State Dairy Convention

Elaborate preparations are being made for conducting the 1910 session of the Oregon State Dairy Convention. As was announced some time ago the officers of the association decided to accept the invitation of the commercial club at Eugene and hold the meeting in that city December 8 and 9.

D. C. Freeman, secretary of the Eugene Commercial Club, was in Portland last week visiting the creamery men and making arrangements for co-operation in holding this convention. Eugene, as everyone knows, is alive city and is bidding for conventions and will extend a royal welcome to the dairymen of Oregon on this occasion. A splendid hall will be provided for the convention session, and also for the display of dairy machinery and dairy products which will be on hand.

There will be a list of premiums offered for creamery butter and also for dairy butter, and cream cheese, and for display of dairy products.

A feature of the convention which will be different from anything in the history of previous sessions, and of unusual interest at this time, will be a demonstration of the effects of tuberculosis in dairy cows. Several animals will be slaughtered under the direction of Dr. E. E. Lytle, state veterinarian. This will be an object lesson to dairymen which should be a drawing card to every dairymen in Oregon.

Creamerymen and buttermakers of Oregon will meet in Eugene December 7, to complete an organization and discuss matters of importance to dairying. Dairymen are invited to attend this meeting, which will make really three days convention.

The Eugene people write that they are preparing to accommodate 1000 delegates to this convention, and I wish to make a personal appeal to the dairymen of Oregon to be present. Let us make this the biggest convention ever held in the west. Dairying is not on the best footing and many are of the opinion that it is growing worse. Considerable dairy legislation is being planned, some of it the most pernicious character which will do harm to the industry. Let us meet in a body, consider these matters and decide on what kind of legislation we want. Then we will go to the legislature with sufficient force to carry our ideas through and prevent any other legislation from being passed.

Know How to Use Concrete

Concrete for the farm is attracting much attention now-a-days. Every well equipped place should use it. Whenever it has taken the place of lumber it has proved to be an economy. Water tanks, barn floors, chicken houses and corn cribs are now made of concrete. The cost of construction is a little more at first than if lumber were used, but once in it is practically permanent, whereas lumber will wear and decay.

One of the best features of concrete is that it may be used by anyone with a little care and attention, whereas a properly built house or barn can be put up only by a carpenter. It has been proved by tests in the engineering department of the Kansas State Agricultural college that concrete can be successfully made from sifted ashes and cinders instead of with sand and broken stone. A story describing the correct proportions will shortly be published.
