Cason. The work is being done by Emery Henderson and Diamond.

Tull and Gibbs furniture house put up the window shades in the new school building last week.

G. W. Drake has been suffering from an attack of grip.

T. L. Elliott, president of the Portland library association, spent last Tuesday afternoon at the Montavilla reading room. Mr. Elliott spoke of the branch library in high terms, and promises that all possible aid will be given to it by the association.

The Presbyterian church has been thoroughly fumigated.

Mrs. Gilman Parker is still improving. Mr. and Mrs. Parker expect to be at home by next Sunday.

Mr. Ingalls has sold his property in the north Villa and purchased a lot in Terrace Park, on which he is erecting a modern cottage.

Dr. John McIlwain is spending a few weeks in eastern Oregon for the benefit of his health.

The Missionary society of the Hope Presbyterian church met at the home of Mrs. Wm. Lancaster last Friday afternoon. A program consisting of papers on missionary topics was followed by a business meeting and social hour.

The children are happy! The children's books have come and Mrs. Mitchell is kept busy supplying the demands of these youthful readers.

Russellville Doings

The Russellville cross road has been graded and crushed rock put on it. It is now completed and is a good road.

Edward VanSchoick, a former resident of Montavilla who has been visiting at Cedar Rapids, Iowa, spent Monday with his brothers-in-law, W. W. and Fred Howitt.

Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Lang moved to Montavilla this week and their son, Sam Lang, and family, will move on their farm.

Mrs. L. Stassart of Jacot, Wash., who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. W. H. Addis, left Monday evening for San Francisco, where she will visit her other daughter, Mrs. Olsen. She expects to be gone a month or six weeks.

The Russellville grange initiated five new members last Saturday night. The attendance was good.

Miss Fox Entertains at Library

The mothers and teachers of Montavilla met in the reading room last Monday afternoon in response to an invitation from Miss Nelly Fox, head of the county department of the Portland library, who wished to meet the parents and have them look over the children's books, that had just arrived, before they were distributed to the children.

A goodly number of ladies was present and the large collection of books duly examined and praised. Miss Fox and Miss Mary Francis Isom, head librarian, with Mrs. T. E. Mitchell, proved themselves gracious hostesses.

Tea and wafers were served in an adjoining room. Everyone was pleased with the tasteful arrangement of the room, the series of pictures illustrating Dickens novels, the plants which are growing so nicely in the windows, and the rows of instructive, entertaining books.

Additional Gresham Locals

(Continued from first page.) Saturday evening. Games were played, refreshments served and a general good time had by all.

Albon Meing of Sandy was a Herald caller yesterday.

Next Sunday the people of Gresham will be highly favored by the visit of Dr. Y. C. Huff, of Philadelphia, who will preach in the Methodist church at 11 o'clock. Dr. Huff is one of the ablest ministers in the United States and comes to the Coast representing the Missionary Society.

ALBON MEING ENJOYS DOUBLE BLESSEDNESS

Quietly Wed a Popular Sandy Girl—Member of Old, Reliable Firm.

Nothing in all the world so wreathe a man's face in smiles as the acquiring "for better or for worse" the girl of his choice. There is therefore nothing surprising about the fact that our friend Albon Meing, one of the popular members of the firm of Meing Brothers of Sandy, has lately assumed a contented, happy vein, and lightness of countenance that could come only in one way—through the bonds of matrimony. And so Albon, when in our sanctum yesterday, blushing pleaded to the fact that he had led Miss Minnie Bosholm, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Bosholm of Sandy, to Hymen's altar, at Oregon City, Saturday, October 19, leaving immediately after the ceremony over the Southern Pacific for California, they visited San Francisco, Oakland, San Jose, Warm Springs and other noted California cities.

After spending ten days under the sunny skies and balmy air of the Southland, Mr. and Mrs. Meing returned to Sandy where they are now at home to their many friends in the house recently remodeled for them east of the Meing store at Sandy.

No one is perhaps better known in this district than Mr. and Mrs. Meing. Mrs. Meing, as a girl, was long and favorably known in the society of the community overlooking the Sandy. Mr. Meing has for a number of years past been an active member of the firm of Meing Bros., successors to the general merchandise business established by their father, F. A. Meing, in the early eighties. The firm of Meing Bros. is composed of Paul, the senior member, Albon and Otto. By strict attention to business and honest methods they have succeeded in building up an immense business in the rapidly growing center of trade of northern Clackamas county.

A wave of progress is sweeping over Sandy and vicinity which is very gratifying to every enterprising citizen who has the welfare of his town at heart. Sandy is growing rapidly both in population and as a trading center. A glance around town shows many new buildings completed or under way. Everybody is feeling hopeful and is willing to work to make Sandy the hustling metropolis of northeastern Clackamas county.

The road from the Firwood lumber company's sawmill to the Sandy cemetery has been carefully planned. The distance is about two and one-half miles and the road, part of the way through heavy timber east of Sandy, has been particularly bad.

Architect Otto Kleeman of Portland is spending a few days in summer cottage here.

Mrs. Chas. Schankey recently gave birth to twins. One of the babies did not survive but mother and babe are doing nicely.

Casper Junker has completed the improvements to his hotel building.

A new cottage is going up near the Lutheran church said to built by an old bachelor.

The Sandy Land company is busily engaged in improving its townsite property by building several residences for sale or rent.

Bert Lindsey and family have moved to Portland, where he has accepted the position of manager of the store of Ben Selling.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Ridings returned Monday from Seattle to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry McGugin, where they will spend a few days before going to their future home at Molalla.

The people in this vicinity are highly elated over their numerous plank roads, especially the one between Sandy and Johnson & Nelson's mill.

company between Stanley's cut, west of Gresham and Bull Run. Fully 200 men and over 100 teams are making grade as rapidly as the work can be done. The company hope to have cars running between Fairview, Gresham and Bull Run in the very near future. Plenty of money is available for the rapid prosecution of the work. It is reported that the company expects to have the road completed in time to handle the tourist traffic from Portland to Mt. Hood next summer.

Old Pioneer Passes Away E. S. Bramhall, who died at his home in Portland last week, was for many years an old and respected citizen of Aims in Clackamas county, where he and his son, J. M. Bramhall, conducted a large sawmill business. Mr. Bramhall was the originator of the idea of an electric railroad to Mt. Hood. The funeral services were held in the Gresham Methodist church. Interment was made at Gresham cemetery. Deceased leaves a wife and seven children, among them being Mrs. Joseph Wood of Manhattan, Kansas, J. M. Bramhall of Gresham and Mrs. L. E. Gotham of Hillsboro.

Boring Man Meets with Bad Accident A. J. McClung met with a very serious accident Wednesday, having all his fingers cut off from one hand. He was working on the cut-off saw at Palmer's mill. This is the second accident Mr. McClung has had at this mill. Three years ago a lumber pile fell on him and bruised him up pretty bad.
