FAIR AND FESTIVAL WILL BE BIG EVENT

Has the Support, Location and Backing That Will Make It Monster Affair.

Preparations for this year's Grange Fair and Festival, to be held at Gresham, October 6-10, are being pushed rapidly forward and the exhibits and other attractions promise to surpass the splendid fair and carnival of last year.

A beautiful site of nine acres has been secured and is being laid out for a park. Workmen have begun the erection of the buildings. The main pavilion will be 60 x 150 feet, two stories. It will be well constructed and floored, affording nearly three times the exhibit room of last year's temporary pavilion which was over-crowded with exhibits. A large poultry house and stock sheds will be built, besides a grandstand, offices, etc.

With new grounds, new and substantial buildings, and permanent financial backing, every citizen of Portland and of the surrounding country has reason to expect a great Fair at Gresham and the management is determined to bring it about.

Webb Farm to Have Exhibit at Salem

S. P. Cope of the Webb farm will go to Salem with a carload of Lincoln sheep and Poland-China hogs for exhibit at the State fair. These are some of the best products of the Webb farm and will catch the eyes of the judges. This is the first exhibit of these breeds by the Webb farm. Entries will also be made for the Portland Livestock show and Gresham Grange fair.

Cedar Grove Farm Will Exhibit.

Chas. Cleveland and Chas. E. Cleveland, of Cedar Grove Farm, Gresham, will make an exhibit of fine blooded stock again this year at the State Fair at Salem.

This is the tenth year that they have displayed their specialties at Salem and other fairs of the Northwest circuit. They have been successful for several years in winning many premiums, having had the champion sheep and hogs, over all classes, at leading recent fairs.

This year the Cleveland's are taking to the Fair 25 head of Shropshire sheep, 20 head of Essex hogs and a few registered Jerseys. These will represent the best of breeding and careful selection and will likely carry off the prizes.

Narrow Escape

Robert Doane's woodsawing crew, while engaged in sawing wood at Frank Gibb's place Thursday, first escaped a dangerous accident by falling wood, and afterward a horse twisted around, backed up and got its tail caught on the balance wheel shaft which was rapidly turned into a spool of horse tail. After some difficulty the machine was stopped and the horse saved the embarrassment of losing its tail, though that useful member looked somewhat the worse for the experience. We might enlarge at length but want of space prevents.

Consult the Want Ads. on last page.

THE FURROW WILL BE BIG ATTRACTION

Amusement Section of Coming Fair Promises to Surpass All Expectations.

The amusement section of the coming fair and festival will again be known as "The Furrow," and it will not be a "dead furrow" either. The management already has enough concessions in view to make it three times the size of last year's event.

None but clean, interesting, and instructive shows will be permitted, among some of them being a large merry-go-round, a 20-cage menagerie, minstrel show, moving picture show, glass-blowing show and many real interesting side shows and exhibits.

Large crowds are expected to throng the Furrow and every accommodation possible will be provided for their benefit. Last year the furrow was crowded, this year it will be three times larger and still be crowded. Remember the date, five days, October 6-10.

COTTRELL

Samuel Langdon has sold his place of 26 acres for $2500. He will vacate September 15th.

Mr. Borgman's daughter broke her arm by falling from a swing. She is doing nicely.

Mr. Minos and family of Portland are visiting in this locality.

Hannah Hedin is at home on a short visit.

The boys are polishing up their rifles and shotguns for the opening of game season.

It is expected that Rev. Coleman of Seattle who preached last Sunday at Cottrell will preach also next Sunday.

The rumor that Mr. Manary had sold his farm is discredited.

Dell Hudson had an accident which demolished his wagon wheels, but no one was injured.

Miss Rutherford of Lents will teach the juvenile room of the Cottrell public school.

The new schoolhouse is now complete and the old building has been sold and will be removed.

Stillman Andrews found a bee tree in which he got 80 pounds of honey.

Cemetery Association Meeting

There will be a meeting of the Douglas Cemetery association Monday evening, Sept. 14, at 7:30, in Fox's hall, Troutdale, for the election of officers and any other necessary business. W. H. Coons, president, C. P. Brooks, secretary-treasurer.

Holsman-Endicott Wedding

The Herald is pleased to announce the wedding of Mrs. Eva Endicott, a teacher in the Troutdale school, to Mr. Holsman of Portland. The wedding occurred on Wednesday evening at Grace M. E. church, Portland. Rev. Mr. Herpe officiating. The newlyweds will reside at 104 South Main street, Arleta. Mrs. Endicott will teach in the Troutdale school this year.

GRESHAM ENJOYING BUILDING ACTIVITY

Within Year Buildings Aggregating Thousands of Dollars Have Gone Up.

The steady building activity that has been prevalent in Gresham the last year still continues. The latest developments along this line are: a two-story cottage in Thompson's addition built by Mr. Risher, another modern cottage in Thompson's addition built by Dr. A. Thompson, a two-story residence on Roberts avenue on the S. B. Johnson tract built by C. L. Crenshaw, a substantial residence on the old Sleret tract built by S. Thompson, a cottage in Regner's addition built by Frank Gibbs, a cottage on Roberts avenue built by Mrs. L. Lusted, a two-story grain warehouse, 45 x 50, adjoining depot built by Carl Shattuck, a warehouse and office 100 x 60 built by the new Real Estate and Exchange company, a two-story store, 50 x 100 built by Geo. Houston, and the building of the Fair buildings.

These buildings are all first-class structures, aggregating thousands of dollars invested. These buildings are all under course of construction except one or two which will be built soon.

Conveyances will be provided to take the people from the station to the hall.

THE MT. SCOTT WASHING COMPOUND

Bears Acquaintance. Mrs. Melvina Adams says: "I cannot speak too highly in recommending your Mt. Scott Washing Compound, either for washing or as a helper. My baby was cured of a very sore head by using a 1/2 teaspoonful of compound to a quart of water. As a cleaner it is equal to three times its bulk of any other substance."

TRIES TO BARGAIN OFF HIRED TEAM

Hires Team of Local Stables With Purpose of Making "Easy Money."

Last Wednesday a stranger walked into Emery's livery barn and in an authoritative "man-of-the-world" tone ordered a team and rig "to drive down to the reservoir." When night came neither rig nor man returned, and the same story next day. Not knowing the man, Emery phoned to Sheriff Stevens who proceeded to investigate the case.

It seems the fellow decided not to stop at the reservoir but drove on into Portland, took his friends out for a drive and then put the team up at the Lion livery barn where he offered to sell the team and buggy for $200. In the morning he called for the team and told the stable man he hadn't money enough to pay for the team then but that that he was a particular friend of the Ladds, and that he was going out to their farm and would get some money, when he would return and pay the bill. Suspecting the fellow and recognizing the team as that of Emery's, they told him they would keep the team for security. After arguing in vain the fellow departed without the team and has not been heard of since. Sheriff Stevens located the team and sent word to Emery who went down and secured them.

Sandy Valley Fruitgrowers Will Meet

There will be a big meeting of the Sandy Valley Fruitgrowers' Association on Saturday, September 19th at 2:30 p. m., in Junker's hall. It is desired that all members be present as arrangements for a display at the Fair will be the topic of interest.

FIFTEEN STREET LIGHTS ORDERED BY COUNCIL

Gresham Inhabitants Will Soon Walk Streets Illuminated With Electricity.

The committee on electric lights for the streets have completed their list and location and will secure this needed improvement in time for the fair. The lights are placed where it is thought they will serve the inhabitants best and where the electricity poles are nearest.

They are to be 32-candle power and will be located as follows: On Powell street—one at the Grange hall, the M. E. church and one at Manning's place. On Roberts avenue, south—one at the bridge and one on the corner of the Lawrence tract. On Roberts avenue, north—one at Roberts avenue and Second street; Roberts avenue, corner Third street; Roberts avenue, corner Fourth street. On Hood avenue—one at B. W. Emery's residence; one at Fifth and Hood avenue; one on Third at Wirtz' corner. On Main street—one on the corner of Second, Third and Fourth streets. On Fifth street—one at Browning's corner.

Gresham Methodist church some time this month.

Lewis Shattuck, Ed Sleret and Chas. Buchell of Portland will leave Monday for a 16-day's sojourn and hunting trip on the Clackamas river near Clackamas Lake. At Welches they will be joined by C. W. Kern, W. Weich and Chris. Minsinger.

Mrs. Crenshaw is reported as resting well. She underwent an operation last week for cancer, and it may be some time before recovering from the affliction.

The Portland Railway, Light & Power company will furnish lights for the fair grounds and make a large display.

E. Coleman attended the meeting of the Fair Board on Thursday evening at Gresham.

MAIN FAIR BUILDING IS RISING RAPIDLY

Over One Thousand Electric Lights Will Give Buildings Look of Splendor.

The main building of the Fair association is taking form. Cement piers have been made upon which the superstructure will rest. Already all of the heavy sills have been laid and most of the floor joists. The immense size of the structure is beginning to be appreciable. A large force of men are at work and others will be engaged.

Wires for the 1000 lights required for the grounds and buildings will be connected soon.

We might state in this connection that the American Amusement company, alone, use 200 lights. Plans are maturing for poultry sheds, sheep sheds and barns for horses and cattle. Tomorrow an agent of the Portland Railway Light and Power company will look over the ground and lay out trunk lines for lighting the tank of burning oil. The big plantation show, the house where the people go crazy, the glass blowers, and a lot of other things as yet unassigned will require several hundred lights.

A large number of special prizes are already in sight. A Meyers' spray pump, Meyers' Hay Carrier, cattle stanchions, cultivators, Moline Walking Plow, gold watch and chain, Narrow cart, Junior Studebaker wagon, a feed cutter, a potato digger, a 5-gallon pecker for ice cream freezer, etc. A complete list and their donors will be given later. By the way, these are the prizes secured by one member of the committee. What the other members have done has not been reported at length. Mrs. Kromenber, of the department of music and art, has secured a number of very desirable prizes. Then there will be a large number of cash prizes given and the association will offer a large number of cash prizes—$1500.00 in cash prizes and attractions.

first of the week and while here visited at The Herald office.

Robert Walker has returned home from eastern Oregon.

Miss Jennie Metzger spent last week visiting friends in Portland.

Carl Shattuck is erecting a substantial two-story grain warehouse on his property adjoining the O. W. P. railroad track. It will be 45x55 feet and will be finished soon.

Dr. A. Thompson, pastor of the Methodist church, will resign his pastorate the 23rd of September. Together with his son Ernest he will form an exchange and real estate company, and intends to build a large warehouse and office building.

WAYS TO LOSE MONEY

THROUGH A LEAKY POCKET

but not as much as through an indisposition to save
LOOK HERE YOUNG MAN you who are still at school—you who are ready to make a start in life. Suppose the President of a large manufacturing concern, a wholesale firm, a transportation company, should step up to you and say "I need a man to manage my business who can lay aside a little more for the stockholders to whom I will pay $300 per month." He almost invariably picks on a man who has made his way from youth. Suppose he should ask "how have you succeeded this far in life? Have you laid aside any portion of your income?" Could you say to him that you had? If not you could not even hope that he would stop to consider you.

Thousands are filling such positions and started early in life on the principal of laying aside each day, each month a portion of this income which became a resource to them. The demand for such men is greater today than ever before. There is no better way to accomplish this than depositing your whole income in a good bank and pay by check being careful to see that your reserve increases. At regular intervals you can draw on reserve and place on time deposit on which we pay 4 per cent interest.
