GRESHAM HIGH SCHOOL NOTES
Prof. James Preston of the schools of Berkeley, Cal., was a most welcome visitor on Wednesday. During the course of his visit Mr. Preston gave an interesting talk to the high school students on civics, making good citizenship the watchword and giving point to his discourse by citing the abuse of privileges and liberty, the graft and the lawlessness that have been running riot throughout this country.

Harold Wilson missed all of last week on account of illness.

When the principal learned that one of the boys scheduled for a recitation before the society was absent, he quietly remarked that the boy was doubtless sick,—that he probably had a chill.

The seniors are getting ready for the commencement exercises.

The eighth grade literary society will give their program Friday.

The attendance in Miss Parnely's room is much better.

Arbor Day will be fitly observed by the school. Miss Parnely's and Miss McKenzie's rooms will join in a program as will also Miss Pierce's and Miss Beard's rooms. The high school will have most an impromptu exercise.

Most of the high school pupils were this week treated to a "private interview" because of low grade.

The seniors are now looking into something like a half dozen dramas with a view to making a suitable selection for their annual entertainment.

The Gresham high school baseball team expects to have a game with the Parkside high school team Friday, April 17th, to be played at Gresham. It also has a game in view with a team from Troutdale Friday, April 19, if arrangements can be made.

An enjoyable program was rendered by the literary society of the high school on Friday afternoon. Among the numbers were several two minute speeches by members of the high school, one on the University Appropriation Bill by George Schanting; one on law Enforcement by John Shattuck; Maive Lovelace spoke on the Old-Age Pension and Mark Emery on the Single Tax Question. An interesting debate was given on the question, "Resolved, that capital punishment should be abolished." The affirmative side was won by Kenneth Roberts and Bessie Dalley although the negative was ably supported by Gladys Richey and Roy Johnson.

J. C. SILL, REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR CORNER

In presenting my platform for the consideration of the public, I wish to state the advantages there are in establishing a public morgue. A public morgue will drive out public graft. How so? For the simple reason that it is not connected with an undertaking establishment.

At present we have a candidate in the field who is being strongly supported by an undertaking establishment—but enough said. I leave that to the public in general. I assert here that a public morgue will drive out private graft. I am an independent candidate for the office of county coroner, and I stand independent on these principles: The living shall respect the dead, and we should have a public morgue. A doctor representing the coroner's office is representing some individual undertaking firm. An independent candidate representing the office of county coroner for a public morgue is representing the people, at no cost to the city, but an individual morgue, which belongs to the coroner, and not the city; hence there is no expense to taxpayers. A morgue belonging to the coroner, opened to the public—these are my principles, and they stand independent, creditable for both the living and the dead.

J. C. SILL.

Ticket Strongly Endorsed

Our readers will find in another place in this issue the anti-machine republican platform ticket for two state senators, five representatives and a district attorney. This ticket is endorsed by the Union Republican club of Portland, the strongest political organization in the county, and these candidates stand equally on the platform of the recent republican county convention called by the county central committee, which was elected by the people two years ago. It is opposed to both machine tickets, and is being supported by a large majority of the business men of the county.

It Didn't Work.

Too Much Firewater
Charles Matson was given a little free board and lodging in the city jail the first of the week as a result of becoming intoxicated and lying down to rest in front of a lady's door. Matson came here last Saturday afternoon and begged for a job in the Union Meat company's plant but began drinking Saturday night and Monday noon concluded he'd quit work. It wasn't long before the cop had him then.

Two Ball Games at Troutdale
The Union Meat company's base ball team played their first game this season last Sunday, when they met and defeated the team of the Portland Union Meat company on the Troutdale diamond. It was a close and warmly contested game with a tie at the end of the ninth inning. Two more innings were played making the score 4 to 5 in Troutdale's favor.
The five-inning game between the Gresham Kids and the Troutdale public school boys scored 9 to 10 in Troutdale's favor. Owing to a disagreement of the two teams the game was called off at the end of the 5th inning.

Splendid Record of Ayrshire Cow.
An Ayrshire cow on the Oregon Agricultural college farm produced during her milk period of more than 10 months, just closed, 11,679 pounds of butter fat, equivalent to 544.47 pounds of butter. At an average of 30 cents per pound for butter, her milk yield brought $163.34, exclusively of the skimmed product. The cost of her feed was $40, leaving a net profit of $123.34. She was fed on green alfalfa and a very small ration of bran and rolled barley during the summer.
In winter her diet was 15 pounds of vetch and oat hay, 30 pounds of kale and a grain ration of eight pounds of rolled barley and bran. She is six years old, and was purchased more than a year ago by Mrs. Honeyman of Portland whose farm is on the Columbia, to the north of Portland. Her cost was $150, a concession having been made in the price because of the fact that she was for use at the college.
