

NEW TOWN STARTS ON MT. HOOD RY.

Another embryonic town will probably grow from the chrysalis stage into a thriving mart of industry and prosperity. It is reported on good authority that the Mt. Hood railway company will establish its car shops on the Buoy place about three miles southeast of Gresham. The company bought the old farm when securing the right of way for its lines, paying for it the sum $12,000. It is an ideal location for the big plant necessary to do the work required in building and maintaining the equipment for such an enterprise and will undoubtedly become one of the most thriving settlements of Eastern Multnomah in a few years.

If, as is anticipated by a great many persons, the road is but the beginning of a greater enterprise than a mere local trolley line, it will require a big plant to do the work necessary for its operation, and that means many people and a big payroll as well as all the other accompanying industries of a growing business center.

When the road is in operation it will run a mail car, and it is said to be the intention of the promoters to have a postoffice there for the benefit of the people interested and for the surrounding neighborhood. This plan may interfere somewhat with the plans now under way for an office at Pleasant Home, yet it may be possible that a postoffice will be established at both places with a rural route from one of them.

Whatever the outcome in this respect it is almost an assured fact that the new town—as yet without a name—will become an important and thriving center if the car shops are established there as predicted.

Death of Archie Graham

Word has been received of the death of Mrs. Anna Graham's youngest son, Archie Graham, at Burns, Michigan, February 20, 1911. He was first taken sick with pneumonia and later developed into typhoid fever. He was laid to rest in the cemetery by his grandparents on the banks of the river at Burns, owing to the disease he died of the body could not be shipped back home.

Archie was 13 years, 11 months and 15 days old. He leaves a widowed mother and two sisters to mourn his loss, besides many other relatives and friends.

Home School for Girls

Mothers of wayward daughters, may be interested to know of a home for just such girls, that has been opened in a suburb of Portland. The girls have two hours of school work each day, in the regular English branches. They are also taught needlework, weaving, laundry-work, cooking and other household duties. The home is under the care of the Sisters of St. John Baptist (Episcopal church). For further information address, The Sister in Charge, St. Elizabeth's House, 201 E. 82 St. North, Portland, Oregon.

A Fierce Night Alarm

Is the hoarse, startling cough of a child suddenly attacked by croup. Often it aroused Lewis Chamblin of Manchester, O., R. R. No. 2, for their four children were greatly subject to croup. "Some times in severe attacks," he wrote, "we were afraid they would die, but since we proved what a certain remedy Dr. King's New Discovery is, we have no fear. We rely on it for croup and for coughs, colds or any throat or lung trouble." So do thousands of others. So may you. Asthma, hay fever, la grippe, whooping cough, hemorrhages fly before it. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Sold by all druggists.

Fight Montavilla-Troutdale Boulevard

Extension of Villa avenue, eastward from Hibbard street in Montavilla to the Troutdale road is among the possibilities of the near future, although considerable opposition has developed among property owners along the last few miles. The right of way has been secured to the Rockwood road, a distance of five miles, for an 80-foot boulevard, but there the owners of nearly all the property which the road would cross are opposed to the opening of the thoroughfare, which could only be brought about by condemnation proceedings.

The proposed boulevard will only be one-half mile north of the Base Line and from Rockwood eastward would pass directly through several valuable farms which do not need the road for an outlet, hence the opposition of their owners. Among them are the Webb farm, John Bliss, O. J. Brown, B. H. Bowman, C. A. Ruby, Ferd Andrews, Richard Tegart and Etna Hartley. The road would go directly through the latter's dooryard necessitating the removal of the house and filling of his well. All of these men are immovable in their opposition which places the promoters of the boulevard in a quandary.

From Montavilla to Rockwood the right of way was easily secured as the road will pass through surveyed tracts of acreage size which need more roads, and as much of the property along it is in the hands of the promoters they can more easily sell their holdings if the road is opened. The completion of the Mt. Hood railway through the same neighborhood means many more homes down there and it is more than likely the boulevard will be opened as far as Rockwood in a short while, leaving the remainder to some other time in the future when it may become necessary.

The proposed boulevard would be 80 feet wide and would probably have an electric car line, as it is an extension of Villa avenue where the Montavilla cars make the turn southward. Those who oppose the opening of the road from Rockwood eastward would probably be willing to have the Base Line widened to 80 feet, a condition which some of them think will be necessary in a few years. In fact, so many of them have so expressed themselves and would be willing to give up that much land to prevent the opening of another road through their farms which they do not need.

The petition for the road was signed by eighty-six voters, nearly all living west of Rockwood. The county court will determine the matter in a short time.

It is intimated that the road is being promoted by the automobile club in order to have another route to the club resort at Sandy bridge, which is to be fitted up in elegant style. However, this may be there is going to be some heavy opposition to overcome before the road is established.
