Mr. Fairbanks is again about the place, having recovered somewhat from a long siege of rheumatism.

Mrs. Chase has sold her place on Foster road to Mr. Moll.

Mrs. Foster and Mrs. Barton of South Portland spent Saturday with Mrs. Everett.

Preston Mills has sold his property in Lents and will move to a farm at Springfield. Mr. Eply is the new resident on the property.

Postmaster Spring's father has been suffering from rheumatism for some time.

The officers of the library association held a business meeting Tuesday evening. Prosperous conditions are reported and further improvements are being planned.

Some of our friends who are anxious to be voted into Portland are forgetting that annexation will settle the question.

tion by forcing their being corralled all of the time. Any way, we suspect some of them will find other conditions will not be more satisfactory. There is plenty of territory within the city limits without Bull Run water, fire protection or police patrol, except that a mounted police rides this about twice a week. The only advantage we can see ahead is an opportunity to assist the city in paying expenses by taxation rather than by donation and the appearance of making it an object of charity, but it will accept unearned taxes.

S. D. Campbell has been adding a coat of paint to his house and improving its looks by new cornices.

Mrs. Stufins has been quite ill, but is improving.

Reverend Lewis of Oak Grove preached in the Methodist church at Lents, the pastor, Reverend Ingalls, preaching at Boring.

Two sisters of Mrs. Ingalls are here from Indiana to spend the summer.

Is perfectly accomplished only by the

Fan System

- 1 The only system supplying an unlimited supply of fresh air warmed to any desired temperature, under any or all conditions.
- 2 The most economical system by 50 per cent to operate.
- 3 A system by the use of which it is possible to regulate the temperature of any room uniformly.
- 4 The system requiring much less attention and no skilled attendant.

The W. G. McPherson company has recently been awarded the contract for installing their heating and ventilating system in the six new school buildings to be constructed this summer in Portland. This would indicate that the nearly 30 plants now in operation in the Portland school district are giving perfect satisfaction.

Mrs. A. B. Conrad left for Salem Sunday morning to visit a sister who has been reported quite sick.

A large number of the citizens of District No. 10 met at the schoolhouse Thursday evening and listened to a very interesting talk given by Superintendent Robinson on the advancement of good schools. The meeting had been called to discuss the advisability of dividing this large district because a number of the children have over two miles to go to school. Mr. Robinson presented in a very forcible manner the greater advantages obtained from larger units, and suggested that in the future two teachers be employed and a special tax levied to meet the expense. A number of others present spoke along the same line.

W. B. Parsons and his brother-in-law, Mr. Lord, are hauling potatoes to Gresham this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Higgins, who have been employed on the Sweet Briar farm, have moved away and Mr. Lovelace and family from near Damascus have taken their place. We hope their new field of labor will be both pleasant and profitable.

Our undertaking stock will be a surprise to even those of extensive experience and worth a trip to our parlors to see. The building is arranged with a morgue and we will be prepared to take care of the dead as soon as reported. The work will be done by a licensed embalmer and thus relieve the careworn friends and relatives of these overtaxed troubles, an accommodation the people of Gresham have never before experienced. Our funeral car is new and modern, our hack and surry will be fine, our prices will be within the reach of all.

Watch next week's ad for announcement of opening day and our gift to the lucky one that visits our store on that day.
