BAND CONCERT FRIDAY NIGHTS

Excellent Music Rendered by Gresham Concert Band.
The Program.

The band concerts, which have been heretofore on Saturday nights, will be given on Friday nights beginning tonight. This is necessitated by the fact that many desire to be out of town on Saturday nights and some of the players are employed on Saturday evenings.

The boys have been doing some hard and faithful practicing, notwithstanding the busy time of year and are making steady progress under the regular training of one of Oregon's best band leaders, Mr. Rosebrook. Many new pieces have been learned and the public will be given a treat of some of these at each concert.

The program for next Friday night, August 13th, is as follows:
March—De Molay Commandery, Hall;
Alita—(Wild Flower) Morean, Loyal;
March—Al Koran's Band, Carlton;
Rainbow—An Indian Intermezzo, Percy Wenrich; Somewhere—Cornet Solo, Harris; March—The Pet of the Guards, Bravalle; Apple Blossoms—(A tone poem) Reverie, Roberts; March—Palatinus (two-step) Hall; Serenade—Love's Old Sweet Song, St. Clair; March—Bethany Commandery, Meyer.

Take Notice.

All persons owning, harboring or having in charge any dog or dogs of any age, on August 1st, that go on the streets or alleys of the town of Gresham without first paying license and placing the tag on same is liable to a fine of $5 (five dollars). Owing to the leniency of the authorities you will be granted until Monday morning, Aug. 9th; thereafter warrants will be issued for all offenders. F. B. STUART, Mayor.

TROUTDALE WINS LEAGUE PENNANT

Double-Header Sunday Won by Giants in Close Games.
Second Game Fine.

Interurban League Standing.

Willamette Iron Works	2	9	.182

In two of the prettiest games of the season played on the local grounds Sunday Gresham made her last run for the Interurban League pennant by drubbing the Willamette Iron Works. It looked like the beginning of a hard luck story for the locals during the first canto. Oaks, the first man up, rapped a liner to right and made third, and was followed by Coughlan who was swatted by a pitched ball; Zentler hit to center and Oaks crossed the Giants' door-plate. The agony became more intense when Kotterman sent a long fly to center and both Coughlan and Zentler rambled in home. They were rapping Douglass, the Gresham twirler, to the four-corners of the lot and the fans were loudly calling for their favorite, Townsend, but Tommy was stowed away for the final scene. Anyway, Douglass found himself after the first onslaught and did nice work. Three scores and not a man down was a critical predicament, but the end was near. Large hit a fly and out; Murry drove a long rap to extreme left without even considering who occupied that corner, and that's why he took the bench, for Red Merrill pulled off the best catch of the day; Fredwell failed to connect with the sphere and the agony was over.

The Giants had hard luck in failing to send a man over the home dump until the third round when the score stood 6 against them. In this inning the tide began to turn when Gresham sent 5 husky Giants over the plate.

Interest did not reach its height until the last half of the ninth when the score stood 7 to 8 in the Works' favor. The visitors put Oaks, their best twirler, on the mound and everybody got busy. Douglass hit to center, smuggled second and on a bad run to third was nabbed. C. Merrill was out on a bingle to right. Two men benched and the bases empty! Castro, who is always to be depended on, landed a hot one to left, hiked to first and stole second; he was followed by Meyers who drove a long fly to the right corner of the garden and Castro slid home. Townsend was called from the bench and swatted a liner that brought Meyers over the plate and closed the melee with 9 to 8 in the locals' favor.

The second game was the kind that delights every devotee of base ball, the score being 1 to 0 in Gresham's behalf. Crandall and Townsend were the opposing twirlers, Crandall allowing four hits and Tommy only two. Red Merrill made the lone mark during this game in the second inning on hit to left field by Hamlin. Park Meyers, short-stop for the Giants, did fine work and deserves special mention.

The pennant of the Interurban League was won by the Union Meat Company team of Troutdale Sunday when they defeated Russellville on the latter's ground, the score standing 11 to 3. Up to the seventh inning Russellville was in the lead and it looked as though a tie for the pennant would have to be played off between Gresham and Troutdale, but the blowing up of Wilson, the Russellville pitcher, gave the game to the Meats by a large majority.

Troutdale lost only one game during the season and that one was to Gresham. The Giants lost two, one to Russellville and one to Troutdale. The Giants were also thrown out of two games on a contest, for having what was supposed to be a professional ball player, or paid man, in the line-up. This decision set our boys back from first to second place, a position they never regained. Take it all in all the Interurban League teams were composed of a goodly set of ball players and gave the towns in the vicinity of Portland plenty of sport during the season just closed, which fact is due largely to the efforts of Jess Dunbar, president of the League.

GREAT MEETING IN SPOKANE

Conservation of National Resources to be Discussed.
Important Gathering.

There is no economic question of more importance to the American people as a whole than the preservation and development of our National resources. We as a people and nation have already too long neglected to guard and prevent ruthless depredations on the great forests that once spread its boughs over this Northwest country. But there has come a semblance of an awakening to a realization that if it continues the heritage of posterity will be a land denuded of its natural resources. The National Preservation Congress which met at Washington under the direction of President Roosevelt was the beginning of this belated movement. Our country is a new country and we have no right to uselessly destroy its bountiful gifts to the detriment of its future destiny.

A meeting of great importance, in not only looking to the conservation of our natural resources but the reclamation of arid and swamp lands, good roads, deep waterways, and home-building, is the National Irrigation Congress which meets in Spokane, August 9 to 14. Four thousand delegates and representatives from every state and territory in the Union and the provinces in Canada, will be present besides delegates from the southern republics, Europe and the far

Orient. There will be cabinet officers, railroad presidents, bankers, farmers, engineers and truck gardeners there to ferret out the best means for the industrial development of our country.

Various stages of development of the Pacific Northwest will be shown by elaborate floats and other devices in two parades and a march in review of the industrial and irrigation army, 10,000 men and 35 bands of music, will be a pretentious display. There will be a demonstration of 14 methods of supplying moisture to the land by artificial means and exhibits of products.

This is to be one of the greatest meetings of its kind ever held and in order to give comfort and conveniences to the thousands of visitors 150 hotels and restaurants have voluntarily pledged that there will be no advances in rates. Fifteen hundred high school students will be at the disposal of the delegates as secretaries. Some of the most noted men in the country are scheduled to address the meetings of this gathering and it will be well worth the time and expense for all who can to attend.

Bread puddings may be delicious or otherwise, just as they are made. Usually they are too stiff with bread or baked until the custard breaks into whey. They need only a covering of buttered bread, sprinkled with sugar; or are better if made of cinnamon buns, which are already sweetened and contain currants. For the custard use 3 eggs to a quart of milk; do not make it too sweet. Bake only until the custard is set, not a moment longer, or it will be watery and spoiled.
