The First State Bank, owning and occupying the most prominent corner in the city completed a building last year costing together with fixtures nearly $10,000. This bank was established in 1905 and has enjoyed a natural and steady growth from the beginning, relaxing in growth only during the panic of 1907, through which it operated without difficulty, its deposits reaching $180,000 in 1910.

The bank has all the departments found in banks in the larger cities, including a savings department in which an especial interest is taken in the children of the community in an endeavor to have them form good business habits.

The real estate department has been operated to the satisfaction of the purchaser as well as the seller—property being handled on a commission.

The second story of the building is occupied by the Mt. Hood Construction company, Schaw-Batcher company and Dr. W. C. Belt.

W. H. Bachmeyer, proprietor of the Anchor Store, Second and Main streets, arrived in Gresham July 15, 1909, having come from Cincinnati, Ohio., where for eleven years he was department manager in a Cincinnati wholesale clothing house. Soon after arriving here Mr. Bachmeyer purchased the stock of goods owned by F. B. Stewart & Co. Another room in the Regner building was fitted up and an additional stock of general merchandise was opened to the public and the genial proprietor took the reins in his hands to serve and get acquainted with the people of Gresham. Untiring efforts to please and straightforward business methods has won for Mr. Bachmeyer a patronage to well be proud of and as the year closes the patronage has doubled many times since the establishment of the store.
