MRS. I. McCOLL, Gresham

Passing of Pioneer at Columbia View

Mrs. Susan Barker died at her home at Columbia View at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning, July 16. Death came quite suddenly. She was seized with a fit and lived only a short time. Deceased came to Oregon in the early 50's. She lacked only a few days of being 80 years old.

Her husband, Hiram Barker, passed away several years ago. Four children survive her: Mrs. Alma Hall of Fairview; Mrs. L. Holcomb of Portland, and Perry and Edward Barker, who are at home.

The funeral services were held from the family residence at 10 o'clock Thursday morning. Interment in Hall cemetery.

Death of Chas. H. McSheery

Chas. H. McSheery died at Boring July 15, 1907. The funeral was held on Wednesday, the 17, in charge of Rev. S. F. Pitts of Gresham. Interment took place at Damascus. Deceased was born Jan. 11, 1850. He had no family of his own, but leaves a brother and three sisters.

Ed. Metzger, while making a knife on Monday, cut his finger very badly.

MULTNOMAH EXHIBIT FOR THE STATE FAIR

Every Farmer and His Family Asked to Contribute to the Enterprise.

A. F. Miller, master of Lents grange, appointed by Multnomah county court to interview and gather together from the farmers of Multnomah county an exhibit of fruits, cereals, grasses, vegetables and other farm products for the county exhibit at the Salem State Fair in September. Mr. Miller has made an arrangement with the Gresham library to receive and place upon exhibition everything contributed by the farmers for such purposes. Every farmer has on his farm something worthy of exhibit. It may be only a fine specimen of grain, timothy, alfalfa, corn, etc., which if pulled and properly cured would make a fine exhibit. One may also find a fine curio in the way of petrified wood or other valuable curios which would be very acceptable.

He also wants farm products of every kind, including canned fruits and vegetables, laked goods, fine needle and crochet work, exhibits of wool and mohair, bees, honey and bee supplies, hops, cheese, butter, eggs, and in fact anything and everything of interest to the farmer.

Every farmer in this district should take an interest in this work and do his very best to make Multnomah's exhibit the first in the state.

Death of Mrs. Hevel

No recent death has come to the people of Gresham and vicinity with a greater shock than that of Mrs. Alvina Hevel who died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. May Wood, in Mt. Tabor last Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Hevel had appeared in her usual health until about three weeks ago, later she was taken to the home of her daughter where she died of peritonitis.

The funeral was held in Gresham last Sunday afternoon, the sermon being preached by Rev. J. H. Royer of

MRS. A. HEVEL

Damascus, pastor of the Dunkard church at this place. Rev. David Cathey also spoke. There was an unusually large attendance. The casket was literally hidden from view by beautiful tributes of flowers. The burial was at Gresham cemetery.

Alvina Jones Hevel was born in St. Joseph County, Indiana, October 14, 1817. She was married to Henry Hevel in 1861. In 1881 they moved to Oregon.

Mrs. Hevel leaves two children, Alva Hevel of Gresham and Mrs. May Wood of Mt. Tabor; an aged mother, Mrs. S. A. Jones of Gresham and three brothers, Milton Jones of Spokane, Alfred Jones of Seattle and Schuyler Jones of Gresham.

Mrs. Hevel had been for years an active member of the Grange and an influential member of Gresham Rebekah lodge. She was well known and a large circle of friends mourn her departure.

The members of the Herald force feel especially touched by this death and extend prayerful sympathy to the members of the family. Mrs. Hevel was the Herald's nearest neighbor and a extended many favors to the force.

GRANGE FAIR AND CARNIVAL TO BE HELD AT GRESHAM IN THE AUTUMN

Preparations Already Being Made to Hold an Exposition for Displaying to the World the Wonderful Products of This Rich Agricultural District.

THE SUPREME INTEREST OF EVERY CITIZEN SHOULD BE ENLISTED TO MAKE IT SUCCESS

The Enthusiasm of Prominent People is Already Being Enlisted—Besides Providing for Instruction, Entertainment, too, Will not Be Neglected.

Gresham Grange No. 270, Patrons of Husbandry, at their meeting held last Saturday decided to establish and hold in October next the first annual Grange fair and carnival. While the Gresham Grange will be instrumental in starting this work, it is proposed to make it more than a local affair. Every granger farmer and business man in the county and adjacent territory will be asked to participate in what will eventually be the best and most instructive thing of its kind in the country.

Following are some of the suggestions outlined by the Gresham grange. The Master and one assistant to be selected by the local granges, will constitute the board of directors. To assist these, numerous business men and others will be invited to advise with and assist them in planning the Big Fair and Amusement Features of the carnival. Churches and fraternal organizations of the community will also be asked to take a part, as well as stockmen, dairymen, poultrymen and others who are interested in seeing this country pushed to the front. It is proposed to advertise it far and wide as far as possible to bring people from far and near to see what our grangers and farmers can do when they try, to see and appreciate our products which, by the way, will include everything from a radish to a pressed brick, in other words to let the world know that this district is second to none and that men are not only making money but actually getting rich from the products of land costing $200 an acre and up.

It is proposed to advertise to the world that for climate, intensified farm products, natural resources, scenery and modern conveniences, it is

This District against the World. It is also proposed to make of this fair an opportunity for our people to have the best of instruction on farming in all of its phases, to have lectures on farming, a forum, in which will appear some of our brightest and best men. Amateur theatricals and other innocent and profitable amusements will be provided for on a large scale.

Committees are at work preparing letters which will shortly be sent to every grange in the adjacent territory asking their co-operation as individuals and as granges. Mr. A. F. Miller, master of Lents grange, has been interviewed and has promised his help. Mr. Miller has had forty years' experience in fair and grange work and will prove to be a host in himself at this work. He anticipates big things for the grange fair and carnival.

Hon. J. J. Johnson, a prominent attorney of Portland and master of Evening Star grange, the biggest and most enthusiastic grange in the state if not on the coast, has pledged himself to do everything possible for the work and is very enthusiastic over its outcome. Mr. Johnson is a worker and an able man as is evidenced by the numerous successes attained by his grange under his direction. Eastern Star is getting up a big fair of its own to be held early in October, but will not spare any pains to help

Make a Big Success of the grange fair now under way at Gresham.

Now is the time for every granger to commence to fatten and slick up that pig, colt, stallion, driving team, cow, bull, sheep, goat, poultry, dog, cat, in fact, everything in the way of farm produce, for the State Fair and when returned use it at the grange fair and carnival at Gresham. Let us all get together and boost, boost, boost for the first annual grange fair and carnival at Gresham.

Favors Gresham Grange Fair Hon. W. W. Cotton was requested by the editor of this paper to give his opinion of such a fair, and the following letter was received in reply:

Portland, Oregon, July 10, 1907. TIMOTHY BROWNELL, Gresham, Oregon.

DEAR SIR: I understand that the suggestion has been made that there be held at Gresham a fair for the purpose of exhibiting the products of the vicinity. I am decidedly of the opinion that such a fair would accomplish many useful and beneficial results. It will show to those not familiar with our country what can be done, and those actually engaged in farming will learn from each other what the country is really capable of producing. I feel that every owner of land or farmer in the eastern part of Multnomah county should be interested in making such a fair a success.

Very truly yours, W. W. COTTON.

"There's a shout in the camp" of the Free Methodists in Gresham as night after night the hosts assemble, the speakers become enthused with their subjects and someone accepts the invitation to live a new and better life.

The tent meetings which began more than a week ago have progressed with ever increasing interest and attendance and some who come to jeer have remained to pray.

Pastor S. F. Pitts is being assisted by Evangelist B. C. Dewey, of Decatur, Ill. in his, whose clear cut presentation of truth spoken in love appeals to the hearers, while occasional flashes of wit and humor mingled with touches of pathos, keep his audience interested. Other ministers attending are, Reverends S. Scott of Portland, H. E. Stubbs of Estacada, A. Walker of Salem and Singing evangelist McGregor.

The meetings will continue this week and probably next week, with services every forenoon and evening and three services on Sunday.

Musical

The musical recital given by some of the pupils of Miss Lucy Metzger at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. Metzger, Wednesday afternoon was a grand success in every particular. The young folks entertained their elders from 2:30 to 8 p. m. The program was well arranged and its execution spoke well for the performers as well as their popular teacher.

After the program, refreshments were served in the grove on the banks of Johnson creek. Besides the parents and friends of the pupils, a number of musicians and friends from Portland were present.

1. Duet, "The Traveller," Nellie Paris and Isabelle Metzger.
2. Beethoven's "Elsie" and "Melody," Lucile Nutley.
3. "The Black Forest Clock," Huns and "March," Williams, Ada Doane.
4. "Fluttering Leaves," Kolling and "Valse Caprice," Eyer, Nellie Paris.
5. Solo, "A Lullaby," Lottie Davis.
6. "Slumber Song" and "The Fair," Gurliitt, Anna Brugger.
7. "Hail To The Flag," Austin, Helen Hoos.
8. Song, "The Clock," Idylla Brownhill.

Melrose Church to Be Dedicated.

On Sunday July 21, the people of Melrose will dedicate the new Harriet Hill Memorial M. E. Church of that place.

Rev. John Coleman of Willamette University, will preach the dedication sermon at 10:30 a. m. Presiding elder, Dr. B. F. Rowland will have charge of the afternoon service and dedication of the building. A praise service will be held in the evening.

The church building was started last April and has been rapidly pushed to completion, and this too during the busiest season of the year. The trustees are, J. H. Wilson, A. B. Conrad, Mrs. E. T. Wood and W. B. Parsons. The building committee are W. B. Parsons, H. W. Fritz and John Bramhall.

Rev. J. H. Wood is pastor and has worked unceasingly to bring about this neat church building in this prosperous community. The building will be dedicated free of debt. It is all complete except the painting.

A basket dinner will be given in the grove near by. Everybody is invited to come and help us enjoy the day.

MONEY IS STORED LABOR

EVERY dollar you earn represents a certain number of hours of your labor. It is labor in a condensed form, convenient to exchange for the products of the labor of others, or to hold in storage for use in later years when your strength faileth.

Put away a part of today's work—of tomorrow's work—of every day's work, NOW, while you have earning capacity. Your stored labor will support you in comfort in a few years.

Can you save a dollar every day to put in the bank? or 50 cents? or 25 cents? If so, you ought to be doing it. It's a pity to waste all the work of these good years, but many are doing it.
