

CHAPTER 11 .-- (Continued.) "The carriage is ready, dear." said Angels, laying a hand upon her uncle's arm. Fraser bowed with a flourish, and she could scarcely do less than respond. "One of those Home Rule fellows?"

asked the major, as he took up the reins "Don't like 'em. Traitors, the lot of The groom and his master sat side by side, and Maskelyne and Angela had the interior of the carriage to themselves.

"It is a real pleasure to be here," said the young man as the carriage rolled along, with wood on one side and river the other. He looked about him on the landscape, which seemed to doze in the warm light, but his glance returned | to Angela. "I was afraid that I shouldn' be able to come, for my lawyers cabled to me twice to call me home again, but I managed to get the business throuwithout crossing. I wouldn't have missed coming for all the lawyers in New York !

'You will find us a little dull here.' "The fishing is very fine. said Angela. and you will find plenty of work for your camera, but the evenings are very long. even in this beautiful weather."

Just at this moment the major's whip swished in the air with an angry sound, and the horses, which had been going at a steady trot, dashed for a minute into a gallop.

"Surely," cried Maskelyne. "that was the novelist and spoke. Dobroski whom we passed just now." gela raised her eyebrows a little, and held Gree? Ah, yes. Deutsch? Yes.' up a warning hand.

'Ah." said the major, who had pulled the horses back into their settled pace again, and now turned upon his seat with a wrathful face. "You know that fellow. do you, Maskelyne? Where did you meet him?

"I met him in the States," returned Maskelyne "Here and there. He excited "Please do not speak of him in my uncle's hearing." Angela said, in a low tone. "I will tell you why later on."

broski to Major Butler if he desired to have been here together ever since.

"Mr. Dobroshi." said Angela, "escaped deal too close together for my fancy; his from St. Petersburg in a very romantic forehead slopes back too much for my the government. He went to England, b and my father heard his story there and many ways. My father was an ardent sympathizer with the Poles, and Mr. Do-broski was known as a really ardent and ingly. "I suppose that's needful. But I bet Polish blood in his veins."

'He looks Jewish," said Maskelyne. "not commonplace Jewish, but heroic Jew-ish. A modern Jeremiah, and full of la-The man at the table went on loves me dearly.

himself, "is not a surprising circum- sifting the fine sand to and fro in an abstance." But he kept silence.

| Deloyted to meet Mrs. Farley once more Are ye here for long?" He bowed and shook hands and waved a royal condescending pardoning sort of refusal to the chair Farley pushed toward him. We have been here a month." said the ovelist, "and we intend staying on until the crowd comes. Then we run away.

you stay for any length of time?" "I can't say how long I may stop." returned Fraser, with a smile. "The man would like to know my secrets," said the mile. "I'll be having a companion in a lay or two," he added. "O'Rourke's com-

"Ah !" said the other, carelessly, "I orgot. It's getting near the Whitsuntide

The landlady, seeing her new guest in onversation, had withdrawn, but at this oment she re-entered, in conversa vith an older visitor. She seemed to have onsiderable difficulty in making him un erstand what she had to say, for she said he same thing three or four times over. and he looked at her with a puzzled face and an occasional shake of the head.

"It is a pity, monsieur," said the landlady at last, turning upon Farley, "that there is no one here to talk the language The new arrival understood the tenor this speech, for a wagged his head at "English not. "French, so leetel-ver leetel. An- he said.

"He speaks German, madam," said Fraser, splendidly. "Allow me to translate for you." Then addressing the newcomer, "If I can serve you I shall be Jonsed."

The new arrival smiled, and put a ques on about the postal arrangements of the own. Fraser got the required information from the landlady, and transferred it. a good deal of notice there two years The other was profuse in thanks, and ducked ingratiatingly at his magnificent nterpreter.

"I've never been able to get to like that fellow," said Farley, as the man sat down No later on than that evening she told at the dining table, after the manner of him, and he sa wquite clearly that it the place, to write his letter. "He came could scarcely be politic to mention Do- here shortly after our arrival, and we He see that excellent gentleman keep his is always very civil, and he smiles as if by clock work, but his eyes are a good way more than thirty years ago, after liking; he has a stealthy way of walking the seizure of his wife and children by he is my beau ideal of what a spy should

"Ye do expect a spy to understand the found him out and was a help to him in language of the land he lives in, don't self-sacrificing patriot. People sometimes shouldn't be in the least surprised to learn speak of him as a Russian, and that that he did understand. I shouldn't be greatly angers him, for he has nothing in the least surprised if he understood what I am saying now."

"Perhaps he might be," said Fraser.

The man at the table went on with his While Farley and Fraser still letter. "He became passionately attached to talked about him, standing at the window, my father," the girl went on, "and I do he arose and walked to the end of the really believe, without exaggeration, he room, where stood a table spread with would have laid down his life to serve writing materials. Taking from this a him. When my father died he transfer-red his affections to me, and I know he a part of its contents on the sheet of paper he had just written, and then, turn "That," said the young American to ing with the paper in both hands, he stood sent way, regarding meanwhile the two

"Ye flatter me," cried Fraser, smiling permission to them to call upon you, and

There would be time enough to make ex-

O'Rourke came the next day. Mrs.

wavy hair bathed in sunshine, and a impression of the pleasant voice, whenever a stranger, attracted by it, looked at O'Rourke turned in his own swift,

he mid, "Dobroski is staving

"Hello! There's Fraser in the road. Who's that with him? Is that Doboskil "That is Dobroski."

O'Rourke raised his hat with an air of voluntary homage, and turned his face away from Farley. By and by he spoke in a low and softened voice, with his face still turned away. "That's the one indomitable heart i Europe, Farley. I must go and speak to he added in his customary tone and left the garden at a brisk pace. Presently Farley saw him in the street ad-vancing toward the Cheval Blanc, in front of which stood Fraser and Dobroski. O'Rourke shook hands with Fraser, and hen stood barehended in talk with the old Anarchist. It was not until Dobroski had several times motioned to him that he replaced his hat.

"This is me friend and colleague, Mr. O'Rourke, Mr. Dobroski," said Fraser. O'Ronrke's attitude and expression were st reverential.

"I have long hoped to have the honor of meeting Mr. Dobroski," he said. "The smallest drummer boy has a right to wish weights if pushed from the start, but to see his general. There is not a patriot they must have rich pastures and be in Ireland, sir, who does not envy Mr. given plenty of grain. A full allowance Fraser and myself this honor." "I am honored in your presence here," of hay will be sufficient, with but little Dobroski answered, with dignified sim- grain, but some of the mutton breeds can consume over two pounds of grain licity. "We are not charged with any formal each per day. An experiment with nission," said O'Rourke; "and you will lambs at the lowa station showed that inderstand how impolitic it would be to 109 lambs of various breeds consumed allow ourselves to be taxed with such a 34,501 pounds of food in ninety days mission by our opponents in the House of Commons. But we are charged with the private and personal greetings of a hundred men who are animated by your own spirit or by some reflection of it, we bring you sign the professional and the profession of the second the private and personal greetings of a hundred men who are animated by your own spirit or by some reflection of it, we bring you sign the profession of the profesion of the profesion of the profession of the profession o We bring you, sir, the profound and the rate of one pound increase in live passionate sympathy of every true Irish- weight for each 7.37 pounds of food man, and their thanks for the part you (dry matter) of all breeds tested, and have played. The mere spectacle of one one pound for each 7.25 pounds of food nerable and unpurchasable patriot by the seven special breeds, the food is a help to true men the wide world consisting of corn, oats, bran, oil meal, He spoke in a low tone, but with a turnips, mangels, pea hay, clover hay and timothy, the average gain being a nanner and accent of great earnestness. "Sir," said Dobroski, in an unsteady little over half a pound a day. The voice, "I thank you. Let us say no more cost of the gain in live weight was 2.88 cents per pound for the selected breeds "Hallo," cried Fraser, who gave no and 2.93 cents for the others. This ign of being at all overwhelmed by any does not include the fleece, labor or of the sentiments of veneration which appeared to influence O'Rourke. "Here's hundred pounds, live weight, and the Farley's spy. Have ye seen Farley, O'Rourke? He's steeing at the same lings dressed over 62 per cent. Where "I have seen him," said O'Rourke, early lambs are gotten into market the prices received are sometimes very What do you mean by Farley's spy?" "Oh," returned Fraser, with his smile high, and the growth of the lambs is of allowance for human weakness, "poor promoted by liberal feeding and care. Farjey got it into his head that this fel- The object in calling attention to the is going down the street was spy-mutton breeds is to show the imporing on Mr. Dobroski. The deloytful part tance of feeding lambs and sheep, in of the business is that the man doesn't stead of depending on cheap lands and speak a word of French or of English either. But ye know Farley? scanty pastures. In the summer give the sheep good pastures and grain ; in winter, feed a variety of food, using comfortable quarters at night. She Came Very Near to Wreeking Good Variety of Plum.

Experiment with Lambs

Her Little Son's Faith in Her. The Lincoln plum here shown is de-"My mother's going to call for me -day!" cried Elsie, jumping up and scribed by the Ohio experiment stadown while the first grade teacher tion as being of a variety of rare tried to put her wabbly arms into the beauty and excellent for market, one ridiculously tiny cont-sieeves. "Doesn't of the best second early plums; quite which portion a box open at one end your mother ever call for you, Philip?" free from rot in some seasons; first only to the coop, as the turkeys should she asked of the small boy who was blossoms May 7, full bloom May 10, hunting for his cap among the rubbers. Inst blossoms May 15; in full fruitage "Oh, yes, sometimes," he answered, Aug. 15,

Fruit large to very large, roundish with feigned indifference. oblong, blunt at apex, slightly necked ; "You said she promised to come tostem long and strong and set at an lay," continued his tormentor. angle : suture distinct, slightly de-This remark was received in silence, and the next moment Elsie's mamma pressed; color light greenish yellow, arrived. After a kiss and a hug and overspread with a beautiful shade of well in while warm, then have a buck-

Philip looked lonesomely after them, and knit his tiny brows as he said to moderate grower, but healthy, and the corn belt, and where the root-aphis certain conditions, almost complete im- policeman makes an arrest. if he is cent. munity is secured where a system of resisted by his prisoners he can file Cock partridges are caught on greatest protection from the ravages of this pest, says a government report, night to find a burglar in his room. An effort is being made to get all the Some breeds of sheep attain heavy > unfortunately, local conditions, often extending over large sections of coun-try, will not permit of crop rotation aged leg. Under the law the Ameri-working classes, with a view of obtaintry, will not permit of crop totation aged leg. Under the law the Autor working classes, with a tree of containing practice. Two other methods may be reacted to the law the l followed. One of these is practicable cans to understand the system and declare, writes admirably as well as throughout the corn-growing section of they often get into trouble. the country in seasons of not more than normal precipitation during the time intervening between the first plowing of the ground and the first plowing of the ground and the first follow along. The police arrest the gyll, from whom she inherited many of cultivation of the young corn. The oth-owner of the establishment which is the talents that made him famous. er is perhaps best adapted to the southern portion of the country on account of the milder winters.

Conventent Turkey Coop. must have started it. This coop may be of any preferred size, but not smaller than four by six be of two-by-three-luch strips, with plenty of hay and grain, and give them one-by-two-inch strips fastened thereto, to which lath or wire may be nailed, as preferred. The sides are of cut lath, the top being of wire. Boards or tarred paper may be used as a covering Grafting Wax That Will Not Crack Take ten pounds of resin, two pounds of beeswax, one and one-half pounds of tallow and melt all together; then add when not too hot one and one-half pounds finely pulverized charcoal; stir a few words with the teacher they went merrily off together. erimson; dots many, very minute and indistinct; bloom, thin lilac; flesh it nearly covers, then with the fingers light yellow, firm; pit rather large, gather together and cool till you can take it in the hands and work it well. Make into rolls an inch or more thick ;

PLAN FOR TURKEY COOP.

lay it on a board to cool. When you

PECULIAR CUBAN JUSTICE.

Based on Idea that One Is Guilty Until Proven Inocent. The Cuban Idea of justice is a pe-collar thing and the autocrat of the New South Wales offers $30 a head whole system is the policeman. He can do just about as he pleases and any resistance whatever of his authoristanding sentence for striking or even pushing a cop around. It is now one There are altogether, foreign and nayear, four months and seven days. It fives, 25,790 persons that are actively used to be two years, eight months and engaged in bringing the gospel to Infourteen days. It was so fixed on the dia, while ten years ago there were is known to prove destructive under books of law and was unalterable. The only 16,189-a gain of nearly 60 per national debt.

crop rotation has been carried out for charges to that effect and the prisoner French shootings by means of a trap many years, involving but one corn must prove his innocence. The theory that closes on the entrance of a bird, crop in the cycle of rotation, it is self that one is guilty until proved inno- the lure being a mirror in which it evident that this measure offers the cent runs through the whole thing. greatest protection from the ravages of An American in Havana awoke one lous to attack.

UNFAMILIAR FACTS.

The aggregate of wealth buried with Turkey's sultans would pay Russia's toward the passage money of approved agriculturists and domestic servants to that colony, and $20 a head for other

Indeed, it is only where such a syn He got up to chase him out. A fight scientific societies of Washington. tem of crop rotation is not practicable ensued, in which the American shot D. C., housed under a single roof. The that the root-aphis need be considered the burgiar in the leg. The police scheme is to get them all to pool their in farm practice. To the eastward, came and the American was arrested issues and erect a fine structure which where there is more general rotation for shooting the thief. This American will be a source of pride to them all. of crops, this pest does but little in- has influence, but it took all he could A new office has been created in Ber-is on the theory that whenever there London, which has been taken over by is a fire the owner of the property the London and Southwestern, the If a person is injured in the street railway was completed, in 1808, it had no one is allowed to touch him until carried 41,000,000 passengers without spot. Sometimes an injured person There is a curious origin of a recent will lie for hours, perhaps in the hot fire in a Manchester (N. II.) telegraph sun, with two or three policemen stand- affice. The sun streaming through the ing around keeping the crowd back un- windows fell upon a heavy glass papertil the arrival of the judge. It makes weight, which slowly absorbed the heat no difference if the man might be dy- until it grew so hot that it began to ing-It is the law, and must be re- radiate it, and the messages underneath caught fire.

The human body is the most perfect been liberated by order of King Victor plece of mechanism in the world and Emmanuel III. He was about to be is capable of wonderful resistance to executed, when a piece of the machin injuries. The case of Phineas P. Gage, ery broke. The spectators were so afa railroad man, is a classic in the anfected that they obtained the communals of American medicine. Gage was tation of his sentence. engaged in blasting, and at the time of rock. The tamping rod was a piece of There are a good many rabbits playiron an inch and a quarter in diameter ing lion parts. and weighed more than thirteen pounds. The powder exploded and shot A few good beatings are the only this iron clear through the poor fel. efficient antidote for a quarrelsome disposition.

ATCHISON GLOBE SIGHTS.

It struck him on the left cheek im- How some men's sporting blood mediately under the check bone, and crops out when it comes to betting on passed up through his brain, behind a sure thing!

his left eye and out the top of his head. No man is fierce enough looking to In a word, there was a razged wound engage in house-cleaning without apthrough his brain at least two inches pearing henpecked.

in diameter and nearly six inches long. Careful comparison makes any oth-But instead of killing the man instant- or heritage look insignificant compared

But instead of gluing the hand him. Iy, this injury merely stunned him. He was carried to shelter nearly a mile away, and then without assist-if his children obey him, because he is ance walked up a long flight of stairs larger than they are. to bed-talking to those about him all feet, thirty inches high. The posts may over a portion of the coop, as a protec tion against sudden showers, under be on the ground during the day.

low's head.

spected.

Marve: of American Medicine.

his accident was tamping powder into a hole in the side of a huge mass of muster to keep out of fail, and the case lin by the British government to pro-burning and hold him until he proves At the final meeting of the Waterloo entire innocence. It is said that this and City Railway Company (tube). chairman mentioned that since the the judge of the instruction gets to the an accident.

An Italian named Ventura, who, in 1865, was condemned to death, has

I could never tell you." said Angela. men at the window. At that moment the with an earnestness which seemed to the expression of his face was sinister, but listener very pretty and engaging, "a as Farley turned in speaking his face tithe of the things he has done to prove cleared, and when their eyes met he was his gratitude to my father and his affecsmiling, and he gave that little half-nod tion for me. He has been most devoted whereby some people always recognize aand most self-sacrificing. But he tinges glance of which they are conscious from everything with a sort of fanaticism, and a man they know. Just then Maskelyne you call for me to-morrow instead of an idea once seized is immovable with came in.

him. My uncle intrusted some funds of "This is me young friend, Mr. Geo mine, as my trustee, to a business enter- Maskelyne, from New York," said Fraser, some kind which failed, and Mr. "He's just doying to know ye, Farley." "I have desired to know you, Dobroski thought for some wild reasonor no reason-that my uncle had profited said Maskelyne, in his soleinn, gentle by my loss, and had actually attempted way, "for a year or two past, and to rob me. Nothing-not even the fact thank you for all the pleasure you have that before my uncle heard this accusa- given me. It may please you to know, tion he had restored the lost money to sir, that you have as large and as af-my account, and had taken the whole loss fectionate a circle of readers on our side upon his own shoulders-could or can persuade Mr. Dobroski that this mon-""Twould please him more," said the strous fancy is not true. They quarreled delicate-hided Fraser, "if the Yankees desperately, and I have tried for two or wouldn't steal his copyrights." three years to reconcile them, but with "Mr. Fraser," said Austin, "has no result. My uncle will never forgive knack of hitting the right nail on the Mr. Dobroski, and Mr. Dobroski will not head. Not only that, but he always hits abandon his ridiculous fancy. It is hard it at the right moment, and, as Charles for me sometimes to keep my place be- Reade says, he does it with a polished tween the two."

"You meet Mr. Dobroski still?" asked and bowing. The young American threw Maskelyne.

"Oh, yes, I meet him still, and my an extra but unintentional heartiness into uncle makes no objections to my meet. the shake of Farley's hand. ing him. But we had no idea he was liv-ing near here when my uncle decided to buy this house. I find my place between Major Butler, and his niece are residents them difficult, though they both deserve in the neighborhood, and will be greatly to have it said that they do their best pleased if you allow me to take back a conditions to make it easy." under the

Mr. Maskelyne had taken, a year or make the acquaintance of Mrs. Farley two ago, an attitude toward Angela which and yourself. Miss Butler and I had a made him see whatever she did and accidental meeting with Mrs. Farley this thought in the most favorable light, and morning." yet the continuation of her friendship with Dobroski struck him as being a little his wife since he had begun to work curious in the circumstances. Perhaps again, and he was disposed to welco e saw this, for she hastened on : "I do not think that I could give you break the monotony of her retirement. she saw this, for she hastened on :

any idea of poor Mr. Dobroski's devotion. My uncle understands how hard it would cuses for himself hereafter. be to separate myself from him. I never seek him, but when we meet I cannot Farley leaned smilingly between the him coldly. And, indeed, until he er pots on the window ledge to bid the treat formed these dreadful fancies, there was arrival welcome, and he, with his reddish no one in the world I loved so well. "Excuse me, Miss Butler," said Maske- brighter light in his gray-blue eyes, stood lyne, "but is Dobroski quite----wouldn't say anything to annoy you for the world. But is he quite-how shall I pleasantest voice, and the pleasantest put it ?--- quite master of his own fancies?

"No," she answered, frankly, "he is not. But here comes my uncle. Let us say no with a squarish plateau on the bridge and more about him."

CHAPTER III.

When Fraser had seen his luggage taken from the van and bestowed in the small omnibus which met the train he walked leisurely toward the hotel, guided by the gilt sign which gleamed high above the surrounding village houses.

Coming suddenly, as he had done, out by the train but the engineman and the of the golden glory of the evening sun- guard." light into a shadowed chamber, he did not at first make out the things about "I managed to get into the wrong train him with any great distinctness, but he at Namur. The people of the hour could see that a man and a woman sat me that Fraser is staying here. at the far end of a table, and he bowed have seen him, of course?

to them. "He "He Austin. you? Are you holiday-making over bright way. Fraser advanced, shading his eyes with his hand.

"Ah," here." "That you, Farley ?" he returned. "How half affirmative.

"You know he is," returned Austin. are ye? I'm a troyfle short-soyted—and I "You know he is," returned didn't make y'out at first. How are ye? laughing. O'Rourke laughed also.

come ; but of course." he added, loyally, "she has a great many places to go." At bedtime, as he snuggled into her lap, he asked for at least the tenth time since school began, "Mother, won't nurse?" and again he heard the oftrepeated promise, "Yes, dear, if you'll e a good boy and go right to sleep."

elf, "I wish mother

(To be continued.)

HER LESSON.

The next day, in spite of former disappointments, he watched the door eagerly, but his head dropped when nurse walked in as usual. From time o time there were rulers promised and ong pencils, which never appeared on Philip's desk.

"Never mind, Phillp !" said Elsie on norning. "I'll lend you my long pencil. I guess your mother doesn't tell the truth very much."

"Don't you say that!" he shot back. fiercely. "I don't want your pencil. I'll-I'll never walk home your way again!" But all the same he blushed and felt choked.

he felt that he must vindicate her in some way to himself and to those readful children.

"Mother, Elsie says it's the same as lie when you promise you will and then don't, but it isn't, is it?" he asked. ooking up into her blue eyes. "Why, yes, I suppose so," she answered, a little absently. "Soon nobody would believe your word."

Farley saw a period of loneliness for "But if I say I'll plck up my playthings and go on never doing it, it isn't lie," he protested.

"Just about the same, I think." There seemed to be small satisfaction for him, yet he felt that somehow it might be different with "grown-

"But, mother, dear," he sobbed. throwing his arms round her neck, "it isn't the same, oh, it isn't when you say

I laughing and nodding back to her. you'll call for me and don't !" O'Rourke had the pleasantest face, the manner in the world. A well-shaped head, square and sagacious, gray-blue eyes full of expression and variety, a n a good deal of fine modeling about the nostrils, a handsome beard and a mustache of the ruddiest gold, and a figure at once lithe and sturdy confirmed the same. Can you forgive mother? And stone. "How did you come here, Mr. If I know it, Philip, I'll never tell you O'Rourke?" asked Lucy. "Nobody came

"And will you call for me to-mor-"I came by diligence," said O'Rourke. row?" he asked, full of faith still.

"Yes, every day for a week." A week later, as she paused with her moisture. The cutting of grass weak-You "He has gone to see Dobroski," said nounce to the children, triumphantly The tone was half questioning, every day for a week, and she's done the plant has better opportunities It !"-Youth's Companion.

THE LINCOLN PLUM

forms a round, shapely head; foliage That night, when his mother took prolific, but not so much so as to reim into her lap and read him a story, quire thinning of the fruit.

Plant Fodder.

Put in a good crop of fodder corn. sown in the row, with rows 4 feet apart, so as to cultivate it. Do not cut the fodder until the ears begin to glaze, when it may be put in a silo, or cut down, cured and stored in the barn. Such fodder should never be stacked in the fields, as its quality will be injured by exposure to sun and rain.

The value of fodder is greatly influenced by the period of growth at which it is cut. If cut too soon it will contain a large proportion of water, and if cut too late it will lose its succulency. Experiments Indicate that the proper time is when the ears are in the "milky stage" and just beginning

Care of the Lawn.

It may make new growth several times,

but sooner or later becomes exhausted.

renew its growth.

to glaze. To Protect Trees from Borers.

Mix cement with skim milk and an-It seemed an hour before she could ply with a stiff brush. Mix only a speak, so many things flashed in upon small quantity at a time, as it may her mind in a new light-the forgotten "set." Apply it somewhat in a thin threats, the broken promises. What had condition, and then make a second apshe done to this child of hers, sobbing plication. First remove the earth from in her arms? Yet she had meant no the trunk of the tree and apply the cewrong. There was but oneway now, ment mixture six inches below the surhowever-the way of truth at last, no face of the ground and a foot above. It will also protect against the gnawmatter what he might think of her. "Dearest," she said, "it wasn't meant ing of rabbits and mice if put on two for a lie, but I think it was just the feet above the surface, as it becomes

Be careful in mowing the lawn duranother.' ing very dry weather. If the grass tell

hand on the schoolhouse door, a feel ens the plant at first, as every succesing of shame brought the blush to her sive growth is in the direction of procheek, yet the feeling of satisfaction ducing seed. Any plant can be dewas uppermost as she heard Philip an stroyed if kept cut close to the ground.

"My mother's the best mother in this school! She said she'd call for me When moisture is abundant, however, wish to use, break a roll and melt; apply with a small wooden paddle about half an inch wide (not too hot). Close up all around well, and you need not look for cracks. Keep rubbing off the sprouts below the grafts as they appear. I am 77 years old ; have used the above ever since my boyhood every Growing Pumpkins.

year, I put in forty-six this spring; forty-two are growing, and I can't see to thread a needle. The wax kept in a cool place will never spoll .- B. Goodyear, in Orange Judd Farmer, Growing a lot of pumpkins in the speaks with authority on this subject, the man who swears off is more likely to begin again than the man who mereheld of corn is an old practice, but it for it is his tetrahedral kite that has is doubtful if pumpkins so grown are given the unit upon which flying maas profitable as when grown as a sep- chines must be proportioned, and If you have a good deal of confiarate crop from corn. The pumpkins Santos Dumont's success has been due dence in the people, divide it among will prevent the proper cultivation of to his observance of the principle first a good many; don't invest it all with corn, as working the corn destroys the enunciated by the great American one person. pumpkin vines, the result being that scientist.

ate weeds get a chance to grow and "We go very awkwardly about flymature. It is urged in defense of ing," said Prof. Bell. "In all inven- rangement of the tombstones in a wellgrowing pumpkins in the corn field tions the first steps are taken with an kept graveyard. that they do not interfere with culti- awkwardness that to later generations The little girl who practises on the

"'No go,' said the owner, after a

Her Experience.

Strictly Confidential.

son who was making a duty call.

lady member of the flock.

Berlin must wear white hats.

Apparently Impossible.

cussing flying machines. Prof. Bell ration until the corn is "laid by," but seems indicrously incredible. Indeed, plano four hours every day is entitled much depends upon the land, rainfall at the start, we are like the two men to a great deal of credit which she and thoroughness of cultivation. Corn with the plank. One man asked an- does not receive from the neighbors. should never be "laid by" as long as other to help him carry a long and weeds and grass can have an opportu- heavy plank home. Accordingly they nity to grow, cultivation being given it stooped down, back to back, took it up, If it is possible for a horse to pass and-of course they couldn't make any along the rows. progress with It.

How to Keep Hay.

while of balking. "Turn round." Haystacks should never be used if "They both turned round, and were the hay can be put under shelter. Hay face to face. With the plank on their sheds, which are simply roofs on poles, heads they stood in this posture, recost but little, and will save much valgarding one another sadly for some uable food in a year. Clover hay does time. Then the first man said, disnot retain its quality when closely gustedly : packed, being liable to heat, which is also an objection to ballng it. The best two men can carry one plank. I'll take prices for hay are obtained only when her-home myself." the hay is bright and clean, and when exposed to the weather it is liable to injury unless stacks are made by experts. The best hay is that which has received careful attention in both curing and storing.

Poultry in the Orchard.

"And did it return after That poultry will benefit orchards days?" queried the good man. and keep down many insects is true "I'm sorry to say it didn't," only to a certain extent. The bens swered the lady. "It was my first atwill be found more useful when confined in yards here and there in the mediately." orchards. Movable yards, which can easily be placed around any trees destred should be used.

Hens in Summer.

his business affairs? The cheapest way to keep a flock of hens in summer is to turn them on a range, and let them pick up all the food required, as they will fill their crops several times a day with bugs, are liable to become too fat, in which condition the bens do not lay and are long?" then also more liable to disease. Eggs "Only since my husband got an auto mobile."-Milwaukee Free Press. By order of the police all cabmen in the while. Several hours later a sur- You can't expect much from a girl geon arrived and found him resting who seeks information from a dream book instead of the encyclopedia, easily and absolutely clear in mind. His splintered skull was trimined. In course of time a young father the wound through his brain was will develop as much patience with the cleansed as much as possible, and a baby as he once had in tying his tle.

mild sedative was administered. In a The old-fashioned girl who was sormonth he was at work again, and sav- ry to see the school term close seems ing that he was blind in his left eye he to be about as scarce as she used to be. suffered no permanent injury. What has become of the old-fashion-ad man who inquired, on meeting an acquaintance, "Well, what is the good Alexander Graham Bell, the famous word?" inventor of the telephone, was dis-

There isn't much to swearing : gyen the man who swears off is more likely ly quits.

Some houses are so prim and orderly they remind one of the systematic ar-

KITCHEN MEASURE.

Ten eggs-Equal to one pound.

Forty drops equal to one teaspoonful. Soft butter-One quart is equal to one pound.

Powdered sugar-One quart is equal to one pound.

One wine glass is equal to one-half gill, or two ounces.

Wheat flour-One quart is equal to "Heave the beggar down, Jack, No. one pound two ounces.

Four tablespoonfuls are equal to one half gill, or two ounces. Best brown sugar-One quart h

"We should remember to cast our equal to one pound two ounces. bread upon the waters," said the par-

Strange of Senator Morgan.

"Yes, I tried it once," replied the A young woman in Washington had been reading that Senator Morgan advocated the system of reciprocity. many "What is meant by reciprocity?" asked she of a young man, long known to be an admirer. "Reciprocity," responded tempt at breadmaking, and it sank im- the guileful youth, "may be defined to mean an exchange in which neither party gains an undue advantage at the expense of the other. For instance, if Her Mother-Does your husband you gave me a kiss, I should feel bound take you lifto his confidence regarding to give you one in return." "I see." answered the young woman, "but I fall to understand why an old gentleman this morning. When I asked him to let like Mr. Morgan should attach so much me have $50 for a new gown he said importance to it."

> Translation Called For Downright Woman-Where did you

Classic Tramp-Madam, I castigated my itinerary from the classic Athen

D. W .-- I asked ye where did you ome from?

-Baltimore American

come from?

of America.

C. T.-I beat my way from Boston

Young Wife-Oh, yes; he did so only he was very sorry, but business was so bad just now he couldn't possibly do it.

When It Began, "Has your parrot used profanity may not be high in summer, but they can be produced at a very small cost at that season if the hens are made to seek their food plot is kept too close the grass may die grass seeds, worms, etc. When fed grain during warm weather the fowls