

Necessaries for the Cook

If the old adage is true that the way to win a man's heart is through his stomach then we are the instruments for furnishing necessaries for the discriminating cook.

As in the past, we shall endeavor to carry a full line of Red Cross and Monopole goods which are the best. Also a full line of the leading brands of Footwear, Overalls, Jumpers, Shirts, Underwear and Notions. We also carry a fine line of hand made Trunks and Suit Cases. If you are wanting Hardware, Tools, Stoves, or nearly anything used on the farm come and see us. We will treat you right.

Once there was an old maid who said she did not need to marry, she had a parrot that swore, a monkey that chewed tobacco and a cat that went out nights. The man who has an Edison Phonograph might say he never needs to go anywhere for amusement as he has an instrument that will play jazz music, sing the popular songs, tell funny stories, render the old ballads, give selections from grand opera and play ragtime, all with equal facility.

If you doubt what we say call and be convinced. It is true we have them with a full line of records.

Oregon People Shoud Use Oregon Products.

Why buy imported goods when you can patronize home industry and get as good or better articles?

The best way for Oregon's farmers to obtain good prices for their products is to use their own productions, and encourage the use of the same by every resident of the state.

We are manufacturing out of your hogs, hams, bacon and lard unsurpassed by any state in the union.

Since January 1st we have ceased to manufacture any lard except that made from the pure hog fat.

Our hams and bacon are strictly free from any chemicals.

We stand back of every pound of these goods, guaranteeing them to be strictly pure.

Compare our goods and prices with other goods on the market. We are not afraid of our comparison.

These goods can be bought at HOWITT'S MARKET and nearly every other store in East Multnomah Co.

BLIGHT OF PEAS.

The Green Varieties Are Most Strikingly Affected.

In 1904 the damage in Ohio from this blight was apparently greater than in previous years. It was first noticed on French June field peas which had been sown with oats as a forage crop on the experiment station farm. A close examination of the diseased plants showed that the stems had been attacked at many points, frequently as high as one and one-half feet from the ground, though most severely near the ground, where the disease starts. On the leaves were orbicular or oval dead spots one-eighth to one-half inch in diameter. Perhaps the most important thing in connection with the life history of the fungus is that the vegetative part, or mycelium, infecting these spots of the pods grows through the husk into the seed. Frequently it grows entirely through the pod, forming similar spots on both sides. When the fungus grows into the seed, brown spots may be formed on the surface. In the worst cases half the surface is frequently discolored and the seed adheres to the pod. These areas are much more striking on green colored peas, such as the Market Garden variety, than on the fewish varieties, such as the Admiral.

BLIGHT FUNGUS ON LEAVES.
