Household Hints, Fashions and Recipes

The vogue for reversible coats has reached even to the furs, and garments of two furs on the two sides, worn with either side out, are to be found. The afternoon frock shows skirts just a little longer than we had in the summer.

Vivid blues and dazzling colors of all descriptions are the rage. Every dress

CHOICE CHEESE.

OLD cheese if eaten after a meal will aid digestion. Being hard to digest, cheese should be eaten only in small quantities. Cheese cooked is more easy to digest than when eaten raw. Cheese has a high food value. It contains about twice as much nourishment as any other food of the same bulk. Cheese is not a suitable food for children. Used with cereals, vegetables and meats, it is palatable and nourishing. In winter cheese supplies a needed percentage of heat to the system. Cheese should never be eaten alone. It digests best when taken with some other food. Cheese is served with dessert. It appears with pie to aid the digestion of the pastry. It may also come on with the salad.

Should Be Well Done.
In cooking cheese see that it is well done, but not left on the fire till it is tough and unpalatable. Here are some good cheese dishes: Cheese Puffs.—Make a dough as for baking powder biscuit. Roll until a little thicker than pie crust. Spread with grated cheese and roll over as for jelly roll. Cut about one inch thick. Place these cubes upright and bake until light brown.

With Vegetables.
Cheese and Potatoes.—Prepare about two pounds of potatoes, two ounces of Parmesan cheese, three tablespoonfuls of butter, half a saltspoonful of salt and paprika. Mash and pass the potatoes through a sieve, add the butter and cheese and mix. Fill patty shells with the mixture and brown them in a quick oven. Then brush them over with melted cheese and butter, return them to the oven one minute and serve hot.

Cheese Balls.—Cheese balls are little balls served hot with green salad and toast. Beat an egg until light, add to it a cupful of grated breadcrumbs, mix well, add a cupful of grated cheese and season with a teaspoonful of tomato catsup and a pinch of paprika. Wet the hands and make little balls as big as plums. Dip each ball in egg, roll in breadcrumbs and fry in hot fat a light brown.

Favorite Furs For Children.

Strangely enough, baby lamb is one of the favorite as well as one of the best looking furs for children's coats, being equally suitable for all ages from five years up. They are usually fashioned in straight lines and self trimmed. Ermine is beautiful with the lamb; but, sadly enough, it is much more appropriate for the matron, although ermine by itself, a small collar with muff, is always smart for children.

For small children the fur coat means a risk of taking cold, although it is usually so "cunning" that it is not to be wondered that mother is tempted. It is too warm, however, for the active child. Velvet of all kinds is in high favor for suits, dresses and coats, even the figured weaves being brought into the running.

An attractive model designed for a girl of twelve is made with a diagonal fastening up the front, sleeves that are cut in one piece with the body and the whole outlined with black fox. There is no collar, but the neck is cut high, with only a narrow point in front and the fox edging for a finish. At the lower edge the left fastens over the right side after having been cut to a rounded point that leaves it several inches shorter than the other side. It fastens with three bone buttons ranged along the edge instead of one above the other.

Teach Children to Think.

One of the new ideas upon education is that children should be encouraged to think more and to leave dry facts alone. It is said, too, that we cram a lot of facts down the minds of our children and do not give them an opportunity to use their brains. This new idea in education says that we must take children offener out into the woods to let them discover things for themselves. We should let them watch the habits of insects and animals and the ever varying phases of nature. We should let both boys and girls study mechanical organism of things that are in daily use in our big cities. For instance, a boy or even a girl who happens to be in the vicinity of a automobile when it breaks down might by intelligent observation learn a great deal about the makeup of one of those modern conveyances if let alone to watch the machinist go about adjusting the difficulties, says an exchange.

A very much disgruntled little girl was overheard saying to her father and mother, who had dragged her away by the hand when she ran with her brother to watch a man in the roadside who was fixing his auto: "Oh, you let Johnnie stay and look all he wants, but you chase me away. I like to look at the man fixing things too." Which shows that little girls sometimes want to investigate.

The Baby's Bath.

The temperature of the child's bath varies with its age. At birth the water should be about blood heat, 96 degrees. This may be gradually reduced to 70 degrees by the end of the first month. Baby's bath should always be taken before breakfast. The child should not be allowed to frolic about and become cooled off before his bath, but should be popped right from his crib into the tub. For the first two weeks the baby should be held on the knees while it is being washed. Then he may be put into his tub, being removed as soon as possible after he is bathed. He should be dried immediately with a soft, warm towel, making sure that every spot on the little body is quite dry. A soft powder of rice starch is then dusted on all over him.

The water in the bath should be soft—rainwater if possible—and a delicate soap with a Turkey sponge or light flannel cloth is procured for baby's use. Until after the child is eighteen months old the bath should be warm. At that time the change to a cooler temperature commences gradually. The mother may try sponging the child with semi-cold water, after the regular warm bath, and in that way work up to the cold bath.

A Cap Fastener.

To keep children's caps of any kind on and over the ears in cold weather and also to keep mischievous playmates from pulling them off sew elastic on one side. Let it extend around under the chin to the other side. Pull cap down to desired place, measuring your elastic for length. Allow enough for a loop and sew a button on the side where you make the loop. The cap will stay on and stay in place and is also much easier to put on than it would be to slip the cap on with elastic sewed fast on both sides. Use buttons the color of the cap if possible.

To Shape Baby's Ears.

When there is any danger of baby's ears growing out it is a good plan to let him wear at night a small open-work bonnet of cambric or nainsook, which will help to keep the ears flat. Care should be taken that it is not in the least tight and so prove uncomfortable for the little sleeper. When making strings for the baby's bonnet work buttonholes in the ends and sew flat buttons to the inside of the cap. Then the strings may be easily changed when needing to be washed.

A SUBSTANTIAL COLONIAL.

Design 963, by Glenn L. Saxton, Architect, Minneapolis, Minn.

PERSPECTIVE VIEW—FROM A PHOTOGRAPH.

In this house the living room and parlor are divided with a wide columned opening. I would suggest, if any one desires, this space can all be made into one large living room, and the vestibule can be left out entirely or can be built the entire size of same on the piazza, thus leaving the living room with regular lines inside. The dining room in this residence is finished in quarter sawed oak, with a beamed ceiling and a large sideboard across the rear. This room is made very pleasant by a projecting bay window, back of which is a small conservatory which can be used for a den or sewing room. There is a combination open stairway to the second story; also a rear entrance to the basement leading from the entry. The ice can be put in the refrigerator in the pantry from the outside. This house has a grand piazza covering the entire front and part of one side, which is ten feet wide, and if any one desires there can be a sleeping porch or sun room built across the entire rear over the first story part. The second story has four good chambers and an unlimited amount of closet space, large bath and a hall. There is a full basement under the entire house. The finish in first story is planned for oak throughout with oak floors, second story pine to paint or Washington fir. First story is nine feet high, second story eight feet, these heights being in the clear, and there is also space in the attic for two or three rooms. The size of the house is 26 by 30 feet. Cost to build, exclusive of heating and plumbing, $3,850.

Upon receipt of $1 the publisher of this paper will supply a copy of Saxton's book of plans entitled "American Dwellings." The book contains 240 new and up to date designs of cottages, bungalows and residences costing from $1,000 to $6,000.

He Won't Limp Now.
No more limping for Tom Moore of Cochran, Ga. "I had a bad sore on my instep that nothing seemed to help till I used Bucklen's Arnica Salve," he writes, "but this wonderful healer soon cured me." Heals old, running sores, ulcers, boils, burns, cuts, bruises, eczema or piles. Try it. Only 25 cents at all dealers.

Those having Monterey cypress hedges on their premises would do well to postpone trimming them until after the 1st of April. A number of these hedges with which the writer is acquainted have been virtually killed out by doing the job in the winter.

A scald, burn, or severe cut heals slowly if neglected. The family that keeps a bottle of BALLARD'S SNOW LINIMENT on hand is always prepared for such accidents. Price 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle. Sold by Lents Pharmacy.
