Noteworthy Exception.
The early bird had caught the worm. Thinking the incident self-explanatory and the moral perfectly obvious, the bird refrained from trying to say anything smart.
Thereby introducing a startling innovation and establishing a new record.

SOMETHING FOR EVERYBODY
Sicily lost 60,000 inhabitants by earthquake in 1693.
The Siamese peninsula is to be developed in the immediate future by the construction of over 600 miles of railway.
Several German shipyards are equipped with electro-magnets powerful enough to lift dead weights of 50,000 pounds.
Milk costs at least 10 cents a quart in Mexico and butter 50 cents a pound. The demand for poultry is always greater than the supply.
Abdul Hamid's 2,000 waistcoats and the hundreds of boxes of shirts and waistcoats found in Yildiz kiosk recall the posthumous sale of King George IV's wardrobe, which realized $45,000.
As far as we know, the shortest associational report on temperance was presented by J. J. Barrow and C. W. Scarborough and adopted by the Central Association in 1879. It was as follows: "No drunkard shall inherit the kingdom of heaven."—Biblical Recorder.

At this season of the year, when sore throats, laryngitis and similar complaints are very prevalent in London, it may interest our readers to know of a very simple remedy which is recommended by the celebrated Dr. Fauvel, of Paris. He recommends a gargle of ordinary tea before going out in the morning and if possible, on returning at night.—London Chronicle.

Surely "the world do move." Here's Chicago putting rubber soles on its noisy milk peddlers who clatter up back stairs at 2 a. m., to the rout of Morpheus and the discomfort of tenants. Now, if somebody will invent noiseless milk wagons, nonrattling cans and a few more things of the kind, a dozen quiet loving and sleep needing home suburbs of New York will gladly build him a monument.—New York Tribune.

Constantinople is the dirtiest city in the world, the only street cleaners being the starving dogs, cats and rats; but the people do use soap. Last year there were imported into that city 3,500 tons of soap selling from 20 to 60 cents a cake. Practically all the soap of Constantinople arrives from the island of Mitylene, which makes 32,000 tons a year from its olive oil. Constantinople still burns candles largely. The annual imports amount to 4,000,000 pounds.

While alighting from a tram car in Vienna some months ago, Fraulein Anette Schmidt accidentally injured a fellow-passenger's eye with one of her hat pins. The unfortunate man was taken to the hospital and eventually lost sight of the injured organ. Fraulein Schmidt, who visited him regularly, offered, says a writer, to become his wife and look after him for the rest of his life. Her offer was promptly accepted and the marriage took place lately.—Chicago News.

Off the northwest coast of Australia there is an island which till recently belonged to no one. It is not a very large island. In fact, it measures only 365 yards by 30 yards. It has, however, a good anchorage, and for that reason its possession may at some time be valuable. The British government has, therefore, annexed the island, and an official notification of the fact recently reached the commonwealth minister for external affairs. The new British possession is known as Cartier island, and is almost surrounded by coral reefs.—Westminster Gazette.

Germany pays comparatively little attention to poultry raising. For the greater part of its supply of eggs and poultry the empire is dependent upon Italy, France, Belgium and the Balkan States. The imports into Germany of eggs and poultry have increased marvellously since 1872, in which year the combined imports of these two items amounted to only $500,000. In 1880 they had increased to $5,000,000, and in 1907, $37,845,750 worth of imported eggs and $12,730,500 worth of imported poultry were consumed, with exports that same year amounting to only $313,500 for eggs and $211,250 for poultry.

Many clergy gird against copper in the collection bags, and, of course, people who can afford silver ought not to give pennies only; but there is nothing to be said against pence if there is plenty of it. In a certain parish not long ago the vicar announced that an additional clergyman or second curate was needed. He said the cost of the maintenance was to be provided by a penny fund, to which every parishioner was wanted to subscribe. The fund was started and was so successful that the income of the new curate was assured thereby. The new assistant is to this day called "the penny curate."—Church Family Newspaper.

Not every resident of Florida knows what a superior dish for the table is the stone crab. It is to southern waters what the lobster is to northern. George Lisotte, of Pass-a-Grille, fenced in a portion of Boca Ciega bay some time ago and planted his water farm with stone crabs to prevent the extinction of the species. He is studying their wants and habits and believes he can largely increase their numbers yearly. Captain Cason, of Pass-a-Grille, is preparing to fence in a second stone crab farm of large proportions. There is an enormous demand for the stone crabs from the numerous visitors to the island, and the supply, though great, is being rapidly depleted.—Florida Times-Union

As He Ground.
Tennyson had just begun to write the "Charge of the Light Brigade."
"Half a league, half a league,
Half a league onward—"
Then he stopped.
"Sounds a good deal like 'Off agin, on agin, gone agin, Finnegan!' he said, knitting his brows.
But he went ahead with it, and the jingle made a decided hit.—Chicago Tribune.

Didn't Exactly Mean It.
The Girl—Isn't this play tiresome!
The Young Man—It's an awful bore. But there is no use. Miss Pinkie, of your trying to conceal a yawn with that fairy little hand of yours; it can't half cover—er—I mean—that is—"

His Pursuit.
"What does Ardup follow for a living?"
"Just now he is following old Scadwell's daughter, in the hope that he will be living in the Scadwell family some day."
Our Lucky Age.
"Speaking of the Wright brothers, it's a good thing for people who like to travel by water that Fulton lived a good many years ago."
"Why that?"
"He would undoubtedly be trying to get an injunction on all the boats afloat."—Boston Herald.

Misfortune of Dullness.
Dullness means a lack of imagination, and without imagination life and happiness are both impossible. Religion and art, from one point of view share the same mission. They bring to man the sense of amazement. They teach us that the world is a wonderful fairy palace, the place of hourly miracles. Then we discover that we ourselves are most amazing creatures. The dull man is not interested in himself has no self-love. I am certain that no man can love his neighbor unless he has learned to love himself. From our selves we discover humanity.

Fair, Fat and Tide-y.
A Kansan sat on the beach at Atlantic City watching a fair and very fat bather sporting herself in the surf. He knew nothing of tides and he did not notice that each succeeding wave came a little closer to his feet. At last an extra-big wave washed over his shoulders.
"Hey, there!" he yelled at the fair fat bather. "Quit yer jumpin' up and down! D'ye want to drown me?"
Everybody's.

Girl With the Yellow Buskins—He's just as nice as he can be. When there's only a few people at the morning service he never gets cross and roasts them because the congregation isn't larger.

Genuine Alarm.
"Madam, your pet dog bit my little boy in the face this morning."
"Oh, you alarm me! Had your little boy's face been antiseptically washed?"
"Of course not, I—"
"Good heaven, woman! How could you let the little darling run such a risk! James, telephone at once for the veterinarian."—Baltimore American.

Lightning Change.
"Maria, who is the spider legged gawk that comes to see Bessie two or three times a week?"
"Why, don't you know, John? That's young Mr. Welph, the junior partner in the firm of Spoteash & Co."
"Well, confound her, why doesn't she give him a little more encouragement?"

The Wisdom of Silence.
The late Judge Elias Bryan, the father of William J. Bryan, once had several hams stolen from his smokehouse. He missed them at once, but said nothing about it to any one. A few days later a neighbor came to him. "Say, Judge," he said, "I heard yew had some hams stole t'other night."
"Yes," replied the Judge, very confidentially, "but don't tell any one. You and I are the only ones who know it!"
