Charles John and family of Portland, spent Sunday with his parents, S. A. John and family.

Mrs. R. Anderson was a Portland visitor on Saturday.

Miss Daisy Wilcox visited her parents here on Sunday.

Miss Margery and Master Rowland Dustin left for Portland on Sunday. They have made their home with their grandparents, E. J. Snow and wife here for some time and have many friends here who regret their departure.

Mrs. Frank Jarvis visited in Portland the first of the week.

N. W. Rice and wife expect to leave for Salem in a few days, where they will reside in future.

Miss Susie Hall was a Portland visitor on Monday.

E. M. Stone, Earl Teggart and Chester Kronenberg are spending this week at their homes here, the Portland Academy being closed on account of smallpox.

Mrs. A. B. Moller transacted business in Portland on Monday. Mrs. Moller has been making improvements on her lots here and expects to build a residence on them soon.

The old fashioned social given by the grange on Tuesday evening was a decided success. Quite a number wore costumes twenty-five and thirty years old and some older. Mrs. C. G. Francher and C. Shepard carried off the prizes. Mr. Francher wore a dress of her grandmother's, which was thirty-seven years old. Mrs. L. Bogart, Mrs. Bondurant and William Townsend were judges.

S. A. John gave an interesting talk on "Early days in Oregon," part of which was in the Indian language. Thirty-six baskets were sold, the highest price paid for a basket was $5.00. Proceeds from the sale of baskets and from fines, amounted to $36.80.

State Grange Master Austin L. Buxton, is expected at the next regular day meeting, held on the first Wednesday in March. All members are requested to be present, as a very interesting is anticipated.

FAMOUS SAYINGS OF LINCOLN.

"I am nothing, but the truth is everything."

"All I am, or ever hope to be, I owe to my angel mother. I remember her prayers, and they have always followed me. They have clung to me all my life."

"Those who deny freedom to others, deserve it not for themselves."

"Let us have faith that right makes might, and in that faith, let us, to the end, dare to do our duty, as we understand it."

"Let us renew our trust in God, and go forward without fear, and with manly hearts."

"Stand fast to the Union and the old flag."

"A government of the people, by the people and for the people, shall not perish from the earth."

"Let us at all times remember that all American citizens are brothers of a common country, and should dwell together in bonds of fraternal feeling."

"My early history is perfectly characterized by a single line of Gray's Elegy, 'The short and simple annals of the poor.'"

"With malice toward none, with charity for all, with firmness in the right, as God gives us to see the right, let us strive to finish the work we are in; to bind up the nation's wounds, to care for him who shall have borne the battle, and for his widow and orphans; to do all which may achieve and cherish a just and lasting peace among ourselves, and with all nations."

When a woman will travel 10,000 or 15,000 miles to marry or to fight a divorce the matrimonial institution is far from "played out."

French conservatives complain loudly that a local "yellow" press is fast corrupting the common people.
