EDITORIAL COMMENT

THE unusual activity in city real estate during the last two weeks can be ascribed to the large number of Eastern people who have been coming in. The O. R. & N. has been practically crowded to the limit and extra trains have been put on and still the condition has not been met. Such an increase in the population means better prices for land, more clearing, better cultivation and increased production. The already wealthy state will double its valuation and population and let us hope outgrow and slough its mossy coat of conservatism as regards public improvements and general advance. Oregon ranks well among the reforming states of the Union. Its improved laws regulating the nomination and election of officers and its system of popular lawmaking have drawn National attention. Let us hope the addition of these new forces coming to our state will serve to intensify the spirit of reform in the state laws and firmly maintain the position already attained.

CORBETT

Miss Abbie Stites spent Saturday in Portland.

F. E. Reed was out from Portland on Saturday.

Mr. Peterson of Surprise, Neb., is visiting his sister-in-law, Mrs. Hankey, and niece, Mrs. F. H. Reed.

Mrs. Shell was in Portland Friday to have her eyes treated.

Mr. Beerbower's new residence is nearing completion.

Mrs. Sarah Kincaid visited Mrs. Clara Smith on Saturday.

Lee Evans went to Portland on Saturday.

Guy Smith of Latourell Falls and Miss Vera E. Floor of Portland were married at the home of the groom's parents in Portland on Wednesday.

Columbia Grange met in regular session Oct. 7, the attendance being small owing to the busy season, but an interesting meeting was held. It was decided to give a basket social Saturday evening, Oct. 23, proceeds of same to be used for repairing the hall and other needed expenses.

Fred Shearer and wife have moved to Portland. They will be greatly missed at Grange meetings.

The Grange here has changed its day of meeting from the first Thursday to the first Saturday in each month.

James Benfield and bride of Portland spent Sunday here.

WELCHES

Mr. Steele and Mr. Welch are progressing nicely with the new bridge across Salmon river at Welches and two weeks will see it nearly completed. It will have 80-foot span with 50 and 100-foot approaches.

Anderson brothers, Mr. Fay and Mr. Savage are out on an extended hunting trip.

The Rangers are preparing to build a 6-foot trail to the top of Huckleberry mountain, the new trail to commence near the old trail at the foot of the mountain and work south to the next ridge. The trail will not be steeper than 15 per cent and graded all the way.

Robert Hahn killed the largest wild cat ever seen in this part of the mountain, being as large as a good sized dog. It was killed on Six Creek.

Mrs. Ed Roberts, we believe, holds the championship for fishing, having caught three trout that measured 24 inches.

Welches resort is coming rapidly to the front. Several large and expensive summer cottages will soon be erected and some are in course of construction and be ready for use next season.

GATES CROSSING.

W. J. Savage and wife started East last Saturday evening. The trip is on account of Mr. Savage's health and may not return until spring.

A quiet wedding took place last week at the home of D. W. Cole when his daughter, Mrs. Nellie Snider, was married to Mr. Roe of Lents.

A. Hening entertained a party of friends at his home Sunday.

Mr. Sparrow of Lents spoke at the church last Sunday evening.

The League meeting next Sunday evening will be in charge of a prominent worker from the Sunny Side M. E. church.

H. E. Hector, manager of the Lents Home Telephone Co., was out here looking after the interests of his company a few days ago.

Mr. Nunley was out from the city Tuesday evening calling on friends.

S. White returned the first of the week from east of the mountains.

Grange Fairs are Becoming Popular.

[Special Correspondence.] There is a great opportunity for subordinate granges to do a good work by creating an interest in grange fairs, which are becoming more popular each year—not fairs got up by many days of planning and of hard work, but fairs got up for a day or an evening in a very simple manner.

There have been both benefit and pleasure derived from studying the exhibits which were brought in and arranged as the members came to the regular meeting. A part of a day spent in arranging the exhibits of members living nearest the hall would of course make it possible to have them arranged more artistically, and the woman's work committee would be just the ones to have it in charge. Let each member label his exhibits with his name and the name of the variety of the fruits, flowers, grains and vegetables which he exhibits.

Do not try to give prizes to the elder members, as it would take much time and trouble to judge the exhibits and award so many prizes, and much valuable discussion among the members concerning the different varieties of fruits and vegetables and the best methods of growing them would be lost, for no one would know to whom the different exhibits belonged if the names were left off so that they might be judged, but begin right now to interest your grange in offering first and second prizes to the children for a few things to be grown by them this year and exhibited at a grange fair next fall.

Have a special committee appointed to name some half dozen things to be grown by them, such as carrots, beets, popcorn, squash, sunflowers and asters, and to take charge of the purchasing of the premiums, which need not necessarily be expensive in order to please the children. Let them have a special table for their exhibits, and do all that you can to make it interesting for them, and you will be doing something toward helping to keep the boys and girls on the farm. Exhibits of fancy work and of old relics have been made very interesting in many granges where they have room to display them properly.

PLEASURE "EXERTIONS."

What the Grange Field Days Should and Should Not Be.

The "pleasure exertion" of Josiah Allen's wife has been mirrored often in the experiences of many a tired mortal on an ordinary day's picnicking. Another woman voiced the sentiments of many of those when she said: "I'd sooner ha' brewin' day and washin' day together than one of these pleasin' days. There's no work so tiring as danglin' about an' starin' an' not rightly knowin' what you're goin' to do next."

The grange rally, or field day, has been instituted as a modification of the old time picnic that had no aim beyond that suggested on the spur of the moment or unfailing its big dinner together in the woods. Under the auspices of a live grange the rally is full of purpose. It is a rallying in act, as in name, of all the forces that go to make a strong, vigorous rural life. It aims to promote joy and zeal in developing the active resources of the farms and farmers both.

The rally is thus more than a day of physical recreation and feasting. The mind is rested and fed also by means of as good a program as can be devised and secured. Facts of what organized effort through the grange is doing for farmers at large are presented to those who cannot be reached otherwise, and these same facts are often pressed home upon members in a more forceful way than ever before.

Inviting grounds with all conveniences for comfort possible and a good local program, not too long, to introduce and set off the main address are requisites of the best rally success—Exchange.

The Grange For Peace.

At the late session of the national grange a commission on international arbitration, with Mortimer Whitehead as chairman, was appointed. Its purpose is to co-operate with the numerous peace societies of the country and to carry on a propaganda for international arbitration. Mr. Whitehead has been for many years as active grange worker and was national lecturer during the early years of the grange movement.

More than Enough is too Much.

To maintain health, a mature man or woman needs just enough food to repair the waste and supply energy and body heat. The habitual consumption of more food than is necessary for these purposes is the prime cause of stomach troubles, rheumatism and disorders of the kidneys. If troubled with indigestion, revise your diet, let reason and not appetite control and take a few doses of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and you will soon be all right again. ### How to Cure a Cold.

Be as careful as you can, you will occasionally take cold, and when you do get a medicine of known reliability, one that has an established reputation and that is certain to effect a quick cure. Such a medicine is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It has gained a world-wide reputation by its remarkable cures of this most common ailment and can always be depended upon. It acts on nature's plan, relieves the lungs, aids expectoration, opens the secretions and aids nature in restoring the system to a healthy condition. For sale by Gresham Drug Co.

Wrestling Match.
The wrestling match Saturday night in Metger Hall promises to draw a large crowd. Both contestants are well known in this part of the country where they have engaged in some hard-fought contests. "Strangler Smith" is the undisputed middleweight champion of the Pacific Coast and has the reputation of being "on the square" in his matches. His opponent, John Berg (Young Hackensmith) holds the light-heavyweight championship and agrees to throw the middleweight champion 3 times within one hour or forfeit the match. The catch, as catch can, rules will be used. Doors open at 8 p. m.

Well Known Hotelkeeper Uses and Recommends Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

"I take pleasure in saying that I have kept Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in my family medicine chest for about 15 years and have always had satisfactory results from its use. I have administered it to a great many traveling men who were suffering from troubles for which it is recommended and have never failed to relieve them," says J. C. Jenkins, of Glasgow, Ky. This remedy is for sale by Gresham Drug Co.
