

The Mission

Of those corpuscles in your blood that have been called "Little Soldiers," is to fight for you against the disease germs that constantly endanger your health. These corpuscles are made healthy and strong by the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla.

This medicine is a combination of more than 30 different remedial agents in proportions and by a process known only to ourselves and it has for thirty years been constantly proving its worth. No substitute, none "just-as-good."

Her Objection.

"I wish my dentist wasn't so realistic," said Mrs. Jenner Lee Oudgo. "He calls his dental parlor his drawing room."

PILES CURED IN 6 TO 14 DAYS
PAZO OINTMENT is guaranteed to cure any case of Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles in 6 to 14 days or money refunded. 50c.

Happy Engagement.

"It's a good thing that man wants but little here below," remarked the home-grown philosopher.

"Because why?" queried the youth.
"Because that's all there is left after woman gets what she wants," answered the philosophy generator.

Making It Pleasant for Him.

"Gentlemen," said the toastmaster at the banquet, "we have listened to some excellent orators this evening and I am sure we have enjoyed their efforts very much. I have purposely kept one of our best speakers for the last, and after you have heard him I know you will be glad to go home. Gentlemen, I have the honor to present Mr. Ketchum A. Cummin, who will now address you."—Chicago Tribune.

About Right.

A boy was asked to explain the difference between animal instinct and human intelligence. "If we had instinct," he said, "we should know everything we needed to know without learning it; but we've got reason, and so we have to study ourselves 'most blind, or be a fool."—Universalist Leader.

Eminent Statesman—I certainly do, young man. That's why I have a revolving chair in my office.

Not Worth While.

"Don't you think, Mr. Sply," said the boss, "you might as well take off your hat?"
"What's the use?" asked the new man, who was filling a temporary vacancy in the clerical department. "I'm only going to hold this job two weeks."

More Humane.

"They tell me, Mr. Smithers," simpered the fluffy young thing, "that you are quite a lady killer."
"They do me an injustice, upon my word, Miss Giggley," responded the gallant old beau, laying his hand on his heart and making a profound bow; "I catch 'em alive."

Far Apart.

"Miss Easton," said the hostess, "this is Mr. Weston."
"Delighted to know you, Miss Easton," said the young man. "Nominally, however, we seem to be antipodes."
"Actually, too, perhaps, Mr. Weston," she answered, so distantly that he instantly felt himself to be 12,500 miles away.

Absent-Minded Alderman.

A Lynn (Mass.) alderman at a recent aldermanic meeting inquired what had become of an order he had introduced some time before calling for an are light on Willow street. The city clerk, after digging into his files, informed him that the order had come before the board nearly a month previous and that he had voted against it.

Must Be Hard Work.

In Russia there is a cheap reaping machine which has a reel, but no automatic rake. A man sits on the platform and rakes off the grain with a pitchfork. The name of this machine is "lobogreika," and since "lobo" means "brow," and "greika" is "a heater," the whole can be translated "brow-sweater."

Old Favorites

Beautiful Snow.

Oh, the snow, the beautiful snow,
Filling the sky and the earth below;
Over the housetops, over the streets,
Over the heads of the people you meet;
Dancing, flirting, swimming along,
Beautiful snow, it can do nothing wrong,
Flying to kiss a fair lady's cheek,
Clinging to lips in a frolicsome freak,
Beautiful snow, from the heavens above,
Pure as an angel and fickle as love.

Oh, the snow, the beautiful snow,
How the flakes gather and laugh as they go,
Whirling along in its maddening fun;
It plays in its glee with everyone,
Chasing, laughing, hurrying by,
It lights up the face and it sparkles the eye;
And even the dogs with a bark and bound
Snap at the crystals that eddy around.
The town is alive and its heart's in a glow
To welcome the coming of beautiful snow.

How the wild crowd goes swaying along,
Hailing each other with humor and song,
How the gay sledges like meteors flash by,
Bright for a moment, then lost to the eye,
Ringing, swinging, dashing they go
Over the crest of the beautiful snow,
Snow, so pure when it falls from the sky,
To be trampled in mud by the crowd rushing by,
To be trampled and tracked by the thousands of feet
Till it blends with the horrible filth in the street.

Once I was pure as the snow, but I fell;
Fell, like the snowflakes, from heaven to hell;
Fell, to be trampled as the fish of the street;
Fell, to be scooped, to be spit on and beat;
Pleading, cursing, dreading to die,
Selling my soul to whoever would buy,
Dealing in shame for a morsel of bread,
Hating the living and fearing the dead,
Merciful God, have I fallen so low
And yet I was once like this beautiful snow?

Once I was fair as the beautiful snow,
With an eye like its crystals, a heart like its glow;
Once I was loved for my innocent grace,
Flattered and sought for the charm of my face,
Father, mother, sisters, all,
God and myself I have lost by my fall,
The veriest wretch that goes shivering by
Will take a wide sweep lest I wander too high
For all that is on or about me I know
There is nothing that's pure, but the beautiful snow.

How strange it should be that this beautiful snow
Should fall on a sinner with nowhere to go,
How strange it would be when the night comes again
If the snow and the ice struck my desperate brain;
Fainting, freezing, dying alone,
Too wicked for prayer, too weak for my moan
To be heard in the crash of the crazy town
Gone mad in its joy that the snow's coming down
To lie and to die in my terrible woe,
With a bed and a shroud of the beautiful snow.
—J. W. Watson.

Everybody Lucky.

An old farmer of the County of Durham called at a roadside public house where he was well known. The landlady asked him to buy a ticket for a lottery they had on there.

"Well," he said, "I have naught in my pocket, or I might."
"Oh, that's a' reet, John," she says; "take the ticket and pay for it any time."

Some time later John called again and the landlady asked him if he knew who had won the lottery.

"No," he said, "who won?"
"Well, hardly durst tell you, but our Sam won. Wasn't he lucky?"

"Aye," said John, "he was lucky. And who was second, then?"
"I durst hardly tell you. Who would you think now?" she said.

"I couldn't say," said John.
"Well, it was our Sally. Wasn't she lucky?"

"Aye, she was lucky," said John, "and who was third?" he asked.
"Well," she said, "you would never guess, and I might as well tell. I was third. Wasn't I lucky?"

"You were," he said. "Did I ever pay you for that ticket, missus?"
"No, John, you didn't," she said, fawning upon him.

"Well," said John, "isn't I lucky?"

The Better Part.

A delightful little story is told of Prosper Merimee, the French author. He was once guest at a royal hunt, when hares, pheasants and other game were driven before the emperor and his followers, and the servants picked up the victims of the sport.

Among all the members of the hunting party, Prosper Merimee alone had no trophy to display.

"How does this happen?" asked some one.
"Where game is so plenty, the merit of a marksman seems to me to lie in hitting nothing," replied Merimee, with grave courtesy, "so I fired between the birds."

Rural Telephones

Do you realize that rural telephones, more than anything else, tend to increase the earning power of every farm and farmer? Do you realize that

ALL of the material needed to build the very best rural telephone line—exactly the same as the Bell Company puts up—will cost you and your neighbors less than half a bale of cotton or twenty bushels of wheat each?

Over 4,000,000 Western Electric Telephones

are in use in the United States to-day. We made the first telephones and we have made the most—in fact, we have made more than all other manufacturers combined.

We have brought the rural telephone within the reach of every farmer, and with our Free Bulletins before him a boy can install and operate the system. Our telephones are guaranteed.

Cut out this advertisement, write your name and address on the margin and mail it to-day so that the Free Bulletins, which describe the entire plan in detail, may be sent you immediately.
