HAMMERS AND SAWS WILL RING TOMORROW

Work on Fair Buildings to be Rushed—Some Attractive Features of Fair.

Things will be doing on the Fair Grounds in Gresham next Saturday, when the hammers and saws of over 100 men will be heard in the erection of the temporary buildings of the First Annual Multnomah County and Grange Fair and Carnival. Over sixty thousand feet of lumber will be used in the construction of the 100 stock sheds, the main pavilion 40x100 feet, the poultry building, horticultural building, band stand, grand stand and amphitheatre, floors for the three big assembly tents, grand archway and offices. This lumber is daily arriving and will all be here in time to keep the men more than busy from Saturday on until the buildings are finished, which will be inside of a week.

At the last executive meeting it was decided to charge all exhibitors the sum of $1 each, that amount to cover payment for a season ticket to the Fair. To each ticket will be attached three extra coupons, good for one admission each, which may be used for the exhibitor's family or assistants.
Other rates of admission will be:
Season tickets, $1; single admissions, 25 cents; children under 12 years, 10 cents.

"The Furrow" will contain the most popular and attractive amusement features appearing in any fair in Oregon this year. Secretary Thorpe and Superintendent Caswell have been successful in securing all the best concessions appearing at Oregon and Washington fairs this year. In addition to these will be a number of attractions from the Oaks, and a big dancing pavilion, and one of Portland's best orchestras, which insures a continuous round of innocent fun for everybody.

"Woodmen Day" will be a bumper State Organizer Day is making arrangements for the Woodmen of Multi-nomah and adjoining counties to be represented on that day. Woodmen excursions will be run from Oregon City, Vancouver, Washington, Portland and other points to the Fair, where other fraternal organizations will be in attendance and take an active part in the uniform drill contest.
Prominent among these will be the Knights and Ladies of Maccabees, The Foresters, Knights of Pythias and others.

The Woodmen of the World will also participate in the Queen of the Carnival contest.
A number of the candidates of East Multnomah for the highest honors of the Fair have dropped from the race. The leading candidates now being Miss Lucy Metzger of Gresham, Miss Florence Stafford of Troutdale, and Miss Mignon Martin of Montavilla.
Each of these are favorites in their respective communities and are good vote pullers. The Mount Scott district and St. Johns have entered the race for Queen of the Carnival and are said to have put a few cards up their sleeve that will surprise somebody before the contest is over.
"A Milking Contest." Superintendent Caswell has arranged for a milking contest between boys competing with boys and girls with girls, that is destined to awaken quite an interest in this thoroughly farm science.
A large number of boys and girls have already indicated a desire to enter the contest, and more are yet to be heard from.

"A Public Wedding" under the management of County Clerk Fields planned for the Fair and although the prospective couple is not yet in sight, Mr. Fields thinks there will be no difficulty in securing the necessary particularly in view of the fact that the fortunate twin will be the recipients of a marriage license free of charge, and a handsome supply of furniture to commence housekeeping with.
Hicks, the famous weather prophet, has been communicated with and has promised all the stormy weather for October during the first and latter parts of the month—the 16th to 19th is promised fair weather—and a big crowd—arrangements for the feeding of which are now complete.

RAILROAD PROSPECTS STILL HANGING FIRE

Gresham May be Ignored by Road on Account of Unreasonable Demands.

A large number of citizens of Gresham and vicinity gathered at the Gresham Hotel last Monday night to discuss the prospects of securing the right of way for the Mount Hood Railway from Gresham to Pleasant Home and vicinity. Timothy Brown

ODD FELLOWS' BUILDING, GRESHAM
The lower floor is occupied by the Beaver State Herald Publishing Co.

hill was elected chairman of the evening.
Mayor J. M. Short stated the object of the meeting in a few words, in which he said in part, that "Contrary to general opinion, the Mount Hood Railway was in no sense a sure thing for Gresham."

The road had been offered so many inducements from "bait" owners to the north that we were in imminent danger of losing the road unless some of our citizens were willing to ask less money for the right of way across their farms, and some cash was forwarded to assist in purchasing the right of way from those rightly entitled to damages."

Superintendent Linnay of the Mount Hood Railway Light & Power Company was present and spoke at length of the discouraging features encountered and the unreasonable demands of some parties through whose property the road must pass if it runs via Gresham and Pleasant Home. He also intimated that his company could secure the right of way for their road north of the Base Line Road at more favorable prices than those attaining in and around Gresham. This together with the fact that fewer and smaller cuts and fills would be encountered on the northern right of way led President Clark to favor the latter, which he said would have been done long ago but for the persistent effort put forth by Dr. J. M. Short and the committee from Gresham, who had this matter in charge. These men simply wouldn't take no for an answer—in fact—his presence in Gresham was due solely to the untiring nerve of these men, to whom, if Gresham is successful in securing the road, all credit will be due.

Lewis Shattuck, R. R. Carlson, D.
S. Johnson, Geo. Kenney, H. L. St.
Clair, E. R. Wright, Dr. Short and others discussed the matter at some length ending in a motion that the chair appoint a committee of three to wait upon land owners east of Gresham to find cost of right of way through their farms, and another committee of three to solicit funds for the purchase of said right of way.
R. R. Carlson, E. R. Wright and Gust Larson were appointed on the investigating committee.
Lewis Shattuck, D. M. Roberts and Ford Metzger, financial committee.
Those present expressed a strong sentiment in favor of securing the road for Gresham. H. L. St. Clair, whose home would be badly damaged by the right of way was very liberal in his remarks; so was R. E. Wright, whose place would also suffer more or less damage from the same cause; others not so outspoken were equally approachable and gave every evidence of being willing to do all in their power toward securing the road for Gresham and vicinity.

Andrew McMillan, one of The Herald's staunch friends was a recent caller.
While here Mr. McMillan ordered a number of trespass notices and also took occasion to show his appreciation of the home paper. It is a source of pleasure to know that our most progressive men think The Herald worth $1.50 per year and are glad to see the subscription price raised to that amount.

Ed. Cummins' New Home

Whitney & Anderson of Cleone have just finished for Ed. Cummins at Gresham one of the neatest and best built homes in this vicinity. The frame is 34x28 feet, two story, there being seven large rooms besides pantry and bath room. A front and back porch add to the commodious appearance of the building. A good cement foundation is under the whole building. The house is plastered with wood fiber and neatly painted outside and in. The same contractors did the work from start to finish. A fine cement sidewalk leads from the front gate and a new picket fence ornaments the yard.

This improvement adds greatly to the prosperous appearance of Gresham and stands in evidence of the progressiveness and industry of the owner, Ed.
Cummins, and his daughter, Mrs.
Stubbs, who will doubtless greatly enjoy their new and handsome home.

GRESHAM LOCALS

Miss Lena Story of Portland and Nathaniel Stevens were callers on Mrs.
Jake Metzger Sunday.

Carl Shattuck has the lumber on the ground near the depot for a big grain and produce warehouse, which he will build right away. When complete he will do a wholesale and retail grain and commission business.

J. D. Regner was among the number to renew their subscription to The Herald this week. He also renewed a year's subscription for his son Arthur at Seattle.

T. O'Regan, a prosperous farmer of Latourell, was doing business in Gresham the fore part of the week.

Rev. C. H. McKee of McMinnville, who has been acting as supply for the Bethel Baptist church, returned to his home Monday.

Wm. Shelly of Troutdale was a welcome visitor at the Herald office this week.

Ed Smith has returned from another successful horse buying venture.

Mrs. Matilda Roten of Spokane is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. D. Regner.

Mrs. L. H. Vail, head of the culinary and cooking department for the Multnomah County and Grange Fair and Carnival, announces that valuable prizes are to be given for the best canned fruit, meat or vegetables. The fruit may be canned in economy jars or "any old jars." Young ladies under 20 are especially encouraged to make bread and cake, as special prizes are to be awarded.
A valuable prize will be given the girl under 16 years of age, who can make the best loaf of bread. The prizes are worth working for.

H. C. Schellous, head of the poultry department of the coming fair, was a caller at The Herald office Monday.

Mrs. J. W. Shattuck, who is very much interested in the "big fair," made the Herald office a call the first of the week.

C. A. Stanton of Boring was a welcome caller at the Herald office Monday.
Bert is an old friend of the editor, hence we were very glad indeed to hear of him locating in Boring. He tells us, however, that on account of the distance from school, he has sold his place at Boring and will build on lots purchased at St. Johns, where Mrs. Stanton and the children will reside until he finishes a large wood contract he has on hand, when he will join them, probably about the first of the year.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Spain, and two children, of Portland visited their daughter, Miss Jessie Francis, Sunday.
Rev. C. H. McKee, J. W. Shattuck, E. E. Elliott, M. E. Tolleson, J. W.
Lawrence and J. H. Chalker were the gentlemen responsible for the building of a very neat and commodious horse shed in the rear of the Baptist church.

WAYS TO LOSE MONEY

Made Him Dig Up

At the point of a six-shooter and under threats of death, G. M.
McGeehe, a farmer living near Russell, Ind. Ter., was made to get out of bed in the night and go into the yard and dig up $2,200 in gold which he had buried. The robbers took the money and rode away. McGeehe did not believe in banks!

Wouldn't Pay Exchange

In a crowd of 150 people who were boarding a train at Little Rock, Ark., Glas. F. Hartley was robbed of $6,000 by four pickpoc-ets. Rather than pay the small exchange charges for a New York draft, Mr. Hartley carried the money with him in a pocket.
