LENTS SCHOOL OPENS SEPT. 11

The school year will commence September 11 in Lents under the jurisdiction of the school board of the city of Portland.

Doubtless many of the small children are already shaking their heads and saying "orful mean things," which the older scholars, those desirous of attaining a higher education, are delighted by yard measure that school is to commence so soon.

The new building will not be ready for occupancy in time for the opening of the term, but accommodation will be provided for all in the old buildings.

Prof. Herschner will again head the Lents school. He expects a large enrollment this year and looks for a very successful term of school. Last year's enrollment was over the 800 mark.

Other new buildings are being erected at Rose City Park and Fernwood, besides the new Lincoln High School at West Park and Mill streets. The Rose City Park school and the Fernwood school are to be of reinforced concrete, entirely fireproof, according to the requirements of the new city ordinance. Several other buildings which were begun in wood will be finished in concrete.

Among these combination buildings are the Glencoe school, where an 8-room wing of concrete is being erected, and the Kern school, which will have a 10-room fireproof addition. Minor additions to the roster of schoolhouses are the Richmond, Clinton-Kelly, Llewellyn and Creston schools. A four room building is being constructed at Weston and small new schoolhouses are going up at Arleta and Kenton and a four-room addition is being made on the Terwilliger schoolhouse.

ALL THE JOYS OF ARMY LIFE.

Because when ordered to return to his quarters by Captain Henry C. Clement, Jr., Twenty-ninth Infantry, Musician Anthony F. Burns replied:

"Ah, go on; how about that thirty-six dollars?" (Burns had been promised $36.00 per month as an inducement to enlist, but had not been getting it). Burns will have to spend three years in Leavenworth prison.

He has also been dishonorably discharged from the regular army.

The court-martial that tried him for "behaving with disrespect toward his commanding officer" sentenced him to five years in Leavenworth, but Gen. F. D. Grant cut off two years.

Trooper Arthur J. Edwards of the Tenth Cavalry insisted on filling his canteen with wet water at the Pine Creek camp and drinking it despite the orders of the troop sergeant.

Then to add insult to injury, he insisted on wearing his hat peaked when ordered to crease it.

Ordered under arrest and placed in charge of the post guard, Edward assaulted a "dodgeboy" guard with a pick handle.

He was tried by a court martial and Gen. Grant has approved a sentence of ten years imposed by the court.

The days after the decision of the Supreme Court suppressing the Standard Oil Co., that company showed how adly it felt over the blow by declaring a dividend of $39.00 per share for that quarter. The gamblers in Wall Street also quickly showed how they felt about it. Standard Oil stocks tumbled, but, like expert acrobat, upward instead of downward. The Standard will now organize into a "reasonable" trust.—International Musician.

Not A Word Of Scandal

marred the call of a neighbor on Mrs. W. P. Spangh, of Manville, Wyo., who said: "she told me Dr. King's New Life Pills had cured her of obstinate kidney trouble, and made her feel like a new woman." Easy, but sure remedy for stomach and kidney troubles. Only 25c. at all dealers.

THE CULPRITS.

Bobby, like many small, active lads just like him, has an insurmountable difficulty in keeping "covered up" at night. No matter how carefully he is tucked in before putting out for "Blanket Bay," early morning finds him serene bereft of all clothing.

After tucking him in the other night, in response to Bobby's nightly demand for a story, his religious mother told him about the two angels that guard his slumbers.

Bobby was interested. "Do they stand there all night?" he asked. "All night," said mamma.

"And they come when I'm asleep?" continued Bobby. "And go away before I wake up?" Again mamma nodded. "Well, then," decided Bobby. "they must be the guys what have been pulling the covers off of me!"

No Need To Stop Work.

When your doctor orders you to stop work, it staggers you. "I can't" you say. You know you are weak, run-down and failing in health, day by day, but you must work as long as you can stand. What you need is Electric Bitters to give tone, strength, and vigor to your system, to prevent breakdown and build you up. Don't be weak, sickly or ailing when Electric Bitters will benefit you from the first dose. Thousands bless them for their glorious health and strength. Try them. Every bottle is guaranteed to satisfy. Only 50c at all dealers.

BIG MEETING OF BANK DEPOSITORS

A meeting of the depositors of the defunct Mount Scott bank is called for Monday eve, September 4, in Duke's hall. Much business of vital interest is to come up. Each and every depositor is urged to attend in person.

The depositors of the defunct bank are given assurances that Myers, the president, will be brought before the Circuit Court and asked to explain matters.

Myers, it will be remembered, was set at liberty after his sensational capture in Montana, on $3,000 bail. Since then various rumors have been afloat as to his operations.

Attorney C. M. Idleman of Portland has been retained by a large number of the depositors and is at present at work on the case. He will handle the case when it comes to trial.

As yet there is not a sufficient sum on hand to warrant the court in permitting the receiver to declare a second dividend. Although there is something over $4700 on hand, a part of this is the property of depositors who have not called for their first dividend. Another item to take into consideration is the fact that there is now pending in the courts 12 more suits to recover money that necessitate quite a little expenditure itself.

The receiver's statement follows:

Receipts	$11,487.94
Disbursements	6,748.39
Received account receivership nothing.
Attorney's fees nothing
Balance	$4,739.55

Mr. Tobin, says that all depositors are not only welcomed but invited to examine the books of the bank or receiver at any time.

Forced To Leave Home.

Every year a large number of poor sufferers, whose lungs are sore and racked with coughs, are urged to go to another climate. But this is costly and not always sure. There's a better way. Let Dr. King's New Discovery cure you at home. "It cured me of lung trouble," writes W. R. Nelson, of Calamine, Ark., "when all else failed and I gained 47 pounds in weight. It's surely the king of all cough and lung cures." Thousands owe their lives and health to it. It's positively guaranteed for Coughs, Colds, LaGrippe, Asthma, Croup—all Throat and Lung troubles. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free, at all dealers.

Prof. G. K. Robinson and family have returned from Firwood where they have been spending their vacation on their ranch.

PENDLETON ROUNDUP TO BE HUMMER

"The Pendleton Round-Up will be the most largely attended event in Oregon this year," declared Dr. W. H. Lytle, state veterinarian and sheep inspector, whose home is in Pendleton, today.

"In Central Oregon and Idaho there won't be enough people left at home to milk the cows. No event is more distinctively Oregon, none more fascinatingly interesting. We will have more people at the Round-Up than will attend the state fair. We will draw attendance from all parts of the United States and the program will contain the most thrilling and picturesque features that have ever been presented at Pendleton."

The date of the Pendleton Round-Up is September 11 to 16 and Dr. Lytle says preparations are being actively made, and are now so far advanced as to insure success.

NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned has found running at large in Multnomah County, Oregon, west of the Sandy river, a horse of the following description:

One roan mare; roached mane; both front legs sprung; weight about 800 pounds; about 10 years old; no marks or brands visible. Said animal was taken up by me at Lents, Oregon, on the 24th day of August 1911, and is now being held by me at Halls Livery Stable, in Lents, Oregon, where the owner can recover same by paying the cost of taking up, keeping and advertising said animal. The owner of said animal is unknown to the undersigned.

MT. HOOD GRESHAM STATION COMPLETED.

Announcement is made that the Mt Hood Road will throw open its fine new depot at Gresham on Sunday, ready to take proper care of all business that may come its way. Mr. John O'Reilly is the station agent for that place and he will take pleasure in meeting all who may come, and will take in answering questions.

This will not only be headquarters for local business, but it will also be the headquarters for the road for some time to come. All train management will be directed from this location as well as the repair work which will be necessary from time to time. It is anticipated that the company will put in extensive shops and do all their repair work from this point, at an early date.

The company wishes to have it understood that the new road is to be considered Gresham property, and that they will be pleased to be known as Gresham's public servant.

THE TRAINING OF GIRLS

The Efficiency the Keynote of Their Education.

In constructing the educational policy for our youth we must not lose sight of the real problem of education. It has been said that it is to fit a generation of young people to live a life not like that of Babylon or Egypt, nor yet of Greece or Rome; not like that of Western Europe, nor like our America today; but a life such as is likely to be theirs twenty or thirty or forty years hence. They should be taught the world's past for they will need that knowledge for guidance in meeting new and difficult issues, but they should certainly be instructed in the present, and in all methods which tend to develop independent initiative, so they may become self supporting members of society, with ability to adapt themselves to conditions as they find them.

I plead then for this general training for our girls, not alone for the benefit of this generation, but for generations unborn. Let us bring to bear upon this subject all the intellectual strength and all the genius at our command. Out of this movement will then come the rearing of finer and stronger men and women into freer and fuller lives of usefulness and happiness.

Women has gained the position she now holds by proving beyond possible doubt her fitness to attain the highest intellectual standard, and to enter every realm of knowledge. She, however, is not satisfied with the development of her intellectual powers. She believes that any perfected educational system must give every girl the chance to make the most of her individual powers in every line. She is urging that it is the heritage of every girl to be developed most completely and perfectly. To do this, attention must be given to her intellectual development, but at the same time her physical, aesthetic, social, domestic, economic, and spiritual development must not be overlooked. The training must be one process, unifying all the powers of the individual rather than developing certain ones at the expense of others. The evidence goes to show that there is a marked tendency for our public schools and colleges to adjust themselves to meet these educational requirements of the girl, but there is much yet to be done. Our girls are looking to the schools to fit them for the duties of life. To this end educators must construct the educational policies so that the schools will be a true picture of life in all its essential activities. Vocational studies must be introduced into our schools. Home training has claims upon educators as have literature and music—perhaps no more, for both contribute to freer and fuller development of human life. What is said of home training, music and literature may also be said of every other subject that will develop individual capacity, and education may if it will enrich them all.

COMMON THINGS WELL DONE.

In our schools and among our teachers there has been and to some extent still is a tendency to overrate intellectual development as compared with physical training and the formation of character. The philosophy which long ruled our educational policy has been so modified by research in the science and by development of the industries, arts and professions that it is now recognized that a perfected educational

HOOD RIVER IS EASILY BEATEN

After playing six games without allowing a score against them, the crack Hood River League-Heights team, a team composed of the best of the two teams, suffered a most overwhelming defeat at the hands of the Gresham Giants Sunday.

The Giants were under the guidance of Jess Dunbar, this being his first appearance in the role of "daddy of two teams." Bartholomew accompanied them on the trip.

Townsend pitched gilt-edged ball for the Giants and Kelt his battery mate played like a demon, pegging them this way and that way, always in the nick of time.

What makes the victory more decisive is the fact that the Giants were minus two of their heaviest hitters, Hargreaves and Arch Parrott. Had they been there the boys would doubtless be scoring yet.

In all, nine runs were garnered off of the apple pickers, while they in turn secured one lone tally.

Sunday the Giants will probably go to Sheridan for two games. Sheridan, it will be remembered, suffered defeat twice at Gresham's hands, yet they believe that their team is "going better" now and that "Mysterious" Mitchell can hang it on Dunbar's men.

system must include vocational training. The great mass of human happiness will always arise out of doing well the common things of life and the happiness of the individual will be in that creative genius which does today the same things it did yesterday but does it better. There is no higher duty than to unite education and activity, to see to it that no individual shall be compelled to choose between an education without a vocation and a vocation without an education. Required English, history, science, and psychology assume a new significance when they are recognized as essential tools in the accomplishment of some definite purpose. Vocational educational cannot be considered by itself alone any more than an industrial people can live alone. It must become a part of a general scheme of education that has for its aim higher efficiency of all classes of people. The colleges and universities are acting on this policy. The curriculum once confined to classical learning has broadened so as to cover the practical as well as the theoretical. These broader plans have been largely thrust upon the schoolmen and recognition has been forced, but the result is noted in the success attained by combining industrial, technical, and scientific studies with the general studies. The result is evident in new courses of study for our boys and girls. At first the mechanic arts were brought to a pedagogic basis; then agriculture, slowly but surely, was brought to a teachable form; and at last home economics has been brought into the schools. It is safe to assume that there are now but few educators who are so conservative as not to be in sympathy with collegiate education in engineering; most of them have come to believe that agriculture has been reduced to a teachable form; but many still have little faith in the possibility of successfully teaching domestic subjects.

HOME FIRST, BUT TRAINING IMPROVES.

Grant that the system of education in home economics is only in its formative stage; that the lines and methods of work have only been roughly blocked out; that there needs to be much study and much effort to perfect the system and to give it high pedagogical value; we still have the right to urge attention to its merits, for among the questions that are engaging our thought and attention today, certainly none is more important than that which centers about the problems of our home. The home is the center of the universe and the mistress is the center of the home. In her hands are the keys of home happiness. She is the disbursing end of the marriage partnership, and on the wisdom of spending depends the financial prosperity of the family; on the efficient home management depends the comfort and happiness of the family; on the proper care and guidance by the mother depends in a large measure the character and life success of the children; in the selection of the food and its preparation, together with the sani-

DEATH CLAIMS ANOTHER RESIDENT

George W. Merithew, of this place, died Saturday, Aug. 26 at the Good Samaritan Hospital and was buried from Finley's Undertaking parlors Sunday. Interment in Multnomah cemetery.

Deceased was a respected citizen of Lents for some years, coming here from Sison, California.

He was a member of the Odd Fellows. Mount Scott Camp No. 188 had charge of the burial services, going from here to Portland by car and thence to the cemetery.

He leaves a widow and one child to mourn his loss. They have the sympathy of the entire community.

THE EDITOR'S EASY LIFE. GENERAL NOTICE.

Most anyone can be an editor, says the Harveyville Kansas Monitor. All the editor has got to do is to sit at a desk six days out of the week, four weeks out of the month, and twelve months out of the year and "edit" such stuff as this:

"Mrs. Jones of Cactus Creek let a can opener slip last Monday and cut herself in the pantry." "A mischievous lad of Picketon threw a stone and struck Mr. Pike in the alley, last week." "John Doe climbed on the roof of his house last week looking for a leak and fell striking himself on the back porch." "While Harold Green was escorting Miss Violet Wise Green from the church social last Saturday night a savage dog attacked them and bit Mr. Green several times on the public square." "Isiah Trimmer of Running Creek, was playing with a cat Friday when it scratched him on the veranda." Mr. Fong, while harnessing a broncho last Saturday, was kicked just south of the corn crib."

Digestion and Assimilation.

It is not the quantity of food taken but the amount digested and assimilated that gives strength and vitality to the system. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets invigorate the stomach and liver and enable them to perform their functions naturally. For sale by Gresham druggist.

Dance at Rockwood

Rockwood Grange will give its next dance on Saturday evening, September 2. Parsons orchestra will be there, led by Mr. Parsons himself and no members missing. Tickets 75 cents. Supper extra.

A Dreadful Sight

to H. J. Barnum, of Freeville, N. Y., was the fever-sore that had plagued his life for years in spite of many remedies he tried.
