RESUME OF THE WEEK'S DOINGS IN AND AROUND THE CITY

A newspaper's circulation comes only after years of effort. A mushroom circulation never appeals to the wisdom of the JUDICIOUS ADVERTISER. This paper is never sold by peddlers or given away in railway camps, but meets every existing demand of the THOUGHTFUL ADVERTISER.

L. H. Manning and family, of Montavilla, spent Sunday visiting his parents here.

Frank Wostell has been sick this week with the measles. He is about over them, but thanks to a good wife, he has not ventured out yet.

Ballasting of the completed roadbed is going on steadily, the sand for which is taken from the Stanley cut west of town. It is being shoveled on the dump cars by hand, as the steam shovel has been taken away.

A new steam shovel, never used before, made its appearance on the Mount Hood road this week. It is to be used on the work east of Lusted, where a two-mile contract was recently let for some extensive grading.

The big camp on the Gedamke place is growing larger, and about 100 men are living there at present. They are engaged principally in ballasting the track, unloading ties, digging holes for the trolley poles and building fence.

Waste dirt from the big cut near Lusted not being needed for making fills was dumped at Craswell's crossing. Probably two acres of ground have been filled to a level of ten feet, on which it is more than likely one of the largest depots along the Mt. Hood line will be built.

Charles Cleveland is grading and opening the streets through his newly platted addition to Gresham. Some of the property has already been sold, Mrs. Harry Huxley being the first buyer of an acre tract and the house on the Section Line road. It is expected that several fine dwellings will be built on the Cleveland property the coming summer.

Trolley poles are being delivered at several places along the line and about two miles have been set. Holes are being dug for more, a large crew of men being employed at this work alone. Several hundred poles are now being prepared at the head of Roberts avenue and another large lot are being made ready at the crossing on the Powell Valley road.

The new bridge across Kelly creek, at the foot of the Littlepage hill, is a splendid structure and made of material heavy enough to last for 20 years. It is about six feet higher than the old bridge and the approaches have been raised accordingly, thus lessening the grade to that extent. The Troutdale road was closed for over a week while the bridge was being built.

L. F. Duncan, an employe of the Mt. Hood Railway company, moved from Portland to Gresham on Tuesday last with his family. Mr. Duncan has a patent for a frog which he claims will allow trains to pass from one track to another without the usual jar and jolting now experienced. He will probably make a thorough test of the invention on the Mt. Hood road.

It is reported that James Elwood has offered to build a waiting room free of cost to the Mount Hood company, at Elwood's crossing, one mile west of Rockwood. The place is destined to become one of the most prominent stations between Rockwood and Montavilla as it will be in a thick settlement within a few years. Mr. Elwood has large property interests there and his name will be perpetuated in the new railway town.

The drama given by Russelville Grange last Saturday evening was largely attended and was a complete success. All the actors are members of the grange and are interested in raising funds for the erection of a new hall. They have on hand over $500 and own two lots near the Russelville school house on which they expect to erect their hall during the present year. Several persons from the vicinity attended the drama, thus assisting the project along.

It is reported that the Mount Hood Railway company will furnish gravel for the improvement of Roberts avenue at the price Mr. Knighton expected to pay the county, before the price was raised to 50 cents per yard. This will enable the contractor to do the work on the original bid, but the railway people are helping themselves, as the new Gresham depot is to be at the north end of Roberts avenue and good streets will be necessary for the expected heavy traffic there.

Yes? the trick of looking over the glasses is ridiculous, 2 pairs of glasses are a nuisance. Call at Fieldhouse's jewelry store Wednesday, April 12 and have Dr. Lowe show you the new glasses with which you can see all distances. No lines or seams in the glass to collect dirt, and strain the eyes or make you look old. Perfect sight with the inconvenience left out. Free demonstration.

The new Thompson & Stewart machine and auto shop which is being started this week will be one of the largest institutions in the town when fully completed. It will be 53x90, one story, and will be equipped with some very fine machinery, and will be able to handle all sorts of repair work.

Several new buildings are being planned for the future. Jas. Robinson will have a new house erected on his lot in the east part of town. Mrs. McCall has been considering a new building, and Ed Aylesworth has in view the erection of a nice residence or two.

Geo. E. Hill, who has been with R. K. Carlson for several months, will leave Gresham this week. Mr. Carlson will engage another man, and has one or more good furniture men in view now.

Among Gresham people who attended the Roosevelt meeting in Portland Wednesday, were Mr. and Mrs. Elkington, Mr. and Mrs. Kardell, J. C. Hessel and daughter Grace, and Mr. and Mrs. Clannahan.

Business is evidently increasing at S. A. Knighton's barber shop, as he has added another chair, making three and has employed Chas. Wheeler a barber from Portland.

Mr. Wishard, of Portland, one of the old time residents of this vicinity, made the Herald a pleasant call Monday morning and renewed his subscription to the Herald.

J. W. Tarr spent a half day in Gresham and on the farm on Wednesday. Mr. Tarr is living in Portland now and comes out this way occasionally on business.

Robert Simms, formerly of Gresham, has returned after spending two years in Odessa, Mo., and reports that he is highly pleased to be in Oregon once more.

The usual services will be held in the M. E. Church Sunday morning and in the evening Rev. Jas. Moore, district superintendent, will preach.

Mrs. Rose Metzger and family have moved back from Portland and occupying the rooms vacated by W. H. Bachmeyer and family.

Word has been received from Miss H. E. Pierce who is in Rochester, N. Y., that she is enjoying real winter weather in April.

Rev. D. M. Cathey will preach at the Free Methodist church at 11 a. m. There will be no services in the evening.

J. W. Bachmeyer of the Anchor store has just installed a fine new scale of the latest pattern and self computing.

Metzger Brothers have begun well by painting up their store and putting on a fine new delivery wagon.

Mrs. A. Thompson and Mrs. J. G. Metzger visited Mrs. Mary Preston at Eagle Creek, Thursday.

Dr. Short is driving the latest auto arrival in town and it is reported a beauty.

Duly Bros. are having a basement put under their house.

J. H. Hoss made a business trip to Salem on Wednesday.

Dr. H. H. Ott and family are enjoying a fine new piano.

Geo. Preston of Eagle Creek, was in Gresham today.

Mrs. Cohn has been quite ill this week.

W. H. Karr is very ill.

Gresham Library Growing

Prospects for a good year ahead for Gresham library are causing the custodian, Miss Cully, to be in high spirits. There is some prospect of a campaign being inaugurated for the purpose of putting in a library building. Already some money has been appropriated for the purpose, and persons have shown a willingness to donate a building site. A little campaigning might bring out quite a lot of funds and put the library in a building of its own. Wherever that may be, it should be central, and near the part of town convenient to people who have to be on the streets, and for the use of the public schools.

Funeral of J. L. Cross, of Boring.

J. L. Cross of Boring, formerly of Gresham and Washington, Wisconsin, and originally from New York, died a week ago Monday and was buried at Gresham on the 30th. Mr. Cross was a veteran of the civil war, enlisting at the age of 21, and was a member of Company A. of the Minnesota cavalry. He was a prominent member of the G. A. R., and members of the camp from Gresham went as a committee to participate in the funeral. His death was due to a stroke of paralysis. The funeral was preached by Rev. Calder of Pleasant Home, assisted by Rev. David Wolfe. He leaves a daughter and two sons to mourn his departure.

The most valuable consideration in placing an advertisement is the number of readers you can reach through the medium you are using. The Herald always has been, and it continues to be, the most widely read paper in eastern Multnomah and Clackamas Counties. Don't make a mistake by failing to consider this.
