A FEW MINUTES WITH THE EDITOR

HAWAIIAN SINGERS AT THE FAIR

Mrs. Edith Tozier Weathered, one of the best known writers and travelers of the Pacific coast, who is chaperoning nine of Honolulu's fairest damsels on a tour of the coast, will, with her wards, be a guest of Gresham next Wednesday afternoon. There are a number of ladies living in Gresham, who have not as yet received an invitation to do anything toward making the fair a success. The Herald would therefore suggest that some of these ladies be invited to meet Mrs. Weathered and her girls upon their arrival here, and to see that they are properly entertained while in our city.

The personnel of the Honolulu party follows: Mrs. Edith Tozier Weathered, chaperone, Misses Lillian Menden, Katie Sadler, Hattie Saffrey, Emma Rose, Bernice Dwight, Rose Aloian, Hester Lemon, California Lucas and Daisy Todd. These young ladies are all as handsome as Honolulu girls only can be, and are well educated and can sing and play beautifully. Their favorite instrument is the native ukulele, a stringed instrument similar to a mandolin.

BE LOYAL TO YOUR OWN TOWN

The inordinate love of the dollar too often makes men unpatriotic and disloyal to the town and community in which they live, says the Iowa State Register and Farmer. To save a little they will send away from home for supplies, refuse a dollar toward public improvements in their own town, belittle and degrade home enterprise and yet be the first to advance the price of their property as a result of the patient, self-sacrificing work of others. Loyalty to your own town is just as commendable a type of patriotism as one can find, and no matter how much your patriotism boils over on the Fourth of July in a general way, if you are disloyal in little things to your own town you are a poor citizen of the republic. You are like him who makes long prayers in the church and jaws his wife at home.

THE LAST NOTICE

The Herald readers have received notice from time to time within the past few weeks that the subscription will, commencing Nov. 1, 1907, be raised to $1.50 per year, strictly in advance. All delinquent subscribers will be dropped from the list at that time and the amounts charged to the subscribers' accounts which will be immediately turned over to our attorney for collection. If you want the Herald another year for $1.00, pay up before Nov. 1.

SORRY WE WERE OUT

Every editor in the state is, and every citizen should be, honored in a visit from State Historian Geo. H. Himes. The editor was so unfortunate as to be absent during a visit from Mr. Himes last Tuesday. The following note left by Mr. Himes is, however, characteristic of the man, hence we feel that Brother Himes will pardon us for publishing it:

GRESHAM, Ore., Oct. 8, 1907.—Bro. Brownhill: Shake hands. My bow I make and leave my "trax." Virtue is its own reward. Never be weary in well doing. With hopes that the Multnomah County Fair may be a pronounced success, worthy of the county and its progressive folks, I am yours truly,
Geo. H. Himes.

Whenever an editor gets so old and childish that he publicly avers that he won't do anything toward building up a state press association because he was not honored as he felt he should have been by a few members of the old association, he virtually admits that he is in his dotage, hence is more deserving of pity than contempt at the hands of the publishers of the state.

Those dinners prepared by the ladies for the fair workers of last Saturday and Thursday were good enough for a king. The ladies of East Multnomah certainly take the cake when it comes to getting up a dinner. They make a man think of the kind of dinners mother used to get.

A Chinese missionary and his little band of Chinese followers, holding a street service in the presence of a hundred or more Mongolians on the corner of Second and Oak streets in Portland last Sunday afternoon, reminds one that some effort is being put forth to convert the heathen at home as well as abroad.

Every one of our local editors and correspondents is respectfully invited to make the Herald office headquarters while in attendance at the fair next week. We want you to come in and get acquainted. We are anxious to meet every one of our workers. Come in and make yourself at home.

Our folk should remember that all entries of exhibits competing for prizes at the Multnomah County and Grange Fair and Carnival close at 6 p. m., Monday night, Oct. 14.

The big 68 page fair catalog was delayed several weeks because of lack of copy. It was delayed one day last week because of a balky engine. Electricity is now being installed, and we hope troubles of this kind are over.

A good deal more space was added to the working room of the Herald mechanical department last week in the tearing down of the editor's private office and moving it into smaller quarters in the front of the building.

Lewis Shattuck was awful tired Saturday night, but very happy. No man worked harder or accomplished more than Lewis did. He was "Johnny on the spot" all the time, the right man in the right place.

These are busy, but lovely days just now. Everybody is busy preparing for the coming fair. No pains will be spared by the different communities to make it a rousing success.

For a genuine treat, don't forget to be on hand on Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 16, the opening day of the fair. Nine beautiful south sea island girls, direct from Honolulu, will do a stunt at that time that may surprise you.

No better evidence could be produced of the public enthusiasm concerning our county fair than the presence of so many willing workers on the fair grounds last Saturday and Thursday.

Rollie W. Watson, editor of the Tillamook Herald, has sold his paper and plant, and will retire from newspaper work.

Have you voted for the queen of the carnival yet? Do it today.

The building of a carnival city in a day isn't bad is it?

Don't forget to vote for the queen.

THE BEST WEAPON

Fight Mail Order Houses With Newspaper Advertising

The sentiment exhibited in the numerous articles now printed in country newspapers for the purpose of inducing people to trade at home instead of sending their money to mail order houses is good and noble, but we doubt if it appeals to the multitude who patronize these mail order houses.

The more these houses are brought to the attention of the people the greater the volume of business they are likely to do, for all this nice talk about keeping the money at home, spending it with the men who help pay for your churches, schools etc., patronizing the merchant who extends credit to you when you are out of money, etc., is only indirect advertising for mail order houses, and the managers of these concerns are shrewd enough to realize this and make sure of the benefits derived from it.

The best way in which the merchants in the towns and smaller cities can fight the mail order houses is to advertise. They know most of their patrons personally, can show them the goods before they buy them, have many other advantages over the mail order house and in almost every instance can sell just as cheap, if not cheaper.

If the home merchant lacks foresight and is too penurious to properly advertise his goods, why should the publisher exert himself to keep the trade at home for him? If solicitations on the part of the publisher fail to educate the merchant to the fact that he must advertise if he wants to keep up with the procession, then nothing is left to the merchant but to learn in the school of experience, and if the teachings of that renowned school are of no effect on him then there is no place for him, and eventually his place in the commercial world will be taken up by some more enterprising competitor.—Buckeye Informer.

LUSTEDS

The place purchased by Mr. Speer from John Sleret some time ago, was sold recently for a good figure.

John Carlson is making some fine improvements in the way of building and painting, which adds greatly to the appearance of his home.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sleret have returned from Yaquina Bay, where they have been visiting friends for the past two weeks.

E. F. Andre made a business trip to Gresham Wednesday, and while there called on his niece, Miss Jessie Francis.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Sester and family, Mrs. John Sleret and Mrs. Eleanora of Montavilla were guests of Arnold Rugg and family Sunday.

Ralph Neibauer and son Irvin have been taking a week's vacation visiting friends in Washington. They also visited several places in Oregon.

The Ladies Home Mission society met with Mrs. W. Harris last Wednesday. Much work was accomplished and tea and cake were served, which was enjoyed by all present.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hamilton of Sandy visited their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hamilton, last Sunday.

Miss Marian Robertson spent Saturday and Sunday at home.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Andre gave a party at their home last Saturday evening in honor of the fourteenth birthday of their daughter Elva. A large crowd of young people, numbering over fifty, were present. It is needless to say that the hostess knows how to entertain. The evening was spent in games and music, after which a fine lunch was served. All expressed themselves as having a fine time.

The following were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Lusted Sunday: Mr. and Mrs. Orland Zeek and children of Pleasant Home, B. J. Goff of Portland and Miss Jessie Francis and Geo. Preston of Gresham.

Gay Robertson visited friends in Gresham Sunday.

Miss Olive Lusted visited Miss Marian Robertson Sunday.

A Certain Cure for Croup—Used for Ten Years without a Failure

C. W. Bell, a Star City, Ind., hardware merchant, is enthusiastic in his praise of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. His children have all been subject to croup and he has used this remedy for the past ten years, and, though they much feared the croup, his wife and he always felt safe upon retiring when a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy was in the house. His oldest child was subject to severe attacks of croup, but this remedy never failed to effect a speedy cure. He has recommended it to friends and neighbors, and all who have used it say that it is unequalled for croup and whooping cough. For sale by all druggists.
