PLEASANT VALLEY IS FORGING TO THE FRONT

On Every Hand Building and Clearing is Going on—Ideal Fruit Section Here.

Pleasant Valley, situated three miles west of Gresham, is experiencing a very rapid and substantial growth at present. Real estate is advancing in value, newcomers are settling in the valley and are building and clearing, making new homes and helping to develop the section.

Connected by telephone, rural free delivery, electric railway and good wagon roads with Gresham, this valley is in a way to become one of the richest sections of the state. In many places where the dense forest once held full sway, man has erected his house and converted the land into fields of grain, orchards and clover pastures. The land is very productive, yielding big crops of hay, grain, fruit and vegetables. Fruit grown on the farms of J. Z. Olsen and Gus Richey carried of many prizes at the Grange Fair this fall.

Poultry raising and dairying have become very profitable in the valley and several fine poultry farms and some big dairy farms are seen here. Lumbering and logging still holds its pace here and the sawmills of F. Heiney and J. Wing are doing a good business and turning out a high-grade of lumber.

The farmer has every advantage, a general merchandise store, a meat shop, a public hall, a union church and a two room schoolhouse being located in convenient places. The school is conducted jointly by Multnomah and Clackamas counties, part of the district lying in Multnomah county and part in Clackamas county, and has two teachers and a good attendance.

To many, who have not visited the valley recently, a drive over it would be revelation and well worth the time. On every hand the farmers are busy clearing and otherwise improving their farms.

John Thomas has about 25 acres of land cleared and ready for the plow, which adds materially to his large farm. C. Kesterson and many others whose names were not learned, are clearing and thus helping to make the once wooded valley, that in years past was one of the most favorite hunting grounds and rendezvous of the Red Man, one of Oregon's richest "garden spots."

CARD OF THANKS.

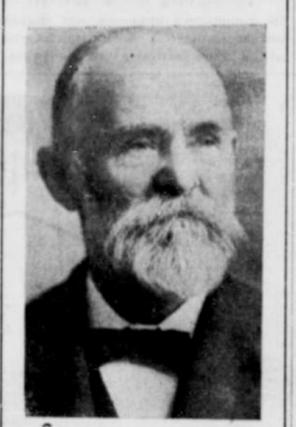

The sons and daughters of Mrs. Luanna Stanley, deceased, wish to express their appreciation of and thanks for the many kindnesses shown them and their mother during her recent illness and the ceremonies attending the funeral.

Attend This Grange Entertainment

Multnomah Grange will give an entertainment in their newly purchased hall at Orient on Saturday, Oct. 24th, at 8 p. m. Talent from Portland, Gresham, Rockwood, Fairview, Sandy, and local will be present. The Grange is growing and must be recognized. Our program will be a promising one. Don't forget the date.

OLD-TIME SETTLER PASSES TO HIS REST

John Q. A. Hurlburt, ex-County Surveyor and railroad engineer, died yesterday morning at 3 o'clock at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Wablemar Seton, on the Milwaukie road. He had been sick for some time. The funeral will be held at Gresham on the arrival of the special car, which leaves Portland at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

The Late J. Q. A. Hurlburt.

Mr. Hurlburt was born December 12, 1833, in Munceytown, then an Indian village of Canada, and in 1844 he removed with his parents to the Indian Territory, where he became an expert in the Indian ways and language. Until 12 years of age, he had never been inside of a school-house, but he was proficient in the English language. In 1855 he joined a surveying party, and in 1862 enlisted in the Union Army as a member of Company K, Thirty-sixth Iowa Volunteer Infantry and was mustered out in 1865 as captain.

He was one of the pioneers of eastern Multnomah, living in what is known as the Hurlburt district east of Gresham for many years.

Mr. Hurlburt was elected County Surveyor in 1898, 1900 and 1902. He was a member of Fairview Lodge No. 92, A. F. & A. M. His wife to whom he was married in 1857, died a year ago. They had nine children, the following surviving: Thomas M., ex-City Surveyor of Portland; Deady, John and George of Portland; Mrs. Isabella Sill, of Spokane, Wash., and Mrs. Waldemar Seton of Portland. Mr. Hurlburt's health has been failing since the death of his wife.

Gresham Young People Wed.

A wedding of unusual interest occurred at the home of the groom, at Gresham, last Wednesday evening when Miss Jessie Francis was united in marriage to Mr. Clarence Cathey, in the presence of a company of about seventy-five of the young couple's friends. Rev. W. N. Coffey, of the Free Methodist Church, officiated. The bride's mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Spain of Portland, were present; also the groom's parents, Rev. and Mrs. David Cathey.

The occasion was one of pleasing interest to the large company of young people who have been associates of the bride and groom. Invited guests from Portland, Lutsels and Gresham were present. Following the ceremony, which was brief and simple, a light lunch of ice cream and cake was served. A large number of very valuable presents were received. Mr. and Mrs. Cathey received the congratulations of a host of friends.

THE FAIR WON MANY FAVORABLE COMMENTS

Visitors From Far and Near All Spoke Favorably About Big Exposition.

The following article was written for last week's issue but there were so many things to tell that the office matter was laid aside until some occasion when there was less to do and more time.

It is not necessary to tell our readers in detail of the plan and displays made at the fair. Most of them attended and the matter of more important interest, the premium list, has occupied so much space that it will be impossible to relate in full the features of the exhibits. The horticultural display was a surprise to every visitor. Not one-tenth of the visitors knew that such fruit could be or was being grown as was here on display. Much credit was due the superintendents, Messrs. Coleman and Smith for the taste with which their display was arranged and the care with which it was attended.

Ray Gill's agricultural department showed up in fine shape. Punks? Yes, and then some.

The domestic science department was very ably handled by Mrs. Vail and Mrs. Wendle. Preserved fruit, baking, fancy work, quilts and so on without seeming limit met your eye. We would like to specialize on some of these exhibits, but we must call a halt somewhere. The county exhibit by A. F. Miller and E. F. Emery was finely arranged and was an excellent display of the agricultural resources of the county.

The art department owes its success to the able efforts of Miss Clara Webb and Mrs. Kronenberg. They managed to get together a fine collection of considerable merit. It took work and patience but it was done and well done.

Miss Culy had charge of the industrial art department, and the display of juvenile ingenuity was both surprising and interesting. A steam engine, by Earl Thompson; boy's wagon, by Clarence Browning; push-mobile by Chase St. Clair were among the best examples of boyish effort. The girls came in for their share of praise by exhibiting dressed dolls and fancy work.

The educational department devoted itself to potatoes and pop-corn. Few entries were made and little interest was shown. The superintendent, Mr. Robinson, was not on the spot.

The department of dairying was managed by Mr. Rasmussen. Dairy tests were made and results compared. Opportunity was given to see the work as handled by expert dairymen.

Charles Cleveland had charge of the horse show. A large number of good animals were entered. The prize list will show the results as decided by able judges. Mr. Cleveland's department deserves more lengthy notice, but it is simply impossible to give the names of all the entries and therefore it is better not to begin it. Mr. Fred Hogg had a nice exhibit of cattle and hogs. However, entries were not made for some of the best prizes. We will give his list of awards next week. Some very fine specimens of Polled Angus, Hereford, Jersey, Brown Swiss and Shorthorn cattle were on exhibit and the sheep and hog pens were well representative of local grazing interests.

Among the private exhibitors were Sherman, Clay & Co. and Eiler's piano houses; DeLaval and Munroe & Criseld dairy supplies; Carlson & Henderson, furniture dealers; Clossett & Devers, C. L. Ross & Co., Mitchell, Lewis & Staver Jonserd Bros., the Butte Boy's Con. M. Co., the F. B. Stuart millinery display, and C. L. Crenshaw's display of plumbing and toilet supplies, every one creditable exhibit.

The following report covers receipts and expenditures to Oct. 14th. Much has been paid since on obligations and about $100 can be added to receipts.

Excellent Program by Granges.

A pleasing program was rendered Saturday evening, October 17, 1908, under the auspices of Woodlawn and Pleasant Valley Granges combined, at the Gresham Fair. The program was as follows:

- Violin Solo..... Valtie Shushall
- Double Quartet..... Woodlawn Grange
- Reading..... Madeline Angell
- From the Gillespie School of Expression
- Song "Fortune Teller"..... Woodlawn Grange
- Reading..... Mr. Shoemaker
- Solo..... Mr. Rutledge
- Ladies' Quartet..... Woodlawn Grange
- Reading..... Mr. Claude Hicks
- From the Gillespie School of Expression
- Comic Song and Dance..... Mr. Will Thompson
- Basso Solo..... Mr. Scuggill
- Sword Dance..... Mr. Raney
- Trio..... Woodlawn Grange
- Show Tree Dance (Scottish)..... Mr. Hood
- Piano Solo..... Miss Emily Anderson

Several of the numbers need special mention. The bass solo by Mr. Scuggill of Woodlawn was very fine. The sword dance by Mr. Raney, Show Tree dance by Mr. Hood and comic song and dance by Mr. Will Thompson, talent of Pleasant Valley Grange, were very fine and something out of the ordinary, also the readings by Miss Madeline Angells and Mr. Claude Hicks were both of a very high order and were well received. As a whole the program was well rendered and thanks are extended to those who helped to make it a success.

TAFT CLUB FOUNDED IN GRESHAM FRIDAY

Capt. Mahone of Portland Addressed Meeting—Prof. C. Baker Chairman.

At the meeting of Republican voters of Gresham on the evening of October 19, for the formation of a Taft club, Prof. C. C. Baker was elected chairman and E. E. Marshall secretary of the temporary organization. After a stirring address by Capt. Mahone of Portland in which he capably dissected the fallacies and inconsistencies of Bryanism and eloquently and logically expounded Republican doctrines, the temporary organization was made permanent and Geo. Kenney and B. W. Emery made first and second vice presidents and Peter Michel, treasurer.

At the call for members to sign the roll, nine-tenths of the voters present crowded forward in response which supplies the club with a good strong membership from the beginning.

The crowded house which greeted Capt. Mahone, who by the way is a veteran of the Spanish war, having been with Roosevelt at Santiago ten years ago and is a member of the coming legislature, gives evidence of the fact that the Taft policies are certainly and quietly permeating this vicinity and finding favor with great numbers of our citizens.

Miss Caldwell, one of Portland's coming sopranos and her equal able piano accompanist, pleased the audience with their selections, many of the club members, at the close of the program, expressing approval of the music.

E. E. MARSHALL, Secretary.

MRS. STANLEY DIES AFTER SHORT ILLNESS

Luanna C. Warden was born in Missouri, August 13, 1824 and died October 21, 1908, at the home of her son, J. M. Stanley, aged 84 years 2 mo. and 8 days.

She was married to Harris Stanley on August 13, 1844. He died in Wyoming 17 years ago. To them were born ten children, eight of whom, W. P. Stanley of Burnett, Texas; Catherine Harmon and J. M. Stanley of Gresham; James, Albert and J. A. Stanley of Buffalo, Wyo.; Mrs. L. C. Cover, of Thermopolis, Wyo.; now in Portland; and Julia A. Sherard of Thermopolis, are still living.

She crossed the plains from Missouri in 1852, living in Oregon twenty years, then going to Wyoming, where she had resided until recently, when she returned to Oregon.

She has been a member of the Methodist church for twenty-five years. She had just recently come to visit her relatives near Portland, soon after which the illness occurred which resulted in her death.

The funeral was held Thursday at the Baptist church, Rev. Paronagian officiating. The ceremonies and interment were by Carlson and Henderson.
