BIGGEST BLAST IN THE COUNTY

To Be Set Off Saturday Morning at 10 O'Clock—County Officials and Others to Attend.

The biggest charge of powder ever set off in a rock quarry in this county will be charged Saturday morning at 10 o'clock if nothing prevents.

Six tons of powder have been placed in the coyote says Mr. Eatchel, and according to Holbrook's survey will displace 30,000 yards of solid rock.

The hole is 10 feet above the bottom of the quarry, runs 125 feet cross-out and the 35 feet into the quarry. The wall is 85 feet high with only 7 degrees slant, being that near perpendicular.

The County Court, many road builders, and citizens from Lents will attend to witness this sight.

CANTATA VOTED GREAT SUCCESS

M. E. Church Gives Successful Xmas Entertainment—Leader Is to Be Commended.

The Cantata, "The Angelic Choir," given in the M. E. Church of Lents Dec. 24th, was a credit not only to that church but to the whole town of Lents, as well. Mrs. C. A. Daniels, who herself has a beautiful cultured Lyric Soprano voice, has been giving her time for the last two months in drilling the chorus which did credit to her work. Lents should be congratulated on having in her midst a musician such as Mrs. Daniels has proven herself to be. She was educated in music in the East and studied voice culture under eminent teachers in Muskegon and Detroit, Mich. In the latter city she held positions as leading soprano in several large churches the last one being, The Grand River Ave. M. E. Church. In this church she at one time was leader of a hundred and twenty voices. Mrs. Daniels came directly from Detroit about two years ago and has been since with her family living along the coast and came to Lents one year ago. Mrs. Daniels was ably assisted by the following soloists: Mrs. Dr. Sells, contralto; Walter Blything, Bass; Joe Gething, baritone; James Melton, tenor, each of whom did their work in a finished manner. Miss Helen Hanson presided at the organ the entire evening and her work is always done with the greatest accuracy and always appreciated. Following are those who did such noble work in their lines: Sopranos—Mrs. Daniels, Miss Letta Smith, Miss Ruth Steffy, Miss Ella Walrod, Miss Mamie Turner, Mrs. James Melton, Mrs. Rev. Moore; Altos—Mrs. Dr. Sells, Mrs. Sandburg, Vernie Flanders, Edna Blything, Tenors—James Melton, Mr. Anderson, Clarence Cone, Mr. Hotchkiss, Mr. Waxmyer, Sergeant Gething, Basses—Wallace Blything, Opal Hall, Joe Gething, Mr. Wilkenson, and Mr. Barnstead.

AN AUCTION SALE; A WEDDING; AND A PRINTER FULL OF BOOZE

The editor of a weekly newspaper in a certain little nearby town would frequently hop the train for the city and before returning home would proceed to get his snout full of squirrel whiskey—good old "Early Grave Whiskey" bottled in bond and guaranteed to kill.

This country editor was the whole cheese in the "get up" of his paper. He wrote all the editorials and news items, then set them in type himself—after which he personally kicked off about three hundred copies on his old Washington hand press.

One day this printer-editor got back from the city so full of barrelled bust-head that he couldn't tell the difference between a boot jack and a sermon to men only. He was late in getting out that issue of his paper, the "Squeedunk Bugle." He only had two news items to put in the paper—a wedding and an auction sale. His brain was going around like a flyin' jenny at a 4th of July celebration and he got the two affairs—the wedding and the auction sale—mixed up as follows:

PUBLIC SALE.—William Q. Jones, the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Jones, was disposed of at public auction, to Miss Lucy Anderson on my farm one mile east of Leonardville in the presence of seventy guests, including the following to wit: Seven mules, twelve head of cattle, Rev. Jackson tied the nuptial knot averaging 1,200 lbs. on foot. The beautiful home of the bride was tastily decorated with 1. John Deere sulky plow, 1 sulky hay rake, 1 feed grinder, 1 set double harness and just before the ceremony was pronounced, Mendelssohn's wedding march was given by 1 muley cow, 1 Jersey cow to be fresh in April carrying a large bouquet of flowers wearing a gown of 300 shocks of corn, 6 shocks of hay, 40 acres of wheat and a lot of other feed stuff.

"THE FIRST XMAS" WELL RENDERED

Cantata at The Evangelical Church All That Was Promised for It—28 in Chorus.

"The First Christmas," the Cantata rendered at the Evangelical church Sunday evening under the direction of A. K. Bradford was all that was promised and really more so.

About 350 people attended, in fact the church was filled to overflowing. The rooms were decorated with cedar boughs and ferns and presented a splendid appearance. The music was highly commendable and the vocal renditions very pleasing.

Mr. Bradford was assisted by Mrs. Lillian Morrill, organist, and Clarence Bischoff, violinist, and by the following soloists: Olive Clark, Elsie Bright, Hazel Bright, Mrs. Marie Ash, Blanch Retherford, Mrs. R. W. Reynolds, Mr. J. S. Ash, Lowell Bradford, Newton Hedin, and Arthur Morrill. The members of the chorus were: Sopranos, Mrs. Marie Ash, Elsie Bright, Olive Clark, Mrs. Emma Coffman, Flora Gingrich, Blanch Retherford, Mrs. R. W. Reynolds, Ruth Dix, Maude Strack, Olive Tussey; Altos, Eva Bischoff, Mrs. Elizabeth Bradford, Hazel Bright, Alberta Kiff, Mrs. Hulda Ulrich, Edna Wolf; Tenors, Mrs. J. S. Ash, B. Bradford, Earl Goode, Harold Retherford, David Stanbridge, Ernest Ulrich; Basses, Lowell Bradford, Archibald Clark, I. M. Gingrich, Hubert Goode, Newton Hedin, and Arthur Morrill.

So well pleased were some of the visiting congregation that a repetition of the affair was asked for at the German Evangelical church in Portland. This was held Thursday evening and was also a great success.

M. E. CHURCH.

New Years sermon 10:45 a. m. and reception of members. Evening service 7:45. Bring your children to the services and enjoy a family re-union in the house of God.

MAT ARTISTS HERE SATURDAY

Jepson to Wrestle Return Match With Gustafson, Champion of Sweden—Two Fast Preliminaries.

The Grange Hall will be the scene of an interesting wrestling match and two good preliminaries Saturday eve, Dec. 30th.

Nels Jepson, "the Tremont Terror," will battle with Oscar Gustafson, claimant of the welterweight championship of Sweden, the state of Wisconsin and of the Pacific coast.

In a match at Gresham last Saturday a draw was declared on account of Jepson's condition, he having had three ribs broken in a match there some time before. In order to decide the supremacy of the men a go was announced to be held here Saturday eve.

The bout is for $100 side bet and winner take all. A local lad will appear in one of the preliminaries. His name is Otto and his opponent is McDaniel, of Portland.

A good boxing preliminary is also announced in the heavyweight class, of which Christenson of Portland is one of the opponents. He weighs 180 pounds so a good go is looked for.

Jepson has purchased property near Tremont, is now residing in the Mt. Scott district, hence a great deal of enthusiasm in his behalf is expressed by local fans.

COMMENDS HERALD'S CHRISTMAS EDITION

The Beaver State Herald, published at Lents, Or., came out in full holiday dress in its last issue. It requires considerable effort on the part of country, or what is termed country, newspapers to issue such an edition. We are so accustomed to picking up the big city papers with their sixty to ninety pages that eight or ten additional pages looks easy.

Lents claims a population of 12,000, according to the Herald. We congratulate our neighbor on its enterprise and advertising support as evidenced in the Christmas edition.—Estacada Progress.

Portland, Or., Dec. 26, 1911.
Beaver State Herald,
Lents, Ore.

I have been looking over the copy of the Christmas number of the Herald. You certainly are to be congratulated on getting out such a fine number. It is a well printed issue and chuck full of live news concerning the surrounding country. The ads are well set and balanced, and from the number of ads contained, I should judge the special number proved to be a financial success.

With kind regards, and wishing you a happy and prosperous New Year, we remain

Direct Legislation in the East.

Maine has adopted the direct primary and some other states in the far east are thinking strongly along the line of direct legislation. Massachusetts is about to pass a workman's compensation act, similar to that of Washington, and soon the east as well as the west will be thoroughly impregnated with that spirit of progression that will be the means of solving the many problems of life which confront us at this time. LET THE EDUCATION PROCEED!

GRESHAM PEOPLE HELP THE POOR

Widow and Children Receive Plentiful Supply from Queen Esther Circle of Gresham.

Bringing with them a load of provisions, clothes, candies and toys, a committee of young ladies from the Queen Esther Circle of the Gresham M. E. church, drove in from that place Saturday morning and proceeded to the home of Mrs. Haskins on the Gilbert road and presented it to her as a Christmas token.

Mrs. Haskins, it will be remembered, is the widow who has the care of seven little children on her shoulders, with no means of support, a poor place of abode and in all is in very destitute circumstances.

To her these gifts came as a complete surprise and were greatly appreciated.

The young ladies, all well known in Gresham, worked with a zeal in gathering the things and the merchants of this place and others are to be heartily commended for the liberal manner in which they responded.

Three sacks of potatoes, a sack of cabbage, a sack of flour, bread, groceries of all kinds, canned fruits, a ham, a side of bacon, new shoes for all the children, stockings, candies, toys and trimmings for a Christmas tree were presented.

The girls were delighted in the appreciation and thankfulness with which they were received and one remarked: "I'd rather help these poor little folks all day than to fix a tree for ourselves, wouldn't you girls?"

Indeed it was a happy little household these girls left when they departed for their homes in Gresham late that afternoon, and the girls themselves thought it was time and energy well spent.

EASTERN OREGON MAN WEDS PORTLAND GIRL.

The wedding of Ray Harper and Miss Ida Mae Stone was solemnized at the home of the brides sister, Mrs. C. C. Maricle in Portland on Christmas at 6 P. M. Only immediate relatives and a few friends were present.

Mr. Harper is a popular young business man of The Dalles, being of the firm of Harper & Ferguson, grocers, and is well known in Lents and Gresham.

The bride is the daughter of a well known automobile dealer of California and has many warm friends both in Portland and Lents.

The young couple will make their home in The Dalles.

Mrs. Adams—You were crazy to marry me, weren't you dear?
Mr. Adams—No, just foolish.

Quality Wins

WE'D LIKE to be able to talk to a five-thousand circulation to our advertisers, present and future, but then, you know, we'd charge (even if we didn't talk) higher rates.

Quality of circulation is a bigger consideration than size of circulation—to a live advertiser.

If you advertise in The Herald you know exactly the kind of people you are reaching—sound, thinking people who will very frequently go out of their way to buy at your store, because you and they are mutual friends of the paper.

That's one reason why advertisers get good results from The Herald. Its crisp, fresh style of news writing makes it readable and interesting.

And they are continuing to advertise in The Herald because it increases their business.
