James Whitcomb Riley has given Indianapolis a site worth $75,000 for a public library. Poetry pays if it is the Riley variety.

Dr. Cook is informing his Chautauqua audiences that he has not been given what he deserved. Well, he'd better look out or he'll get it yet.

The New Jersey gentlemen that called Governor Woodrow Wilson a liar and an ingrate was kicked out of the meeting so hard that he hasn't yet landed anywhere in particular.

Every one of the seven states has accepted the space furnished them for official exhibits. The St. Paul show, which is given under the auspicious of the Northwestern Development League, is the only enterprise of its kind which will have these official state exhibits.

Mr. Charles Cleveland made the Herald a call Monday morning in its new location at Lents. He expressed himself as highly pleased with the general appearance of the new location and foretold a prosperous future for the Herald. Mr. Cleveland has the honor of being the first man to subscribe for the Herald in its new location.

Experience of western and northwestern states during the last few months demonstrate the need of appropriations by the state legislatures of sufficient funds immigration work and publicity for every state which has something to offer the men and women of this country in the way of home building or industrial opportunities.

The Portland Commercial Club is making efforts to have President Taft include Oregon in his Western trip this year when he comes to the Coast to break ground for the Panama-Pacific Exposition. An invitation was sent to him by wire to this effect and he replied he would give the matter consideration when his itinerary is made up.

The value of experimental farms to this state is shown in a striking way by the results attained by the station in Moro county, maintained by the Oregon Agricultural College. Wheat grown on this farm by scientific dry farming methods went 22.6 bushels per acre, while grain on adjoining land, farmed under the old way, was either too poor to cut or yielded only ten or twelve bushels an acre. Other crops grown show a corresponding gain when treated scientifically.

In the last two or three years it has been demonstrated that taking exhibits of the products of our soils, mines, forests, lakes, rivers, and factories into the eastern country and showing them to thousands of people, is a most effective means of state advertising and has resulted in bringing thousands of people into the west.

The following item of interest from the Myrtle Point Enterprise voices our view relative to many of the questions which come up in the printer's experience. Read it and consider the "other fellows" position and attitude on the questions mentioned therein: There was never a paper in any locality that gets all the news remarks and exchange. Persons often come and go that the reporter does not notice. It often happens that a family is missed several times. They get the impression that the paper does not care to mention them. It is a mistake. The paper has no ill feeling nor spite nor enmity against you. Don't be afraid to give us items of interest—perhaps you think that the paper shows partiality, but try and see if it don't treat you as well as the other fellow if given a chance. If you don't see us to tell us any happenings of news at your home, use the postoffice or telephone, but don't fail to give your name so we will know who was kind enough to send it in.—Myrtle Point Enterprise.

Explanation is due the readers of the Herald as to the delay in last week's issue. According to our expectations the Herald forms were all made up ready to run last Friday at four o'clock but from that time till Wednesday noon we waged a bitter struggle with the Portland Railway Light and Power Co., to get the necessary connection to give us the power to run our machinery. At last about noon Wednesday the wiring gang completed connections and as proper adjustments were made the first press work in our new location was done. While the first paper to be turned out was not altogether satisfactory, considering all the extra work of moving and getting settled and ready for work, no one can realize the effort that had to be put forth to accomplish even the results that were. This week's issue will, we hope, appear better, and from this time forth we shall try to make other improvements. Our folder was geared to high last week to be run safely and that work had to be done by hand. It will run all right now and further trouble from that source is not expected. A few days more and we will be in a position to handle any work that we have ever seen and probably any that may come our way. Come in and see us and inspect our new plant.

California is spending $10,000 per county for advertising, Kansas spends $20,000 per annum; Governor Hadley of Missouri writes that the legislature there appropriated $25,000 and the money was not available for the first year's work, the banks of Kansas City and St. Louis realizing the importance of the work, subscribed the $25,000 that the work might start; Wyoming has $40,000 per annum to spend for the next two years; Nebraska which has little to advertise is talking $100,000 per annum to tell the truth about the resources of the state and keep people from leaving it.

Advertisers who have patronized the Herald are invited to continue their patronage, although we shall not feel in any way that they are under any obligations to do so. There is no reason why the Herald should not be as good an advertising medium in the eastern part of Multnomah and Clackamas counties as it has ever been. All that seems necessary to get the accustomed service is to give it a chance and it will undoubtedly give you the returns. Send us your advertising by mail or by phone. If by phone it should be by long distance. If an ad of any considerable size we will stand the cost.

President Taft has vetoed the act admitting Arizona and New Mexico to statehood, on the ground that Arizona's constitution provides for the recall of judges. President Taft takes an entirely different view of this subject from ex-president Roosevelt who stated that while he does not favor what is known as "the recall", he does not see why Arizona should not enjoy that privilege if she desires. The despotism of the judiciary is getting to be a very serious issue in this country. When a judgeship is vacant, the trusts get very busy in recommending some of their friends or rather tools, for the position. Then when a trust is brought into court they practically own the judge. Furthermore, many laws that we have passed for regulating and controlling the great trusts or monopolies have been snapped into as unconstitutional by these trust owned judges. The fact is that the judges are really governing this country, and if we cannot have the power to recall or remove them when they show their unworthiness, we are really to some extent living under an imperial government and not a republic.

NEW LEADERS IN CONGRESS
Since so many leaders have died or lost their seats in the U. S. Senate, it is a very different body from what it was a year ago. Senator LaFollette of Wisconsin, has now risen to the undisputed leadership of the U. S. Senate and is carrying things with a high hand. He has hitched the 13 insurgent republican senators to the Democratic Charriot, thus uniting two minorities and forming a majority.

This state of affairs recalls the first speech Senator LaFollette made when he entered the Senate in 1905. He was looked upon as an innovator when he entered the Senate. During his first speech nearly all of the senators left the senate chamber. He remarked that he could not be oblivious to the fact that the senators were absenting themselves from their seats as a direct insult to him. He remarked that those seats which were thus temporarily vacant, would in a few years be permanently vacated. That prophecy has been duly filled and now instead of addressing emptied seats senator LaFollette has a majority of senators at his back.

LIME-SULPHUR SPRAY.

Found by Government Expert Better For Apples Than Bordeaux Mixture. In a government circular by William Scott, pathologist in charge of orchard spraying experiments and demonstrations and fruit disease investigations, it is declared that in recent years bordeaux mixture has come into ill favor among the apple growers on account of its injurious effect upon the fruit and foliage of certain varieties, and there is a growing demand for a reliable fungicide which can be used for the control of apple diseases without producing such injury. Bordeaux mixture is undoubtedly the best all around fungicide known, and it is unfortunate that the apple growers have to consider the possibility of giving it up, but the russeting of the fruit and the burning of the foliage caused by it are so objectionable that it seems highly desirable if not necessary to adopt a less injurious fungicide even at the risk of a partial sacrifice of efficiency in the control of diseases.

APPLES SPRAYED WITH COMMERCIAL LIME-SULPHUR—SCABBY FRUIT ON THE RIGHT

During the past three years Mr. Scott has been working on the problem of securing a satisfactory substitute for bordeaux mixture and not without some success. The self boiled lime-sulphur wash which was developed primarily for spraying peach trees has been found to be an excellent spray for the control of mild cases of apple diseases and to be entirely harmless to fruit and foliage. The concentrated lime-sulphur solutions, both commercial and home prepared, when diluted to contain about four pounds of sulphur to fifty gallons of water have proved to be about as effective in the control of apple scab as the best spot bordeaux mixture, but much less injurious.

Experiments were made by the bureau of plant industry during 1909 giving further evidence of the value of the lime-sulphur solution as a fungicide for summer use. These experiments cover a wide range of conditions, having been conducted in Virginia, Michigan and Arkansas. Eleven varieties were treated. Four different brands of the commercial lime-sulphur solution and a similar home prepared solution were tested at various strengths. The commercial brands registered from 31 to 33 degrees on the hydrometer scale.

UNSPRAYED APPLE—SCABBY FRUIT ON THE RIGHT.

Mistaken Beliefs About Manure. It is argued by some farmers that hauling manure out on the field every month in the year is a mistake and that if spread out in midsummer the sun will scorch it to a tinder and burn out all the good. The Maryland experiment station some years ago determined to test this theory, with the result that its experiments have exploded two very common beliefs, the summer burning theory being one of them.

The other common belief which has been proved wrong is that it is better to plow manure under in the fall than to leave it exposed on the land's surface during the winter and then plow it under in the spring. In the first instance manure spread in July and allowed to stand until the following spring gave better results than that spread in October and still better results than that spread in the following spring just before plowing. In the second experiment better yields were secured after allowing the manure to lie on top of the land all winter and plowing it under in the spring than were obtained from plowing it under in the fall.
