A FEW MINUTES WITH THE EDITOR

EVERY EDITOR SHOULD ATTEND

Mr. E. H. Woodward, President of the Oregon Press Association, is calling for a large attendance of quill pushers at the next January meeting of the association. Every editor of a weekly or daily newspaper in the state is invited to attend this meeting, the object being that of a complete reorganization. From present indications there will be a large attendance. The meeting is called for the middle of the month, and the last of the week. This to make it as convenient as possible to attend for newspaper publishers from all portions of the state. No editor is so poor, or so crowded with work that he can afford to stay away from this meeting. No organization in the state is more important than this. Yet there is no organization in the state that has been so poorly attended. This is largely the fault of the publishers themselves. Nearly every state in the Union has a strong, well-attended Press Association working for the good of its members and the state at large.

The Press of Oregon compares favorably with that of any other state in the Union. We have as brainy, able, shrewd business men as any. We lack only in one thing—organization. Organization, however, happens to be the most important of all, for there is where the strength of the Press lies. It is time to get together. We have already fooled away valuable time.
 Thousands of dollars have been lost to the publishers of Oregon, and the people of the state are kept in ignorance of real and valuable information concerning tax lists and the laws of the state because the publishers of the state have allowed prejudice, envy and petty jealousy to stand in the way of organization. It is time to get together and work for the good of the cause. Brother editor, take a hint, secure your transportation now, and rally to the support of President Woodward in building up an organization of which not only we but the state at large shall feel justly proud.

ANENT THE HOLIDAYS.

The action taken by the business men of the state last Sunday afternoon in asking Governor Chamberlain to continue the holidays until 10 days after Chicago and New York banks resume specie payments, and urging the Governor not to call a special session of the legislature, will doubtless meet with the approval of the majority of the people of the state. Neither the banks nor the business men are just now in a position to withstand the onslaught of unscrupulous depositors or creditors.

It is true that no judicial business can be transacted during the holidays, causing great inconvenience to the people of the state. It is urged however that financial conditions are rapidly improving and relief will be at hand before or by the time the extra session could be properly convened.

IMPERILED PASSENGERS AND COST OF RESCUE.

There are a good many land-lubbers who fail to understand why the captain of a steamship will deliberately imperil the lives of the passengers under his care because the cost of safety is not made clear to him.
 The recent action of the captain of the Alliance deserves more than criticism. It is to be hoped that Uncle Sam will so arrange matters that in case of imperiled lives or property assistance can be accepted and the cost of rescue decided afterward.

God Give Us Men

- God give us men! A time like this demands
- Strong minds, great hearts, true faith and ready hands!
- Men whom the lust of office does not kill;
- Men whom the spoils of office can not buy;
- Men who possess opinions and a will;
- Men who love honor—men who will not lie;
- Men who can stand before a demagogue
- And brave his treacherous flatterings without winking!
- Tall men, sun crowned, who live above the fog
- In public duty and in private thinking.
- For while the rabble, with their thumb-worn creeds,
- Their large profession, and their little deeds,
- Mingle in the selfish strife, lo! Freedom weeps,
- Wrong rules the land, and waiting justice leaps.

J. G. HOLLAND

The Oregonian takes pains editorially to advise Mulkey, Cake, Fulton and other politicians to secure places on the program for addresses before the January meeting of the Oregon Press Association. The Herald is of the opinion that the aforesaid gentlemen would be liable to receive as good results and as square a deal from doing business with the members of the Oregon Press Association as they would from the editorial staff of the "big tower."

Between January 1st and October 31, 1907, 5,380,050 bushels of wheat and 1,168,886 barrels of flour were shipped from the port of Portland. During the same period Seattle, Tacoma and other Sound ports, shipped 3,513,430 bushels of wheat and 2,392,842 barrels of flour. Not a bad showing for Portland is it? When the North Bank Road is finished a much larger showing will be made.

In the death of Circuit Judge Arthur L. Frazer the citizens of Multnomah county suffer a loss that will be hard to replace. No judge was ever equipped with a clearer mind or with a higher sense of duty and honor than Judge Frazer. His work in the Juvenile court was far-reaching in its helpfulness to wayward children, many of whom will long remember him as their best friend.

Both houses of Congress opened at noon, Monday, December 2. Tuesday the President's message was read as usual, very little work will be accomplished before the holidays. After the first of the year it is hoped the members will get down to business and, in so far as is possible, give the common people a square deal.

No better medium can be used by the business men of this district for letting people know of the good things Santa Claus is bringing for everybody this year than the Beaver State Herald. It is read weekly by over 6,000 people who will spend a vast amount of money for Christmas presents.

The death of Merle D. Nelson, of McMinnville, recently occurred near Porterville, California, where he had gone for his health. Mr. Nelson was founder of the Cloverdale Courier, was a member of the Oregon Press Association and at the time of his death was the youngest editor in the state.

THE TREND OF THE TIMES

What a few of Oregon's up-to-date newspapers have to say on matters of public moment.

TELEPHONE REGISTER
 With every bank in the United States closed, so far as active business is concerned, it is not difficult to make the average man believe that there is something radically wrong with our monetary system.

CENTRAL POINT HERALD
 The failure of another Portland savings bank, making two heavy failures in that city within four months, with a consequent heavy loss to that class of depositors who can least afford to lose their money, is sufficient cause for all thoughtful people to give some attention to the banking system as now in vogue in America.

ECONOMY
 For most folks who are in debt, economy is the thread that leads out of the labyrinth.

An advertisement in The Herald will prove a good investment for you.

What the Home Stands For
 Quotations that I judge to be of great value have recently come into my reading, and it occurred to me that these might fit well in the columns of your Home Department, and bear to your readers a precious, helping sentiment.

The first is as follows: "Strength of character may be acquired at work, but beauty of character is learned at home. There the affections are trained—that love especially which is to abide when tongues have ceased and knowledge fails. There the gentle life reaches us, the true heaven life. In one word, the family circle is the supreme conductor of Christianity.
 Tenderness, humbleness, courtesy, self-forgetfulness, faith, sympathy—these ornaments of a meek and quiet spirit are learned at the fireside in common-place houses scattered over the country or in city streets."—Henry Drummond.
 Another is found in the closing sentences of an address given by our President on the recent occasion of the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of Michigan Agricultural college. I would be greatly pleased if all that our brilliant, truth-loving President said on that occasion could be put before our readers. We ought, every one of us, to know what he did say there. Not all honors, labor and the foundation principles to which we as a great nation, owe our prosperity, but for present use we must take the few closing sentences. He says: "Nothing outside of home can take the place of home. The school is an invaluable adjunct to the home, but it is a wretched substitute for it. The family relation is the most fundamental, the most important of all relations. No leader in church or state, in science or art or industry, however great his achievement, does work which compares in importance with that of the fathers and the mothers, who are the first of sovereigns and the most divine of priests."
 What a summing up this is; and if it is true, as we must concede it is, what more excellent work for humanity can be done than that which will help to hold in the thousands and tens of thousands of homes under the flag of this United States such standards as these beautiful words unfold?—Julia Sherman Upton in National Magazine for November.

PHILADELPHIA INQUIRER
 President Roosevelt went from Washington to Oyster Bay to cast his vote, but the man who would not go across the street to cast his is not to be influenced by a good example like that.

SHERMAN COUNTY OBSERVER
 In the midst of the "flurry" on Wall street last Friday the United States Steel company, a Pittsburg corporation, absorbed the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad company, the deal authorizing the listing of $30,000,000 of sinking fund 5 percent of the former corporation, at the New York stock exchange. Only $600,000 in cash was used in the transaction.

POLK COUNTY OBSERVER
 The agitation in favor of one-cent postage should cease. The country doesn't need it, and there are many good business reasons why it should not be adopted. Better use the money in extending and improving the rural mail service.

THE BUFFALO NEWS
 The Buffalo News is of the opinion that it would be a good thing to keep all stock exchanges closed for a few days at panic times. It might also help some if calamity howlers would keep their faces closed.

PEOPLES PRESS
 Whenever a paper or an editor gets so eternally "got" in his or its way that it can see no good in an enemy and can find no praise for a meritorious, gener-

HARVEY COUNTY NEWS
 The commercial business of the United States is so vast and is carried on with such a rush for fortune making that people become absolutely reckless after a time and a periodical readjustment seems to be a necessity in order to prevent utter ruin ultimately.

SEASIDE SIGNAL
 One man can destroy more in one day than 1000 men can produce in 1000 days. And in the financial affairs of this country it seems, a half-dozen men in Wall street can cause more harm in 24 hours than the entire nation can remedy in a generation—and at their own sweet will.

THE SECRET OF A BEAUTIFUL FACE lies in keeping the skin protected and well-acclimated. Just washing is not enough—that only leaves the delicate surface more exposed to the irritation of dust and germs; to merciless attacks of sun and weather. After washing, apply ROBERTINE and experience its delightful refreshment. You will admire the line-ness, softness it imparts to face, neck and arms. It not only stimulates a radiant glow, but protects the skin from becoming coarse. Prevents burning, tan and freckles.
 Admit Doggie for a few minutes—and try ROBERTINE.
