CITIZENS AND SOLDIERS OBSERVE MEMORIAL DAY

Muster Roll of M. A. Ross Post at Gresham Shows Strong Post and Relief Corps.

The Memorial Day exercises held in the Gresham Baptist church last Saturday, under the direction of the M. A. Ross Post, G. A. R., were well attended by ex-soldiers and citizens. In spite of the heavy showers the church was well filled and the program was carried out very nearly as planned. The program of songs and recitations participated in by the children and young people, and the rousing numbers by the Gresham Concert band, were greatly appreciated by the audience. The chairman of the meeting, Rev. T. J. Ekin, then introduced the speaker of the day, Rev. Jos. Wood, who in a short address reminded his hearers of the meaning of the day and the need at present of the same sturdy patriotism as was shown by those who answered the call to war.

At the conclusion of the exercises the band led the line of march to the cemetery where the graves of soldiers were strewn with flowers. Three soldiers have answered the final call during the year. They are, Merrill Hall, Lorenzo Winters, John Maroon.

The M. A. Ross Post is doing nicely and also the Women's Relief Corps. The following are members of the Post: J. B. Bates, commander; Geo. Knieriem, S. V.; W. T. Sherwood, J. V.; N. L. Judd, chairman; Henry Kane, Q. M.; E. G. Rickett, O. D.; Thomas Ginder, Adjt.; Wm. Perlberg, O. G.; J. G. Stephens, J. C. Branham, Joseph Griffin, Edward Kopper, E. E. Chipman, J. C. Hester, Geo. W. Lockerby, O. Thomas, Miles Blasing, David Wolfe, David McLain.

The officers of the M. A. Ross Relief Corps are, president, Mrs. Maggie Crow; Annie Bates, S. V.; Annie Rickett, J. V.; Clara Kane, secretary; Lillian Chipman, treasurer; Susie Sherwood, chaplain; Isabel Ough, Con.; Hannah Bond, guard; Amanda Johnson, Ass't G.; Hattie Westell, Patriotic instructor; May Emery, Press Cor.

Fine Class Graduates at Orient.

The graduating exercises of the Orient public school were held in the W. O. W. hall, Thursday night, May 28th, and were well attended. The following are the graduates: Ida Larsen, George Anderson, Irene Douglass, Harlow Douglass, Adda Calvin, Louis Hale, Eunice Rook, Peter Larsen, Hazel Harris, Leon Hale, Minnie Shriner, Wm. Wheeler, Helen Brower, Elmer Bankus.

Dr. A. Thompson addressed the class and the following program was given: Music by the Orchestra; Invocation; Singing, "Star Spangled Banner"; Welcome Address, Geo. Anderson; Essay, Adda Calvin; Instrumental Solo, Helen Brower; Class History, Irene Douglass; Recitation, Louis Hale; Music, Orchestra; Class Prophecy, Eunice Rook; Duet, Ida Larsen, Irene Douglass; Valedictory, Ida Larsen; Song; Presenting Diplomas; Class Song; Music, Orchestra.

The school has been very successfully conducted under the principalship of Will Metzger.

The annual school meeting will be held at the schoolhouse on Monday, June 15th, at 2 p. m.

DIED—Mrs. Sarah Clark, aged 67, at her home on the old Kelly homestead, on Wednesday, June 3, 1908. She was the mother of Frank Clark, who was well known in this locality. The burial was in Gresham on Friday, following brief services at the house in Powell Valley. B. W. Emery was the undertaker.

The burial of Mrs. Edwards, daughter of P. K. Williams, took place in Gresham cemetery on Friday, June 5, 1908. Mrs. Edwards died at her home in St. Johns, Ore., on Wednesday. The services at the grave were in charge of Dr. A. Thompson. B. W. Emery had charge of the burial.

GRESHAM GIANTS WALLUP MONTAVILLA

The Giants Hold Montavillans Down to Nothing Until Last Inning.

The Gresham Giants annexed another victory to their record last Sunday when they defeated the Villas of Montavilla on the home diamond. The Gresham batters started the game with four runs and eight safe hits in the first inning, the Villas getting only one hit off Townsend in the same inning. At the end of the fourth inning the Villas put a new pitcher in the box and held things down somewhat.

At the end of the ninth inning the score was 11 to 1 in favor of Gresham. It was a great surprise to the spectators when a Villa man made home in the last half of the ninth inning with two men already down.

The battery of Gresham was Townsend and Marshall. Wirtz, Skarek and Townsend made two-base hits for Gresham. The Villas made a double play on second.

The Giants go to Camas, Wash., Sunday to play the Camas bunch. They are confident of victory although the opposing team is a strong one.

The Northwest Gun company's team of Gresham defeated the Pleasant Home ball tossers on the latter's field last Sunday. The score was six to three in Gresham's favor. Summary: Pleasant Home, bases on balls, 4; strike out, 6. Gresham, bases on balls, 1; two-base hits, 3; strike out, 1. Batteries: Gresham, Buttler and Littlepage; Pleasant Home, Larsen and Larsen. Umpire, Cecil Jack. Next Sunday the Gun company's team play Troutdale at Gresham.

The Making of a Community

(BY GEORGE SHANTEN.)

(Oration delivered at Gresham High School commencement.)

There are four things of paramount importance in the making of a community—the church, the school, the public library and the home. And closely allied to these four elements are the character and extent of the local industries, and the attention given to sanitation and to the beautifying of the community. The church, since it has always been the exponent of civilization, and since it has made possible the school and other influences for good, deserves first consideration here and consideration always equally with the other chief factors that determine the welfare of a community. In many respects the church is the most beneficial institution in a community; for its mission is to inspire and uplift the moral life, and it is upon the moral training very largely that good citizenship depends. It is through the church that the highest and noblest is developed in man's nature, and through the church that the evil and criminal tendencies are eliminated. Hence, as the church is necessary to the maintenance of high moral standing in the community, it should be liberally supported and all mankind should make use of the opportunities thus offered for their self-improvement. Of importance equal to that of the church, and above all others, is the maintenance of good schools. The children of the present will soon be the men and women upon whose fitness will rest the destiny of the nation, and they must be well educated and well trained so that they may perform the part of the good citizen of 20th century standard. The common or grammar school, however, is not alone sufficient. There must be a high school in every community. It is during the high school period of life that the boy and the girl are passing into the state of manhood and womanhood respectively, and this is the time most favorable for the training that adds the most to life's equipment. It is therefore essential that there be a well equipped, well supported, well patronized high school in every community.

Another institution with a great influence for the good of the community is the public library. The library, like the church and the school, has for its aim the improvement of both the moral and the intellectual man. It is based on the theory that no one thing enters more deeply into one's character than do the books he reads, and the library associations are keen, long before the public for the use of the public an abundance of good literature—a literature written by the great thinkers, the great statesmen, the great leaders of all the ages. All who believe in the church or in the school must believe in the library; and all who would have the community make a decided progress, must rally to the support of the library. Broadly speaking, the combined influence of the church and the school has indirectly made the home. But after all the home is the most vital factor in the making of a community. The home is the foundation of all government. The children go to church and attend school but they live in the home. It is there that they spend most of their time from infancy to maturity, and it is there they are subject to an environment, an influence, a training that means their weal or their woe. Their ideas of life are naturally formed very largely from the home surroundings, and they will in the end reflect much of what they have found in the home. Therefore, the home should be a model institution. The home must be both a church and a school; the parents must be real teachers and must be constantly teaching; there must be good books and the books must be used; the home must be neat, clean and attractive, and there should be beautiful and attractive surroundings; the home must be filled with an atmosphere of thoughtful earnestness, good cheer and lofty ideals. If such conditions are brought about, if they are found to exist in all homes, there need be no fear regarding the future of our country, there will be no questions as to the standard of its citizenship. Just such conditions must be encouraged if we are to have a community of the highest order.

A community advances in wealth and increases in population in almost direct ratio to its advancement in its churches, its schools, new and improved buildings, sanitation, streets, beautiful lawns, trees, parks and so forth. Gresham is now an enterprising young town, a town with a promising future; but its future prosperity and standing as a community will depend on what advantages it offers to people in other and less favored climes. It therefore should be the purpose of the people of Gresham to make this town as attractive as possible. They should erect nothing but substantial buildings and should make these slightly; they should paint the old weather-beaten buildings, improve the streets, build new sidewalks, new fences and paint the old ones; they should cultivate nice, beautiful lawns, plant ornamental trees and shrubbery. These things the people of Gresham should do, and more; and then they should encourage the establishment of new industries here, do all they can toward the maintenance of a superior school, give a generous support to the church and the public library, and, above all, make the home so nearly ideal that from the home there could come nothing but the very highest product of American citizenship.

GRESHAM BAND BOYS WILL BUY UNIFORMS

Well-Drilled and Organized 18-Piece Band, Free From Debt—To Give Show.

The Gresham Concert band is making an excellent showing this summer and the citizens of Gresham have good reason to feel proud of the band. Always on the lookout for the best, the boys have recently added a fine melophone (alto) to the band. This new piece is played by Fred Fieldhouse. Dan Talbot has recently purchased a new trombone and two new members have been added recently. This brings the number up to 18 pieces, making it the largest band in this vicinity. It is also a strictly self-supporting band, owning most of its instruments.

The boys are working faithfully in raising funds for the purchase of suitable uniforms which they expect to secure soon.

On June 13th the band will present to the public at Gresham the home-talent show entitled "Vacation," participated in entirely by members of the band. It is said that there is enough real wholesome fun to keep you laughing for a week. It is a big event. There will be Rastus, the negro cook with his ever-flapping jaw; Clancy, the crazy Irishman; old farmer Oladiab, and his half-witted, bashful son Oby; and the dude, Brayton. These will furnish comedy to keep your sides aching with laughter. Add to these, a bank president, a cashier (who turns out a villain), a newspaper reporter, an actor, a tramp, and the hero, acting as mountain guide, former cashier of the bank.

Carlson & Henderson's Opening.

The opening of the new furniture store and undertaking parlors by Messrs. Carlson & Henderson, in the new building on Main street, this week Thursday and Friday, has been a great success. On Thursday alone about 350 persons registered as visitors. Surprise was expressed by everyone at the completeness of the stock, the many elegant pieces of furniture and the well-equipped undertaking rooms. Mr. Henderson, the new member of the firm, is an experienced undertaker, having been with Finley & Sons, Portland, for several years. He is a skillful embalmer and thoroughly understands the directing of funerals. The fine new building and modern stock and equipment is considered a good thing in this growing territory.

Passengers Hurt in Car Wreck.

The first car out from town on the Troutdale extension took a wild leap over the embankment at its Troutdale terminus at about 6:20 Tuesday morning. All four passengers who are employees of the Union Meat company and the conductor were injured but all will probably recover.

Dr. Short was summoned and the injured were cared for first at the home of D. F. Buxton and later at their homes or at the hospital. Dr. Short was ably assisted by Miss Eva Bristol, a trained nurse.

Those in the car were Louis Kummer, Dr. Hancock, Wm. Ashcraft and O. J. Jenkins. Sorlson was conductor and J. H. Tolos motorman. This was the motorman's first trip.

Mrs. Morris Milsted of Orient was in town on Tuesday arranging for a sale at her place on Pipe Line road on June 18th. After the sale she will leave with her family for St. Paul, Minn. Mrs. Milsted's husband was drowned in the Sandy river more than a year ago.

Popular Young Couple Wed

A very pretty wedding occurred at the Catholic church on Tuesday, May 26, the contracting parties being Henry Perret, a popular young business man of Sandy and Miss Anna Kliegel, the esteemed daughter of A. Kiegl of Kelo. The groom was attended by his brother, Arthur Perret and the bridesmaid was Miss Marie Kiegl. Rev. F. Berchtold performed the ceremony according to the rites of the Catholic church.

A large number of relatives and friends of the young couple were present at the church. After the ceremony the party repaired to the Sandy Hotel where a sumptuous breakfast awaited them and from whence the newly wedded couple were driven to the Boring station and took passage for Portland and the Sound cities.

Important Amendments Carried.

The returns show that of the initiative and referendum questions voted on at the election last Monday thirteen carried and seven were lost.

Those carried were the following: Gilnetters' Fish Bill, Recall amendment, Statement No. 1 amendment, Proportional Representation amendment, University Appropriation Bill, Wheelmen's Fish Bill, Port of Portland Bill, Corrupt Practices Bill, Grand Jury amendment, Hood River county Bill, Scattering State Institutions Bill, November Election Bill, Sheriff's Prisoners Feeding Bill.

Those not carried were: Open Town Bill, Single Tax Bill, Compulsory Pass Bill, Armory Appropriation Bill, Woman Suffrage Bill, Legislators' Increased Pay Bill, Supreme Court amendment.

Gov. George Chamberlain delivered to the citizens of Gresham on last Friday one of those little campaign speeches which doubtless helped to secure for him that coveted majority. The governor dined at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Shattuck.

GRESHAM CITIZENS INSPECT RICH MINES

Go Junketing to Baker City Mines Where the "Yellow Stuff" Waits for Man.

D. M. Roberts and wife, Lewis Shattuck and wife and Ed Sletet and wife returned last Friday from a week's trip to Baker City where Mr. Roberts has interest in some mines. The whole party had a right good time and returned very enthusiastic over the outlook. It is said that several Gresham citizens are interested in mines in this vicinity.

The mine they went to see is the Cardinal Quartz mine at head of the famous Stice's Gulch, about 15 miles from Baker City. The mines are in course of development. A new strike has recently been made of a vein of free milling ore of decomposed quartz. Our citizens have reason to consider this property very promising and think it will become the new Eldorado of the West.

Gresham Athletes Commended.

In speaking of the recent track meet between the Gresham High school and the St. John's High school the St. John's Review says:

"Of course we are sorry that Gresham's pretty girls and fine young fellows should come over here and carry away so many of the honors; but there is one consolation, they were taken by one of the brightest and nicest aggregations of young people that has visited St. John's in a long time and we sincerely congratulate them upon the fine showing they made here."
