EDITORIAL COMMENT

WE PUBLISHED last week a short paragraph about the road work centered around Kelly Butte and commented on the dissatisfaction about the work. While we have not been able to personally investigate all the complaints made, we learn that much of the complaint made is probably due to jealousy and by disappointed job-hunters. Perhaps we may be able to give more definite information later as to the road work. Personally we have never seen any cause for such complaints as are being made, and those who have been dissatisfied with the conduct of affairs at the Butte should be reminded that the authorities have recently made changes in the management at that place that appear to be quite satisfactory. To see just how things look, we called at the County boarding house last Saturday and inspected the whole thing—kitchen, "bedrooms," dining room, and the inclosure that serves for the field of activities. There seemed to be no serious difficulties in the way of a fairly comfortable, healthful place to live. No one works hard, there are no bosses to hurry up the "workmen" and everything appears to be moving along smoothly. The men mingle freely with one another, talk, joke, and to all appearances are there for wages. Some of them move slowly while others show more energy in getting the work done, yet this free and easy way gets out about 140 cubic yards of gravel a day. There is no hardship in the work whatever, it is far more agreeable than sitting in the County boarding house private room, and of course much better for the boarder's health. If a man refuses to work he is forced to do so indirectly. He has the option of working or going hungry, or possibly going somewhere else. Judging from the looks of the men they are enjoying pretty good health. They have good food, baker's bread, meat, vegetables, soup, coffee, tea or water, and it seems to be served in good shape.

ten or fifteen dollars a day, and others that probably never earned ten or fifteen cents a day. It was a surprise to us that a nephew of Stanford White, the victim of the Thaw tragedy, occupies a couch at Multnomah County's expense. No doubt there are other equally surprising surprises as this surprise.

OUR ATTENTION has frequently been called to careless references to ladies of our acquaintance and oftentimes to women whom we have known only by repute. Men who are accustomed to speak lightly of the women of their acquaintance are not a credit to any community. No good is ever done by a remark that reflects on the good intentions of any woman or on her proper conduct. It is much to be regretted that some women are not as careful as they should be and the fact leads men to be frequently suspicious of others. But there is a tendency to say far more than is warranted and pass remarks that are based wholly on hearsay. It requires much time and careful conduct to build a good reputation, the most priceless property any man or woman can ever possess. Character and reputation are assets that have no equals in the social or business world, and the man who assaults a woman's reputation might better strike her in the face, for he does her a more lasting harm. Such a man is a blaguard in thought and a thief in heart. Women are fully as good as men. There is less of the ungoverned animal in them. This is evidenced by the large families many weakly women are caused to rear. Large families are all right by mutual consent, but too often the man is responsible wholly for the misery of the overburdened home.

Another feature of this question is the tendency of some men to speak unfavorably of their relations with neighboring women. Any man who will associate with his lady friends and then speak discreditably of them for granting privileges of questionable propriety should be ostracized from society. He is too brazenly to associate even with beasts, for, having selected his companion, he repudiates her for the very qualities he has sought and encouraged. Such a man deserves not only the contempt of women, but of every home loving, respectable man, and his recital of wrong doings should call forth ready rebuke wherever he attempts his degenerate reflections on the purity of woman-kind. All of this only emphasizes the importance of high ideals in all young women and mothers, for with the unquestionable character of a pure woman all the world is made better.

GRANGE NEWS
Evening Star Grange met Saturday, March 6, with the usual attendance of members and visitors. The announcement of the death of John H. Johnson was made and suitable memorial resolutions were passed. Evening Star Grange was invited to take charge of the funeral services at Multnomah Cemetery of the late Thomas Snashall, a member of Pleasant Valley Grange, on Sunday March 7. The lecture hour consisted of the following very interesting program: Dust, Windle brothers; an excellent paper on School Hygiene was read by Sister Lettie Peterson; Personal Hygiene by Miss Florence Sonnerfelt; and The School as the Social Center by Mrs. Sadie Dunbar. Bro. Ray Gill of Russellville Grange gave a very interesting talk and demonstration of the Proper Method of the Cultivation of the Soil. His talk was illustrated with drawings showing the improper ways of plowing also the proper method so as to bring good results. Saylor Smith read an excellent paper on Livestock as a Factor in Successful Agriculture. Bro. J. D. Lee conducted an instructive parliamentary drill as outlined by the Bulletin. Music furnished by the Hart sisters was very sweet.

Asks If Gresham Has a Pitcher.
Portland, Ore., March 8, 1909.—Editor Beaver State Herald: I hear that Gresham is to have a baseball team. Would they like to get a pitcher? If they have one, is he a good pitcher? Please answer through the columns of your paper, and oblige.
JOE ANDERSON.

Card of Thanks.
We desire to thank the brothers and sisters of the Order who have so fraternally assisted during the illness and at funeral of our son and brother, Thomas N. Snashall, and who have so generously shown their sympathies in our bereavement. Our thanks are particularly due the members of Pleasant Valley and Evening Star Granges for their kindness in all our sorrows.
MR. and MRS. H. W. SNASHALL,
MARY SNASHALL,
VALENTINE SNASHALL,
VIOLET SNASHALL,
MYRTLE SNASHALL.

Card of Thanks.
I take this opportunity to express my gratitude to the many friends who so kindly assisted during the sickness of my late husband.

Anent Bill No. 139.
To the Editor Beaver State Herald:
Just a word in regard to this late legislative epoch which has passed leaving on record one of the most infamous bills that ever disgraced a session, namely, the one presented by Altman, a man who must be an avowed enemy of the farmer. No man would present such a bill who expects future recognition from the men whose living he has menaced, whose stock he has deprived of Nature's own gift of early green feed in vacant lands and wooded expanse. The country is not yet enough settled to deny our stock this chance to feed, and it is a bill that merits the contempt of every decent man in the state. It is said that "the people rule." From the Latin we learn to interpret the words "Vox populi," yet here was a bill taken up by a man who can have no respect for the farming world, no sympathy for its struggles for maintenance, no feeling for the poor people whose small acreage tracts, too often the only support of a large family, affords no pasturing facilities. In whose interest was this damnable bill passed? (I use the right word in the right place when I stoop to stable parlance.)

Is it so that reckless auto drivers can kill our stock with impunity? Or is the dairy association at its root? Who but a few profit by this misprint infamy, while hundreds are injured. Well, if the people do not rule, at least they will not forget, neither the name of the representative nor the governor who are connected in this work. Some of us have read Kipling's 'Recessional,' and make its keynote, "Lord, lest we forget," the top liner in our memory two years hence when a friend of the farmer will be sent up to represent us at the tribunal where laws are made and sent out broadcast throughout the land to bless or curse.
A just law is always just and laudable. One like the Bill 139 (Altman) should be a byword in every month in the land. Grass allowed to grow from year to year on commons and wooded spaces becomes a menace to property in case of fire. This reason alone finds an echo in every citizen's mind. "O Lord, lest we forget." Yes, we will remember.
MATTIE E. BUCKLEY.

W. C. T. U. NOTES.

Willard Day Memorial offering meetings have been much in evidence the past week. Portland Central held one at the Taylor Street M. E. Church, the Pastor, Rev. Young giving the address, which was of a high order.
Mrs. Addison gave the address at Sunnyside, and one of the addresses at Mount Scott W. C. T. U. Mrs. Letitia Ross, the county president, spoke at University Park. At the Mount Scott union, a parlor meeting was held at the residence of Mrs. Addison and an interesting program was rendered under the direction of Mrs. Lillie Clark. Mrs. Ward Swope spoke on Miss Willard as a patriot; Mrs. Lizzie Hoskins on Miss Willard's loyalty to Christ; Mrs. Sommerfeld on this noted woman as an educator. Several songs appropriate to the occasion were sung, an offering was taken for the national organizing work, refreshments were served and a social. The social comradeship that prevailed was indicative of their union hymn, Blest Be the Tie That Binds.

Mrs. L. H. Addison was called to St. Johns on Monday where she spoke in the afternoon at a Mothers Meeting on Moral Education. At an evening Parlor meeting she spoke on the Centennial Temperance Congress which she attended last summer and pointed out the lessons of the great meeting in a very interesting manner.
Mr. McKeon of New York, president of the L. T. L. of that state, will address meetings at several points in the county the coming week.

BORING
O. B. Rippey and Jack Spangle, from Dayton, Ore., spent a few hours in Boring Tuesday.
J. W. Exon of Dover was in Boring Monday getting subscriptions for the church at Sandy. He raised $125.
Mr. Chapman has been very low the past week.

ROCKWOOD
Walker Quisenberry has purchased the five acre tract across the road from John Brown's store for $1250. He will build a blacksmith shop and house.
Wm. Childers received a telegram stating that his father was very sick and would have to undergo an operation.
George Crane is back in school after being in the hospital a week.
Little Hazel Richmond has been quite sick with measles.
Max Ruehle is doing the work in Mr. Quisenberry's shop.
Rockwood Grange is planning for a dance next Saturday night.

UPPER LATOURELL
H. Schultz is getting out posts for Mr. Stanley, who intends to do some fencing soon.
W. W. Sharp is moving to Mr. Stanley's place this week.
W. Smith is busy marketing his hay.
J. Gould's baby is very sick and he called the doctor last Sunday.
Ed Trickey has returned from Wisconsin, where he went to visit his mother. Later his mother and sisters will come to Oregon also.

Good Cough Medicine for Children.
The season for coughs and colds is now at hand and too much care cannot be used to protect the children. A child is much more likely to contract diphtheria or scarlet fever when he has a cold. The quicker you cure his cold the less the risk. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the sole reliance of many mothers, and few of those who have tried it are willing to use any other. Mrs. F. F. Starcher of Ripley, W. Va., says: "I have never used anything other than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for my children and it has always given satisfaction." This remedy contains no opium or other narcotic and may be given as confidently to a child as an adult. For sale by Gresham Drug Co.

POWELL VALLEY
Miss Emily Palmbad made a short visit with home folks Sunday evening.
Rev. J. Johnson of Damascus will preach at John Palmbad's next Sunday, March 14th, at 3 p. m.
Miss Anna Unis made a visit with home folks last Sunday.

Summons.
In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for the County of Multnomah.
MINNIE BRANDON, Plaintiff, vs.
JOSEPH B. BRANDON, Defendant.
To Joseph B. Brandon, defendant:
You are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint filed against you in the above entitled Court and suit on or before the 24th day of April, 1909, which is the last day prescribed in the order for the publication of this Summons for you to so appear, and if you fail to so appear and answer, the plaintiff will apply to the above entitled Court for the relief prayed for in her complaint. In the above entitled suit, to-wit: That the bonds of matrimony now existing between plaintiff and defendant be forever dissolved, and that the plaintiff herein have the care and custody of the said minor children mentioned in the complaint, and for such other and further relief as to the Court may seem equitable and just.
This summons is published pursuant to an order made and dated on the 9th day of March, 1909, by the Hon. C. C. Gantenbein, presiding Judge of the above entitled Court, by which order it is directed that this summons be published in the Beaver State Herald, once a week for six consecutive weeks, and the date of the first publication is the 12th day of March, 1909, and the date of the last publication will be the 24th day of April, 1909.
