FAIRVIEW

Fairview, Oct. 21.—Smoke is still arising from the ruins of the big Sun-Dial barn which burned to the ground here last Saturday evening. The building was located on the extreme west end of the place and a promontory could be seen for miles over the country. The loss is $7000, partly covered by insurance. The barn, 100x150 feet, was constructed of a fine grade of lumber, with concrete floors and water faucets at each manger, was valued at $5000 and contained $2000 worth of hay which was to be used in feeding beef cattle this winter. Fortunately no stock was in the barn at the time the fire started, as no one was near, the barn being located nearly a quarter of a mile from the house. A. L. Stone first noticed the flames which broke out in the east end up near the roof, but was powerless to do anything. The fellow who cut two of the Belgian mares belonging to H. C. Campbell on the fair grounds Saturday night, who may also be responsible for the fire, has not yet been found. If not of incendiary origin, the blaze was probably caused by spontaneous combustion caused by the damp hay.

The rock crusher, which has been at work in the Andrews gravel pit, will close operation next week.

More than Enough is too Much.

To maintain health, a mature man or woman needs just enough food to repair the waste and supply energy and body heat. The habitual consumption of more food than is necessary for these purposes is the prime cause of stomach troubles, rheumatism and disorders of the kidneys. If troubled with indigestion, revise your diet, let reason and not appetite control and take a few doses of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and you will soon be all right again. For sale by Gresham Drug Co.

TROUTDALE

Troutdale, Oct. 21.—What threatened to be a serious accident happened to a party of six con hunters who started out at 4 o'clock Sunday morning for Gordon creek. On a narrow place in the road a short distance from the Sandy bridge, one horse stumbled and fell down the embankment a distance of 60 feet carrying the covered wagon, in which were the six men. A tree which happened to be in the path of the wagon saved them from going into the river. In the party were W. F. Greer, who sustained a fracture of his collar bone; Joe Latourell, Ed Holt, Herman Blaser, I. N. Buxton and N. Johnston, escaped with slight injury. The horses were uninjured, but the wagon was badly wrecked.

He was able to return home.

NEED OF THE HOUR,

A Closer Union in the Work of Grange Lecturers.

The Lecturer of the Michigan State Grange suggests Specific Methods For Improving Present Conditions. Value of Directed Effort.

[Special Correspondence.]
"What in your opinion would strengthen the grange and grange work today?" you ask.

A closer union among the various lecture departments, national, state, pomona and subordinate. On the basis that the greatest mission of the grange is educational and that the lecturer occupies the position of a teacher, the organization should develop strong constructive plans for exploring and pre-empting the full possibilities of the lecture hour. The system with which its educational work is conducted should be made co-ordinate with that of other similar institutions devoted to agricultural and rural social uplift. As a whole, we will do our best under an aggressive, stimulating and directing force, emanating from the highest and permeating every degree of the order.

Some of the specific methods by which this closer union might be encouraged are:

First.—Through communications and advising by correspondence of the national lecturer with under lecturers.

Second.—Through up to date printed matter relating to grange history, accomplishments, progressive methods and present methods, made available for distribution from the national and state offices.

Third.—Through a few broad topics suggested to form the basis of uniformity in program work and to secure concentration of discussion throughout the order within a given time.

Fourth.—Through lecturers' conferences (a) at national sessions, which state granges should encourage and perhaps assist their lecturers to attend; (b) at state sessions, which pomona and subordinate granges should encourage and sometimes assist their lecturers to attend; (c) at pomona sessions, which subordinate granges should encourage their lecturers to attend. JENNIE BUELL, Lecturer Michigan State Grange.

Boyhood Trials.

The clock has just struck.
It's time to get up.
This bed is so warm—
But I hear the new pup!

If I could be two,
In bed I would stay.
And yet I could romp
With the puppy all day.
