilla, a 12 inch main to be laid to connect either at Wibery Lane or West avenue and the Base Line road.

W. C. Aylesworth has opened a Real Estate office next door east of McCaslin store. Mr. E. Epton will be associated in the business.
